BILLINGS FILES NEW PARDON PLEA

Senator Moses Ridicules Stimson And London Treaty

SESSIONS TO BE HELD ON TWO NIGHTS

Efforts Being Made By Administration Leaders to Vote Within Week

CLOTURE ABANDONED

Reed and Watson Unable to Get Enough Signatures For Immediate Action

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(UP)—Objecting to what he described as "the indecent haste with which consideration of this treaty is being pressed," Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee and a Republican senate leader, condemned the London naval pact treaty and urged its rejection.

His speech was sharp and sarcastic. He finisned it with the remark that he was thankful of the opportunity to speak today "outside the shadow of the garotte," referring to the threat of cloture or night sessions made by Majority Leader Watson. President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson, Moses said, had "seriously offended the representatives of the American people" by the manner and method of placing the treaty before the senate.

Refuse To Vote

Opposition senators, among whom Moses is a leader, said today they would refuse to agree for a time to vote on the treaty.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, said he would remind senators they were expected to remain in session tonight as long as a quorum could be held and again tomorrow night.

Reed and Watson found they could not obtain sufficient votes to impose the cloture immediately and now contemplate holding their petition to attain a final vote Friday or Saturday of next week.

Although Moses said in his speech today he would support reservations and propose one amendment to the text of the treaty, he declared its complex text could not be satisfactorily handled in that manner.

Moses ridiculed Stimson as the "Laird of Stanmore," having reference to the country estate near London leased by Stimson during the London conference.

"We are handed the document (the treaty) with sparse and in-

GOV. C. C. YOUNG GIVEN BACKING OF DRY GROUP

Southern California W. C. T. U. Endorses Encumbent at Meeting

SANTA ANA AND Orange county members of the W. C. T. U. were home today from Pacific Palisades, where they attended the quarterly meeting of the Southern California W. C. T. U., Wednesday and Thursday, highly pleased with the action of the executive council yesterday afternoon in indorsing the candidacy of Gov. C. C. Young for re-election as the chief executive of the state.

According to Mrs. T. L. Warren, recording secretary of the Orange County W. C. T. U. and assistant recording secretary of the Southern California organization, the executive council members were enthusiastic in their recommendation for re-election of Governor Young, the members of the council voting 35 for Young and 4 for Buron Fitts. Each of the candidates had addressed the assembly the day before the vote was taken.

Frank Merrian, of Long Beach, was indorsed for lieutenant governor, and Dr. N. Len Hutchins, of Los Angeles, was indorsed for secretary of state.

Among those from Orange county attending the meeting were Mrs. Warren, Mrs. S. B. McClelland, Mrs. Mina Tidball and Mrs. Edna Leonard, all of Santa Ana.

Members of the W. C. T. U. from Orange who attended the W. C. T. U. day at Pacific Palisades were Mesdames Pearl Kendall Hess, Minnie Neville, Angeline Courtney and Miss Fludeen. Mesdames Hess, Neville and Courtney attended the state executive meeting of the W. C. T. U. held at the same place on Thursday. All of the party returned home Thursday evening, fully prepared to work for C. C. Young for governor.

"W. C. T. U. members of Southern California have just been waiting for this state executive meeting to present a solid front for the dry candidate that should be decided upon at that executive meeting, said Mrs. Hess. "When at last the vote was taken there were 35 votes for C. C. Young and four votes for Buron Fitts."

The action of the W. C. T. U. executive was the culmination of the action taken at previous sessions. In October, 1927, the state executive voted to appoint a campaign committee to look into the records of candidates for public office and present a questionnaire to each candidate on their stand on the wet and dry question. In January, 1930, the state executive voted to take no stand on any issue except the wet and dry issue and to ignore all straw ballots cast.

50 CASUALTIES IN BURMA EARTHQUAKE

RANGOON, Burma, July 18.—(UP)—Fifty deaths occurred today from a severe earthquake in the Tharrawaddy district, 60 miles north of Rangoon.

Many houses collapsed from the earth's tremors, and the village of Letpadan was shaken badly.

Recent earthquakes in lower Burma destroyed most of the city of Pegu, capital of the ancient kingdom, including priceless Buddha temples centuries old. Pegu is approximately 100 miles from Letpadan.

Three Gunmen Die In Electric Chair

OSSINING, N. Y., July 18.—(UP)—Three Buffalo gunmen paid the state's penalty for murder last night and died within 20 minutes of each other in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison.

The men were Alexander Bogdenoff, Max Rybarczyk, and Stephen Grezchowiak. They were convicted of killing Ferdinand Fechter, restaurant proprietor during a hold up.

Bogdenoff's attempt to assume all the blame failed to result in relieves for the others but Rybarczyk and Grezchowiak maintained their innocence to the last.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 18.—It is human nature to blame some one else for our misfortunes. When the people are prosperous we hear little criticism of the president. Support for him comes from all sides when the country has little need of it. But if prosperity diminishes thoughtless voices will be raised against him and his support will diminish when the country has most need of it. This is not only usually an unfair but always a short sighted and thoroughly suicidal policy. Under a parliamentary system the government could be changed. Ours is in for four years. Confidence in the president is almost identical with confidence in the country and in ourselves. With public support he can do a great deal to save any situation. Moreover, if he cannot save it probably no one else can. It may be proper for the opposition party in the press and the congress generally to oppose, but in the country at large all responsible people should seek to co-operate with the president in the discharge of his duties. He is the chief executive of all the nation. In time of conflict people are ugred to support the president to win the war, at other times the same principle may require that he be supported to win the peace.

FINANCE FATE OF GERMANY UP TO DICTATOR

Reichstag Dissolved After Members Rescind Old Dictatorship

BERLIN, July 18.—(UP)—The financial fate of Germany, which faces a deficit in the current budget of approximately $115,000,000, was turned over today to a dictatorship headed by Dr. Heinrich Bruening, young economist and chancellor of the reich.

President Paul von Hindenburg dissolved the reichstag by decree today after members by a vote of 236 to 221 rescinded the dictatorial financial powers previously bestowed on Bruening by the president.

The crowded reichstag was tense when after it had defied the threat of article 48 of the constitution which provides for a dictatorship, the scholarly looking chancellor faced it, pale and nervous and read the decree of dissolution in a trembling voice.

The Communists, defiant as always, marched out shouting the "Internationale" song. Their ranks were depleted by 10 members, in hiding now that dissolution of the reichstag has removed their parliamentary immunity and made them liable to prosecution for past treasonable acts.

The dictatorship now in effect is not like the absolute rule en-

Indiana Officers Receive Criticism

JACKSON, Miss., July 18.—(UP)—Indiana officers were criticized here today by Chief Deputy Sheriff John W. Roberts for publishing reports that Mississippi officers intended to arrest a woman believed to be Mrs. Belle Gunness of the "murder farm" notoriety as being responsible for her escaping capture.

Roberts said officers were prepared to capture the woman, known as Mrs. J. B. Smith, last night and that she escaped shortly before they were ready to take her into custody.

POLICE SEARCH FOR LOST MAN NEAR NEWPORT

Youth Who Drowned Wednesday Believed to Be Medical Student

NEWPORT BEACH police were endeavoring to identify the swimmer who was seen to drown in the surf off Fifteenth street, Newport Beach, Wednesday afternoon, as Jack Ford, 22, of Loma Linda, a medical student who was on duty at the Orange County hospital, it became known today.

The man's death was mysterious. Several persons on the beach reported that they saw a swimmer throw his arms up and disappear under the water. A strong rip tide was not noticeable at the time, and it was thought that the man was exhausted in battling the tide when he was seen to go down.

Newport Beach police last night found Ford's car parked near the scene of the drowning and a check-up at the hospital revealed that he had never returned there after stating that he was going to the beach.

Hospital authorities, also investigating the case, said that Ford had been working at the hospital as an orderly for the past two weeks.

Although efforts were made at the time to recover the body of the swimmer, by Newport Beach life guards and firemen, no trace of the man was found.

POPE PIUS TO TELL OF KELLOGG TREATY

VATICAN CITY, July 18.—(UP)—Pope Pius XI will express his opinion of the Kellogg anti-war treaty in an allocution at one of the forthcoming consistories rather than through an encyclical, it was learned from an authoritative source here today.

The Pope has been importuned by a number of governments to give an expression regarding the treaty. He was represented as answering that he was fully sympathetic with the peace movement of which it was a part, and willing to lend it his widest moral support.

He nevertheless believed, it was said, that the international situation at present was such as not to warrant his intervention.

Only 8 Days Left To Register

Voters of Orange county have but eight more days in which to register for the primary election on August 26.

Joe Backs, county clerk, today issued an appeal to the citizens of the county to qualify for the right to vote.

According to Backs registration outside of Santa Ana is heavier than for years past while in Santa Ana the list of qualified voters is far below that of the last general election.

Persons who expect to vote at the primary election must be registered on or before noon on Saturday, July 26.

Candidate For Sheriff in Address Says Voting List Below Normal

CALLING ATTENTION to the fact that Orange county is about to launch upon one of the most important and spirited campaigns of its history, Leo Porter, candidate for sheriff of Orange county, in an address before a gathering of voters in the city of Fullerton last evening urged the citizens of Orange county to register that they might not lose their right of franchise.

In discussing the coming political situation, Porter said: "Orange county is facing one of the most important elections in its history, and yet an examination of the records show that never was Orange county less prepared to make an intelligent dicision. Orange county is 30 per cent under-registered. Most astounding of all is the fact that the records disclose a laxity on the part of the men to register. In hundreds of instances we find the wife as the only registered voter of the household. In the past the preponderance of qualified electors has been men. The records reveal that to date the women are

BASEBALL RESULTS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 18.—(UP)—Babe Ruth hit his 33rd home run of the season today in the fifth inning of the New York Yankees-St. Louis Browns game.

Ruth's hit cleared the center bleacher roof where Gehrig had laid a homer only an inning before. There was no one on base. Sam Gray was pitching for the Browns.

In 1927, the year Ruth made his present record of 60 home runs, he hit his 33rd on July 26, also against the St. Louis Browns.

Old Building Will Be Razed Next Week

General Contract Let to Los Angeles Firm for Sum of $110,500

THE WORK OF razing the Masonic temple on the northeast corner of Sycamore and Fifth streets will start here next week, according to Dr. L. L. Whitson, chairman of the building committee of Santa Ana Masonic Temple association, limited, following the awards of contracts last night for erection of a new temple on the site.

The awards last night totaled $153,773, but additions that will be made under reservation imposed by the association will run the total cost up to between $170,000 and $175,000.

The general contract was given to S. N. Benjamin, Los Angeles, on his proposal to that portion of the work for $111,592.

Other contracts were assigned as follows:

Electrical, Robertson Electrical corporation, Santa Ana, $8715; painting, Pohl-Brown company, Los Angeles $2468; plumbing, Hill and Son, $13,521; heating and ventilation, Hickman Brothers, Santa Ana, $17,477.

It is expected the construction will be completed by the first of the coming year. Dr. Whitson said that the general contractor has given assurance that most of the employes on the work would be Santa Ana residents, as he would bring with him from Los Angeles only his superintendent and foremen.

Five business rooms and the social room of the organization will be located on the ground floor. The second and third stories will be divided into three lodge rooms. A banquet hall, sufficient to accommodate 500 persons, will be located in the basement.

During the period of construction the Blue Lodge and the Chapter of Royal Arch Masons will meet at the Masonic lodge building in Orange, and the Order of Eastern Star and Knights of Templar will hold their lodge sessions in the I. O. O. F. building here.

The present temple building was started in the latter part of 1902 and was completed in 1903, dedication ceremonies being held in August of 1903. Linn L. Shaw was master at the time of institution and completion of the work.

The temple was erected by McNeill and Preble and cost approximately $37,000. The outside walls are brick veneer. Since the building was erected the Masons have acquired 25 feet additional frontage on Sycamore street and the new building will occupy all of the property owned by the Masonic organizations.

FLIERS TO CROSS ATLANTIC AGAIN

SANTA MARIA, Calif., July 18.—(UP)—The three companions of Col. Charles E. Kingsford-Smith on a recent westward flight across the Atlantic today prepared for a return journey within the next two months.

Evert Van Dyk, co-pilot on the flight from Ireland to New Foundland, now in New York, will essay the eastward crossing with John Stannage, radio operator, and Captain Pat Saul, navigator, the latter two announced here today.

Kingsford-Smith will not make the flight, it was said. He planned to return to England by ship and then fly a small plane to his home in Ireland.

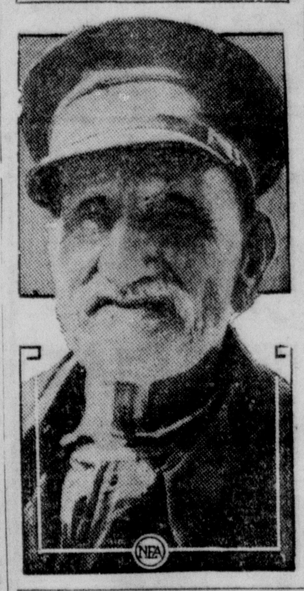

Discuss Opening Glassell Street

Informally discussing the possibility of opening Glassell street in Orange to connect with Grand avenue of Santa Ana, thus cutting off some distance between the two cities, the Orange Chamber of Commerce held a meeting last night in that city.

According to reports of the meeting, it is the wish of the group to work up sentiment and present the plan to the board of supervisors. It is reported that another plan is also being considered, that of connecting McClay street in Santa Ana with a road to Orange.

156 YEAR OLD TURK VISITING UNITED STATES

Zaro Agha Tells Reporters He's Not Here Looking For Another Wife

PROVINCE, R. I., July 18.—(UP)—Zaro Agha, who claims to have positive proof that he was born February 16, 1774, arrived today from his native Turkey aboard the S. S. Sinaia, not, he said emphatically, in search of a wife.

Reporters who greeted him expected to find a wizened old gentleman looking fully his 156 summers but were met by a rather affable person in conventional American attire—light gray felt hat, blue serge suit, and a bamboo cane.

He looked to be about 85 or 90, according to some, and the only indication of extreme age was his furrowed skin, which had taken on a somewhat leathery appearance.

Zaro Agha cannot speak English but his great-great-grandson, Ashmut Musa, who is 33, acted as interpreter.

"I want you gentlemen to understand one thing," Agha said, "and that is that I am not looking for a wife. I have had 11 wives and am now living with my eleventh, who is 64. I married her four years ago and I am very sorry she could not accompany me to America. She is back in Constantinople. We are very happily married and I want the good women of America to know that I am not in the marriage market."

Agha believes the husband should be the boss of his home, if possible, he said. He prefers brunettes.

Agha, who claims never to have drunk intoxicatiang beverage, said his purpose in coming here was not propaganda but to visit physicians, scientists, and hospitals in an effort to help find the secret of longevity.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS PERILED BY FLAMES

REDWOOD CITY, July 18—(UP)—More than 100 patients of the Canyon sanitarium, three miles west of here, were endangered late yesterday when a brush fire nearly surrounded the hospital.

The fire was brought under control only after the patients had been placed on stretchers and ambulances and hastily summoned automobiles had been backed up to the doors.

The flames had swept to within 100 feet of the sanitarium, which is for persons suffering from tuberculosis, when firemen from the Redwood City fire department and volunteers succeeded in quelling them.

The nurses of the institution were lauded for their bravery and ability in keeping the nervous patients quiet.

REHEARING ASKED FROM HIGH COURT

APPLIES TO MOONEY

Should Billings Be Given His Freedom Governor Will Pardon Companion

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—(UP)—A new effort to gain freedom for Warren K. Billings and Thomas J. Mooney was made today when a petition for a rehearing of Billings' application for a pardon was filed with the California supreme court.

Applications for pardons for Billings and Mooney, serving life sentences for complicity in the bombing of a San Francisco Preparedness Day parade July 22, 1916, in which 10 persons were killed, were denied earlier this month.

Witness on Way

The new petition was filed as John McDonald, waiter witness who aided in convicting Billings and Mooney, was speeding westward from Baltimore to tell authorities that his testimony in the Billings trial in 1916 and in the Mooney trial in 1917 was false.

Although a new petition involves Billings only it is closely linked to the Mooney case because of a disposition by Gov. C. C. Young to consider the two as exact parallels.

Recognizing the "loop hole" provided by Governor Young when he denied Mooney's pardon application, the petition points out that McDonald will soon be available for a public hearing to tell his repudiation story, as the governor suggested.

This suggestion that McDonald be found was climaxed by the locating of the missing repudiation witness in Baltimore. The governor made the suggestion in acting unfavorably on the Mooney pardon application after the supreme court had declined to recommend a pardon for Billings.

Cases Alike

In each case the governor and a majority of the supreme court viewed McDonald's testimony during the trials as of importance and declined to accept a repudiation affidavit made by McDonald in 1921.

The reason Bilings has appealed to the supreme court for a new hearing while Mooney has not is because the court must act favorably on Billings' case before the governor has authority to pardon him, while this is not true in Mooney's case.

California law provides that convicts with more than one conviction receive the supreme court recommendation for a pardon.

BORAH TO ENTER HOPKINS HOSPITAL

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(UP)—Exhausted by the arduous session of congress, Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee expects to return tomorrow to Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, it was said at his office today. He visited the institution yesterday for an examination.

Borah, who is 65, answered his name at the opening roll call of the special senate sessions today but his duties have been largely taken over during consideration of the London naval treaty by Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania.

Postoffice Gets New Stamp Issue From Washington

A new two cent stamp, commemorating the anniversary of Braddocks Field, has made its appearance in Santa Ana and is now procurable at the local post office.

The new stamp has a red color scheme and has as its central figure, an engraving of Colonel George Washington, who first gained prominence as a young man during the French and Indian campaign against the British. It bears the date marks 1755-1930 with the distinguishing caption, "Battle of Braddocks Field."

forced in all governmental matters by Mussolini and other European dictators. It undoubtedly will not be used to any extent except to solve the financial basis.

Since the reichstag was dissolved without enacting the 1930 budget and after it had rendered the previous tax decrees invalid by its vote, the givernment will fix revenues and expenditures by decree. The program will entail a program of rigid reduction of expenditures and heavy new taxes.

The dictatorship will last for approximately three months. General elections have been set for September 14 and within a month after that a new reichstag will be convened.

A significant development in today's events was the new political lineup which will result from a revolt in the nationalist party led by Count Lestarp. He seceded from the party with 21 followers which with the 12 deputies led by Gottfried Treviranus, who seceded last December will make a formidable group. When they contest the elections, the party will be divided and other groups in the reichstag considerably strengthened. In eastern Germany the nationalist stronghold, it was believed the Westary-Treviranus group would be stronger than the original nationalist party whose leader, Alfred Hugenberg, is less popular among eastern land owners.

Movie Fliers Have Crash On Iceberg

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 18.—(UP)—A narrow escape from death on an Alaskan iceberg after their plane was forced down was told today in a message to the Radio-Keith-Orpheum film studios here from Captain Clayton Scott, pilot, and John Selby, mechanic.

The flier said their plane was landed in Icy bay, Alaska, and they clung to the iceberg for two days before they were rescued Wednesday. The pair suffered only from exposure, although their ship was wrecked. They were employed on a picture being filmed in the north.

Subpoena Issued For Grover Whalen

conclusive statements of its purpose and are told somewhat superciliously by the Laird of Stanmore that we must take it or leave it in its nakedness," he said, referring to President Hoover's refusal to make secret negotiations documents public.

Denies Limitation

Denying the treaty provided limitations, Moses said it "spells naval competition" and would entail "unwarranted" expenses on the taxpayer.

Great Britain, Moses said, was not interested in naval limitation until "the American congress by overwhelming vote provided for 15 new cruisers." The United States made "all the material concessions" at London, he said.

Moses described Prime Minister MacDonald as the "charming and seductive prime minister of England" who had invited the United States to take parity "full and brimming over."

The senator objected that Japan had increased her naval ratio at London without the United States being relieved of the prohibition against further fortification of Pacific possessions upon which the Japanese acceptance of the 5-5-3 ratio in Washington in 1922 was based.

Mrs. Stimson heard Moses' speech from a seat in the gallery.

Complaint for judgment on a promissory note has been filed in superior court against Robert D. Richards by the First National Bank of Artesia. It is alleged that the note, for $750, was issued Feb. 11, 1930, and is past due and unpaid. In addition to principal and interest the suit asks the court to award costs and attorney fees.

On a change of venue from Los Angeles county a suit was filed today in superior court, in which fraud, conspiracy and breach of contract are charged. The action was brought by C. O. Riedel against John Heaston, et al, and is based on a contract for dividing proceeds from an oil well located on property in Huntington Beach. Riedel claims that he was defrauded of a share of 10 per cent in the production of a well that is producing 130 barrels per day. He asks judgment for damages in the maunt of $30,560, which he claims is his share under the percentage agreement.

WYMAN GIVES TALK BEFORE ROUND TABLE

Members of the Santa Ana Round Table heard an address by Earl Wyman, well known Santa Ana business man, at the luncheon meeting today at St. Ann's inn.

Preceding Wyman's address, visiting guests were introduced. These included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colby, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kill, Chicago; Dr. J. Thacker, Orange; Carl D. Stuart, El Paso, Tex.; Mrs. Earl Wyman and Miss Haven, Santa Ana. A delightful musical program was presented by Mrs. Wyman, who sang two popular selections. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Haven.

The speaker was introduced by Herman Powell. Wyman chose as his subject "Personnel Work Being Carried On In Industries." He reviewed personnel work in the factories. He explained how the service has been so enlarged that it has become a vital part of the industrial organization.

"I think one of the most outstanding examples of personnel work in the factory is best illustrated by the work being carried on in an automobile plant in Michigan. There they stress the need of musical, civic, safety, educational, and pleasure pursuits and the efforts made in this direction have already borne fruit," he said.

Letters were read from O. D. Brundige, international president of the Loyal Knights of Round Table, who was a recent guest here, and from Mrs. Lois A. Pearson. President Brundige thanked the local club for the hospitality extended him while here and Mrs. Pearsons communication expressed thanks for flowers sent her during a recent illness.

REALTY BOARD CREATES LAND OWNERS' UNIT

The Santa Ana Realty board, at its meeting at noon today, at Ketner's cafe adopted an amendment to its constitution and by-laws creating a division of property owners and establishing the annual dues at $5.

The division has been created to offer opportunity to real estate owners to join with the real estate men of the state and nation in a campaign to relieve real estate from some of its taxation burdens, and the dues set here are sufficient only to meet the dues for membership in the California Real Estate association and the National association of real estate boards.

Officials of the local board point out that an increase in membership in the state and national organizations by the addition of property owners would strengthen the influence of the organizations in their problem of securing legislative enactments that would change some of the land tax for governmental purposes to other sources from which revenues may be developed.

During the business session of the board, L. E. Martin made the declaration that with present prices for lots and costs of building materials, men with money could build houses for rent and receive on present rental rates 15 per cent on the investment.

Martin pointed out that good lots could be purchased today at prices much lower than a year and two years ago, and he asserted that building costs are approximately 70 per cent of what they were two and three years ago.

George Munro, Santa Ana boy who won the nation-wide oratorical contest conducted by the First Presbyterian churches at Cincinnati, delivered the oration that won him his great honor. "Loyalty to the Constitution" was the subject of the essay.

Typhoon Damages Japanese Island

TOKIO, Japan, July 18.—(UP)—Kyushu, southernmost of the three principle islands of Japan, was today damaged by a typhoon that was sweeping over the island.

It was feared that several cities had suffered heavy property loss from the wind that struck with cyclonic force. Nagasaki, with an estimated population of more than 150,000 persons, Kagoshima, Sasebo, and Tshushima were reported to have received the brunt of the typhoon.

Communication lines beyond the city of Moji had been completely cut off. The wind velocity was increasing as it passed Fusan.

In a train wreck at Kokura near Moji ten persons were injured.

PARKER ESTATE APPRAISED AT OVER $240.000

The report of the inheritance tax appraiser in the matter of the termination of joint tenancy of C. E. Parker, who died last month, was filed with the court today showing a total net value of the estate after deductions, of $244,263.50.

The report showed that the fair market value of the estate at the time of Parker's death on June 19, was $58,906.80, divided into $3800 intangibles and $55,106.80 real property. The report also went on to list property that had been transferred to his wife, Mrs. Alice A. Parker, during his lifetime in contemplation of his death, valued at $188,586.

These included shares in the Orange County Title company, the Home Mutual Building and Loan association, the First National bank, the Tide Water Associated Oil company, and in the Santa Ana

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

The fact that you discard certain popular expressions or definitions of faith, be they ancient or modern, does not include the renunciation of what you believe.

Down deep in your heart of hearts is your faith in a God of love and the certainty of the continuance of life beyond the gate of death. Men's endeavors to explain all this or to describe it or to draw conclusions regarding the future state, may or may not be of help or comfort to you.

The conviction persists that your dear one lives and that you shall be together again. Walk bravely forward, for the future is sure.

OFFICERS GAIN HIGH MARKS IN PATROL SCHOOL

Out of a class of 48 at the California highway patrol school, now being conducted at Sacramento, four Orange county officers, sent there several days ago, were fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh in their grades, according to a letter received here today from F. G. Yoder, head of the school, and himself a former officer here.

The letter was addressed to Captain Meehan and in part was as follows: "I am indeed proud of your first consignment to the California highway patrol training school. The boys must have had some sort of uniform training before coming to the school, as they placed out of a class of 48, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh. This is almost uncanny, to think that four men from the same squad would be so close together on an entrance examination," Yoder wrote.

The four officers at the school are Oscar Kelly, Dan Adams, Ole Buer and Harry Aldrich.

Kelly and Adams worked at Lake Tahoe over last week end, the letter stated.

In regard to the training the men received here, Captain Meehan said that they had been grilled in special school sessions he has held for his officers here.

OIL CONCERN IS LAWSUIT VICTOR

The jury which heard the evidence in the damage action brought by Earl F. Findley against the Birch Oil company, required only 32 minutes yesterday afternoon to reach a verdict for the defendant. The trial grew out of a collision in Brea canyon between a car owned by the plaintiff and driven by his friend, Hoyt Moran, and a truck of the oil company.

The question of whether or not lights were burning on the car in which the plaintiff was riding was stressed by the defense, which contended that the lights were not operating and produced a number of witnesses to testify accordingly. A verdict on a cross complaint also was returned by the jury in favor of the defendants, but no damages were awarded.

Goetz Plans To Handle Own Case

Rudy Goetz, Santa Ana man, charged with resisting several Orange officers when they started to arrest him on a liquor charge at Orana, and who is being held in the county jail awaiting trial in superior court on the charge, probably will conduct his own case in court, it was learned today when he received at the jail a copy of the penal code and an unabridged dictionary.

Jailers said that he was to conduct his own case and that he had asked for the books—the code and the dictionary—in order to make preparations for his trial.

HOBO NEWS TO TELL ROUTE OF EASIEST LIFE

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., July 18.—The next issue of the "Hobo News" soon will be issued.

Jeremiah Boule, 56, weather-beaten and bronzed by many suns, is on a walking tour now, getting material. The latest stock market quotations won't be printed. Neither will the unemployment figures.

Boule, after all, has his public to please and he is certain it isn't interested in stocks or work.

In the paper, however, will be included:

What towns to avoid.

Towns where police are lenient.

Homes guarded by fierce dogs.

Homes where "and-outs" are freely given.

Harsh magistrates and bad jails.

All this, Boule insists, is of vital importance to his circulation. Although he has a college education and once occupied a comfortable position, this strange editor now is a hobo and argues he knows the pulse of his readers.

"In the olden days," he said, in explaining how the "Hobo News" was born, "tramps used to rely for their information on signs placed on gate stoops and at the entrances to towns, by men who had gone before them.

"That was unsatisfactory, for often these signs would be rubbed out, and I was constantly getting complaints from men who had struck bad patches in consequence.

"As I went about, I used to gather information of all kinds and it struck me that it would be a good idea to pass it on in some way."

Boule said he found a friend who owned a printshop and the "Hobo News" was born.

Store At Buena Park Is Looted

A quantity of cigarets, a slot machine and a gum vending machine were stolen from the store of H. Marxen, at Crescent and Frand avenues, Buena Park, some time last night, according to a report made to the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan and Deputy Sheriff Jess Buckles were making an investigation of the case today. The thieves entered the building by breaking out a window.

TWO INJURED IN TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Two persons were reported injured in two minor accidents here yesterday.

Robert Steinmetz, four, son of Mrs. Rose Steinmetz, of 207 South Artesia street, was cut about the head when the car in which he was riding with his mother struck another machine at Fourth street and Western avenue. He was taken to his home.

Jack S. Harry, 21, of The Mills court, on Bush street, suffered a severe laceration on the nose when his head struck the windshield support of his car in a crash at Walnut and South Main streets yesterday. He was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Methodist Choir Will Picnic at Hewes Park

A delightful outing is being anticipated by members of the First Methodist church choir, who will hold a picnic followed by a program Saturday evening at Hewes park. Mrs. F. M. Slabaugh, the director of the group, is in charge of arrangements, and has announced that those who are going should meet in front of the church by 6:00 o'clock p. m., and that transportation will be provided by any who wish it.

Miss Ethel Coffman is in charge of the dinner preparations, and Bert Rutter is planning the program, which will consist of various solo and ensemble numbers.

Fraternal Aid Union

Last night the Fraternal Aid Union at its regular meeting in Modern Woodman hall, felt quite complimented by receiving an invitation from the Los Angeles lodge to come to their meeting on Friday, August 1, and bring the drill team to initiate a large class. On motion the invitation was accepted. Transportation was arranged for and the team proceeded to prepare for the exercises.

Notwithstanding the heat of the day, the hall was cool and the attendance good.

The next meeting, August 7, will be an open meeting with cards as the program. A nominal charge will be made, proceeds to defray the expenses of entertaining the Southern California district convention in October.

RUSH WILL LEARN SENTENCE MONDAY

Pronouncement of judgment in the case of Noah Rush, who was found guilty today in Judge G. K. Scovel's court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, will be made next Monday morning.

The verdict of the jury, which was brought to the court at 10:55 a. m. today, carried a recommendation that the prisoner pay a fine and have his operator's license suspended. The jury retired to consider its verdict at 9:50 a. m.

A special venire of 20 persons was drawn to provide a jury for the case, as the regular panel had been exhausted in supplying jurors for two other cases that were before the courts yesterday. Members of the jury were Esther La Point, A. C. Reither, Elza M. Eagelston, George W. Angle, W. E. Chilson, J. W. Alexander, K. A. Ferguson, Kate Files, Anna James, J. W. Neiman, Cozy Stowell and F. R. Cline.

Deputies W. F. Menton and Leo Friis represented the district attorney's office in the case.

NEST ROBBER IS BEATEN BY BIRDS

AUGUSTA, Me., July 18.—(UP)—The local fire department was called out to rescue a tomcat which had become embroiled in battle with a flock of robbins.

Evidently the cat had climbed a tree to rob the robins' nest. When the birds resented the attack they swooped upon the feline, which retreated. Unfortunately the tomcat's retreat was not strategic. Instead of descending to the ground he climbed to the topmost branches and there became fair game for the enraged robins.

N. H. Plummer saw his plight and called Fire Chief McCurdy, who summoned Lon Hill, another fire fighter. The three managed to rescue the dazed animal, its body covered with cuts from the robins' beaks.

Police News

Lawrence R. Hood, 42, of Huntington Beach, was lodged in the county jail last night by Huntington Beach officers on a drunk charge. He was sentenced to serve 10 days when he appeared in Judge Pann's court yesterday.

SCOUTS LEAVE FOR VACATION IN MOUNTAINS

The fourth period camp of boys left for Camp RoKiLi at 7 a. m. today from the Scout headquarters on North Sycamore street. This group went in for the last camp conducted for the Boy Scouts at Barton Flat in the San Bernardino mountains.

This group of boys will enjoy to the utmost the added facilities of the camp in the use of the recently completed dining hall, provided by the generous gifts of the pioneer families of Orange county and also the new headquarters and infirmary building, according to George Walker, Scout executive. These improvements also brought about a new complete line for the water system and new plumbing and sanitation facilities for the new kitchen.

The program for the period includes a daily session in handicraft under the direction of Eagle Scout Kiyoshi Higoshi, a member of the Santa Ana junior college student body. Higoshi's leadership in the craftwork of the camp such as leatherwork, archery and other campcrafts has proven a most interesting and fascinating period of the day's program. The swim period also is a very popular hour of the day's program. It is under the leadership of Eagle Scout Fred Nunlist, of Fullerton. Nunlist holds a high rank as junior life saver with the Red Cross. Field Executive Henry Unmack, camp director, is Red Cross life saving examiner for Orange county.

Small groups of boys is organized for hikes in the mountains, such as Horse Thief trail, Forcey creek, fish hatchery, the new trail to San Bernardino peak, and visits to Dollar lake and Dry lake, all of which brings the boys into contact with new types of vegetation. The hiking parties are supervised by some adult and each hider has his buddy, and these two are instructed not to leave the hiking camp without one another. Every Scout has a number in the hiking line and it never proceeds on the hike unless every member is accounted for.

Usually the hiking group is lead by one of the Eagle scouts who has been in camp for three or more seasons and the last end of the line is brought up by an adult leader In all larger parties there are several adult leaders in charge.

The boys left this morning with a whoop and a cheer and looking forward to a 10 days period. The following scouts were included in the list this morning:

Glen Garner and Robert White, Troop 27, Santa Ana; Harry Durbin, Roger Dunning, Robert Dunning, Troop 29, Santa Ana; Franklyn Davis and Marvin Hinton, Troop 20, Santa Ana; Darrel Sabin, John S. Daughenbaugh, Jimmy Griffith and Tommy Rollins, Troop 5, Newport, and Elwood Choate and Nathan King, Troop 101, Brea.

The following boys are staying over from the third period: John Griset, 27, Santa Ana; James Pegues, 29, Santa Ana; Mm. McArthur, 10, Laguna; Norman Andred, 97, Brea; Richard Gilliland, 27 Santa Ana; Alex Lowe, 28, Santa Ana; Arthur Salisbury, 23 Santa Ana; Franklyn Munsells 29, Santa Ana, and Reynold Bullock, 32, Tustin.

Report Fire At Santa Ana Store

Much smoke and excitement but little fire and small damage called firemen to the Olive M. Duling Fur store, 218 North Broadway at 7:45 o'clock last evening.

The city's entire fire fighting force was called out to the small blaze. The fire started when one of the employes left the electric iron on. The only damage was the loss of the ironing board.

APHA BETA TO OPEN STORE ON FIFTH STREET

Another step towards the modernized self-service store has evidenced itself with the announcement that the Alpha Beta Stores, inc., with a chain of 28 stores in Southern California, will open a new unit, 1502 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, next Thursday, under the managership of Albert Gaul.

The grand opening is scheduled for three days starting with Thursday and to commemorate the occasion, prizes, including a wide array of merchandise, along with elaborate food shows and demonstrations, will be presented, according to H. A. Gerrard, the company president.

The new store was completed at an estimated cost of $15,000. Each department is equipped with up-to-the-minute improvements and with an attractive black and white color scheme to complete the setting, there is nothing to be found wanting. The store is now open to public inspection.

It also was announced that the Alpha Beta Stores, inc., will digress from its usual business policies by erecting a drive-in market at Whittier. It is said that this venture will cost about $20,00. The proposed project will be more or less of an experiment and if proven successful, additional drive-in markets will be featured throughout Southern California.

SANTA ANA MUNICIPAL BAND, WITH MME. MARIA CASELOTTI, APPLAUDED BY LARGE CROWD

An audience rivalling the record crowd in attendance at last week's program, gathered at Birch park last night to enjoy the vivid feast of Italian musical masterpieces presented by the Santa Ana Municipal band under D. C. Cianfoni's direction in honor of "Italian Night."

Featured appearance of Mme. Marie Caselotti, internationally renowned opera singer as soloist of the evening in itself proved an irresistible attraction. Many from neighboring cities joined local music lovers in a throng easily exceeding 500 people, paying hearty tribute both to the famous singer and to the local band, one of the Southland's most popular musical organizations.

Light spontaneity of Boccalari's spirited march "Il Bersagliere" made pleasing prelude for Rossini's more pretentious "William Tell" overture. This universal favorite was accorded a fervent reading, fraught with dramatic significance and poetry. Crash of the storm in realistic fury of powerful orchestration quickly succeeded the pastoral opening andante, the tonal volume gradually subsiding into a third theme of restored peace and harmony, its pianissimo hinting of shepherd's flute. Vigorously rendered, the allegro finale, with stirring forte passage-work, was accorded warm response from the throng, encored by that favorite Italian folk-song, "Funicula, Funicli."

Contrasting gems from Verdi's "Aida" were stirringly portrayed, the opening theme with fanfare of trumpets, progression of ascending chords, and accented brass redolent of triumph. Purity of the "O Celeste Aida" preceded varied themes, contrasted as to tempo and emotional content, the forceful well known triumphal march closing an interpretation marked by vigor and finesse.

Needing no introduction to local audiences who have anticipated her return ever since her first triumphant appearance here last November in the leading role of Verdi's opera "La Traviata," Mme. Maria Caselotti, internationally famous coloratura, was accorded an enthusiastic welcome by the responsive throng. Rare personal charm, expressiveness, and exceptional vocal talent contribute equally to this singer's definite appeal.

An alluring figure in chartreuse and gold, Mme. Caselotti chose for her first number the famous aria "Ah Fors' e Lui" from the first act of "Traviata," one of her favorite professional roles, bringing at once to her interpretation of the brilliant gem a crystalline tone quality, flexibility, and smoothness that are her outstanding characteristics. Continued applause won as encore the fascinating Spanish "Clavelitos," displaying to advantage Mme. Caselotti's silvery trilling. She was effectively accompanied by the band.

Contrasting themes from the familiar "Il Trovatore" (Verdi) composed the band's next selection, this melodic favorite exquisitely shaded. The realistic "Anvil Chorus," tragis foreboding of the "Miserere," and Cianfoni's beautiful trombone rendition of "Oh, I Have Sighed to Rest Me," with its wealth of feeling deeply stirred the audience. Sensuous melody of Drigo's "Serenade" generously offered as encore by Cianfoni, was an appreciated surprise.

An instrumental sextette, including as soloists Indreani, Di Lecce, Cianfoni, Hanson, Caso and Prokopp, lent pleasing variety in their presentation of that immortal old favorite, the "Sextette" from "Lucia" (Donizetti), followed by the equally loved "Quartet" from "Rigoletto," in which Indreani, Di Lecce, Cianfoni and Caso shared honors.

Reappearance of Mme. Caselotti in the brilliant Venzano "Waltz Song" dazzled with technical intricacies, the singers' sparkling coloratura and beautiful trills and arpeggi thrilling every listener. A lyric depth of emotion was touched by the artist in her appealing encore, the beautiful "Sweet Mystery of Life," bringing warm tribute from all.

Joyous grace and rhythm of Stefano's waltz, "The Flower of Italy" which concluded the progarm, seemed most typical of the wealth of melody inherent in all Latin music.

Expressing appreciation to Mme. Caselotti for the vital part contributed by her to the evening's success, Harry Hanson, president and manager of the band, announced that next week's concert would be designated as "German Night" featuring works from German masters. Appearance of the local ladies' chorus, the Treble Clef club, is also anticipated.

SECURES JUDGMENT AGAINST CHAMBER

Kittie Vandemark was awarded a verdict of $7500 by a jury yesterday after the trial of her case against the Anaheim chamber of commerce was concluded before Judge G. K. Scoval. The plaintiff had sued for $15,000, alleging that her property, which the civic body had purchased in 1922 and abandoned several years later, had been damaged to the extent of $15,000 by lack of care.

The victor first had sued for breath of contract as well as damages to the property, asking approximately $30,000, but later filed an amended complaint changing the amount which was sought. The amount of damages awarded is the largest that has been recorded in the court for several months. The jury retired at 1:42 p. m. and brought in the verdict at 7:40 p. m. The verdict was signed by August Stamm as foreman. A poll of the jury showed that three of the jurors did not agree with the verdict returned.

It is anticipated that the Anaheim chamber of commerce will appeal the case.

Rowlett Sent To Folsom by Court

James A. Rowlett, charged with burglary and grand theft, appeared before Judge G. K. Scovel yesterday afternoon, and withdrew his plea of not guilty. On a motion of the district attorney's office the first count in the information, burglary, was struck, and the prisoner entered a plea of guilty to the grand theft charge.

He entered the home of Dave N. Kelly in Lemon Heights on May 11 and took jewelry and property valued at $700. The court sentenced the prisoner to Folsom prison for the term prescribed by law, which is one to 10 years.

BROWN TELLS ABOUT RECENT TRIP TO EAST

An unusual number of interesting experiences made the eastern journey of Robert L. Brown, 408 East Chestnut avenue, proprietor of the Santa Ana Book store, a memorable and interesting one. Since his return recently from the trip, upon which he went as a member of the famous Chanters, to attend the annual Shrine convention in Toronto, he is regaling his friends with lively accounts of the journey.

Brown was one of several Santa Anans to attend the great conclave of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and like them, shared the varied features of the event with lively appreciation for the hospitality of the Canadian city. His later travels took him to Montreal, and at the little city of Cornwall, some 70 miles below Montreal, he left the train and met a brother and sister of Alex Brownridge, of this city. They made his stay very pleasant and later accompanied him to Montreal by automobile.

His interesting adventures began well in advance of his arrival in Canada, however, the most outstanding one having been in Chicago, where he arrived just in time to see the sensational U. S. C. victory won by Wycoff, and went around to the athlete's dressing room to offer congratulations.

TUSTIN

Miss Ida Spicer accompanied by Dan Gruwell, of Orange, returned this week from San Francisco, where they visited the Rev. Snyder home. The Snyders were former residents of Tustin. Miss Miriam Snyder accompanied them on their return trip, and expects to visit friends in this vicinity and Santa Ana for awhile.

Clarence Bowman, of West Main street, accompanied by his two cousins, Martin and Donald Bowman, returned home Tuesday, after a two weeks motor trip in the north, going as far as Vancouver, B. C. At Seattle, Wash., they met Miss Frances Bowman, sister of Clarence, who with Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Ferrey, and daughters the Misses Caroline and Jean, also of West Main street were returning from a month's trip to Alaska. Stops were also made at Yosemite and at Portland.

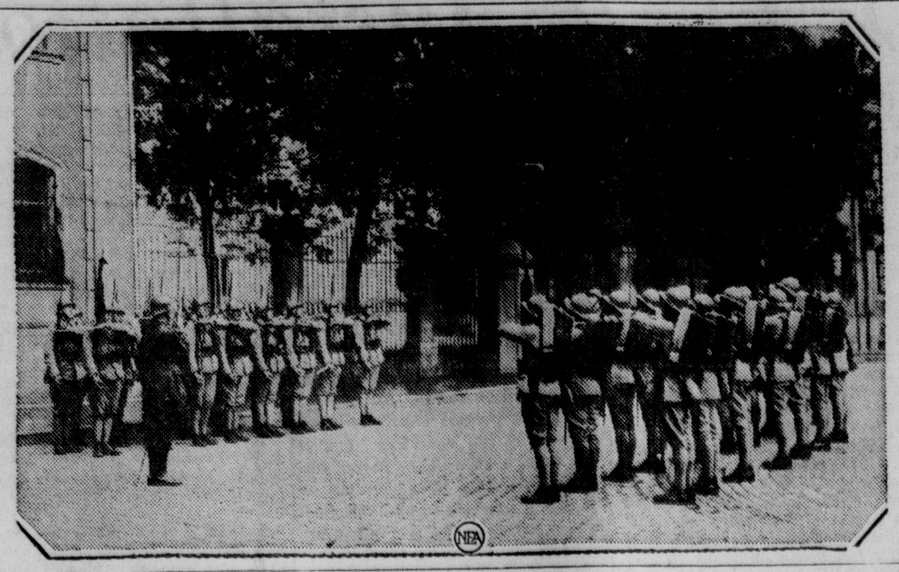

Mrs. C. E. Utt, Miss Marjorie Rawlings, Mrs. W. W. Tantlinger, Mrs. Sarah Brown, and Mrs. H. A. Ritner were among those from Tustin, who attended the Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention at the Pacific Palisades, on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Pollard and family of West Second street, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith and son Clarence, of Redlands, are spending this week at Convict Lake and Bishop. They plan to remain about ten days.

There is no "animal" life in the ocean beyond a depth of a mile and a half.

AS FRENCH TROOPS LEFT GERMANY

The eleven-year-and-a-half occupation of the Rhineland was being brought to an end as this photo was taken at Mainz, Germany. It shows the guard of French poilus being changed for the last time. Shortly afterward the French, British and Belgian colors were hauled down and the black, red and gold banner of Republican Germany floated for the first time in history over the Electoral Palace. Those who cheered loudest at the departure of the French were the approximately 10,000 citizens of Mainz who at last can move back into the evacuated quarters.

GETS PAID FOR TESTING HOTEL SERVICE. FOOD

NEW YORK, July 18.—(INS)—Does the unemployment problem hold terrors for Mr. Jo Dahl? Ask him. Look him up on the softest lounge of the Hotel New Yorker and ask him.

Mr. Jo Dahl is likely to murmur sleepily, "Go away. Do I get paid for answering foolish questions? My job is to take it easy. Go 'way."

And Jo is right. To the list of sinecures which include the time-honored "soft spots" of wine-taster and Easter egg decorator, Jo has added his own new specialty of hospitality tester.

His job will be to sleep, eat, dance, get shined, pressed and shampooed at the expense of the Hotel New Yorker—pity him, poor man—and all he has to do is criticize the service. A professional hospitality critic, that's Jo.

For a year at least he must periodically take up the task of playing guest—not paying guest—at New York's newest and largest hostelry. Jo does this with the eye of one who knows hospitality. He has lived in some three hundred hotels in this country and eight European countries, and as an employe he has spent the past 15 years in the business of making people feel at home away from home, in London, Paris, Berlin, Rome, St. Moritz, and other capitals of the world.

Here are the vital statistics on Jo: Since 1923 he has eaten 5041 meals in 1219 different hotels and restaurants. And his experiences, for the benefit of the profession, have been recorded in four books. In whatever time he can spare from traveling and writing books he is editor of a hotel magazine and associate editors of another.

When Puccini, the great Italian composer, was writing his first opera, "'La Villi," he was so poor that he had to live on credit for four months at a tiny restaurant in a Milan slum.

KILLER TAKES HEAD TO JAIL AND CONFESSES

PEIPING, July 18.—(UP) — A Chinese policeman dozen outside the suburban police station at Wulitienchun, inside Peiping's walls. A Chinese man came along quietly, and asked to speak to the officer in charge. The visitor carried a small cloth bag.

The guard asked the stranger what he wanted, but he insisted, still politely, that he must speak to the officer. Finally, the policeman led him in.

"What do you want?" asked the officer.

"I have something to show you," said the visitor calmly. Opening his bag, he lifted out the head of a man, still dripping with blood. The policemen exclaimed in horror, and seized their guns.

But the visitor's quiet manner continued. "This is the head of a man I have just killed," he said. "I came home tonight and found this man in my wife's room. I have suspected my wife's fidelity for some time. Tonight I discovered her lover. So I cut off his head.

"My name is Chiang Yu-wen. I am prepared to surrender myself. I brought along the head to show you."

Having recovered from their surprise, the policemen accompanied Chiang to his home ,and found he had spoken the truth. He had committed the murder in rooms adjoining the restaurant he owns.. He is now in jail, awaiting trial.

Legion To Hold Caucus At San Clemente Sunday

AUXILIARY TO HAVE SESSIONS AT SAME TIME

SAN CLEMENTE, July 18.—Spanish Village American Legionnaires have prepared the stage for the fifth area preconvention caucus to be held at San Clemente on Sunday, July 20. Plans have been made to entertain more than 500 visitors as the auxiliary of the area holds their caucus at the same time.

One of the features of the Legion week-end will come Saturday when the junior ball clubs of San Diego and San Bernardino clash on the San Clemente grassed diamond in the final of a three game series for the championship of the area comprising the five southern counties of the state, Imperial, San Diego, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino. San Bernardino won the first game, an eleven inning affair, 4 to 3, while San Diego took the second game played at San Diego on Wednesday, 18 to 2. The winner will play for the Southern California championship later. Both clubs will be housed in the Beach Club.

Eat at Social Club

Tom Guderian, commander of the San Clemente Post 331, states that breakfast will be served visitors at the Social Club at 10 o'clock in the morning. Pete Stavron will be in charge of the food assisted by auxiliary and legion members from the Spanish Village.

At 1 p. m. the area caucus will be held in the school auditorium while the auxiliary will meet at the same time at the Social club.

Many Arrive Saturday

Many have planned to arrive on Saturday and get in a round of golf, fish or go beach bathing. Others plan to do their playing after the meetings of Sunday afternoon.

Dish Welch, Riverside, area commander, stated that San Clemente was selected for the caucus meeting as it was the central point of the five counties. He looks for a record caucus attendance, the last one before the state convention at Sacramento on August 16 to 20. He believes that close to a thousand legionnaires, auxiliary members and families will attend the session.

Invite Candidates

James B. Burns, San Francisco; B. W. Gearheart, Fresno, and Warren G. Atherton, Stockton, all candidates for post of state commander of the legion have been invited to attend the Spanish Village session. There will be present other men seeking offices also and the questions to be voted on at the state meeting will be discussed and a policy taken at San Clemente.

EARLY MANSION OF CAPISTRANO USED FOR MEET

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 18.—A meeting of the Capistrano Woman's club was held this week in the historic Les Resas, ancestral home of the Forster family. Mrs. David Ross, and Mrs. C. W. Billups acting as co-hostesses.

The large cool rooms and charming gardens of this sixty-year-old residence furnished the setting for one of the most interesting meeting of the current year. Various matters of business were disposed of, following which bridge was played by a number of the guests. Others drifted into the garden, where beneath the shade of a huge Cherokee rose arbor, they chatted and discussed club affairs. Like the home itself, the planting of the rose arbor dates back a half a century, to the day when this twenty-room brick mansion of the Forsters, was in the hey-day of its glory. Today the rose vine, which at its base is nearly as large as the body of a man, covers an area as large as a city lot, and is a thing of beauty in blossom time.

Plan Projects

A number of interesting projects are planned. Next Monday, the club will visit an up-to-date dairy plant in the vicinity to learn modern methods of handling milk. This trip is sponsored by the Garden section. Early in August the Literary section will sponsor an all-day picnic at Dana Point, with mid-day luncheon, and a swimming party to follow. The Home Economics section recently held a cooked food sale, which added to the growing fund for the clubhouse; this same section is now making a quilt which will be sold for the clubhouse fund.

About two dozen ladies were present at the meeting. Following the business session, and bridge games, the two hostesses erved delightful refrehments, on mall tables set on the lawn, under the arbor, and on the wide veranda of the Les Rosas.

A report from the municipal plunge showed a decided increase in attendance.

Councilmen Ted Craig and W. C. Baldwin were delegated to attend the Los Angeles chamber of commerce get-together meeting at the Biltmore hotel, Los Angeles, July 29.

Mrs. Henry Case, who is a neighbor of Mrs. Stewart, is especially fond of ferns, and her husband recently completed a large fernery, constructed in a shady spot on the lawn. Built in artistic form, with jagged rock walls, and several levels, the fernery will shortly be a thing of beauty, as the many varieties of ferns are making rapid growth.

Has Fine Garden

Mrs. Susan Bathgate, who lives in the heart of an orange grove, north of town, takes great joy in her fine garden, her one specialty being to raise all the flowers she can, of as many different kinds as possible.

The gardens of the Los Rosas hotel, with their pine and pepper trees, their ancient rose arbors, their wisteria and trumpet vines and their beds of old fashioned flowers, offer a vista of beauty which changes with the seasons.

Mrs. John Forster, whose handsome home southwest of town, dominates the view for miles, is especially fond of watsonia, and many varieties are found in her gardens.

Many Varieties at Mission

Chief among the local gardens is that of the Mission. Here, in an old world atmosphere, roses and lilies, quaint old fashioned garden flowers, cacti and bachelor-buttons, marigolds and Shasta daisies, all blossom and flourish in a tangle of beauty, nourished by the love of Father St. John O'Sullivan, whose life work has been the restoration of the Mission San Juan Capistrano.

BAND PROGRAM GIVEN BY LONG BEACH GROUP

ANAHEIM, July 18.—The Long Beach Municipal band under the direction of Herbert L. Clark drew a capacity crowd at the Anaheim outdoor theater last night when it presented the program, the second of a series of eight weekly Thursday night concerts.

The balmy summer night was ideal for the occasion and was enhanced by the beauty which nature with the care of skillful hands has provided for the setting of these superior programs. The usual skill and training was manifest in the excellent rendition of the ten full band numbers and the trombone solo by Frank H. Gillum and the flute solo by Harrison J. Melhorn were above criticism.

Marsh Written Here

Special interest was had in the second number played, and since it was composed by J. E. Wallace, who resides at 535 South Lemon street.

Mr. Wallace, who is chief engineer of the Industrial Fuel Supply company, has followed music as an avocation only. The number referred to entitled "Golden Bear" is his only march. The manuscript was sent to Herbert L. Clark, director of the band, and he has seen fit to include it in his programs. Mr. Wallace wrote music for the extravaganza at the University of California during his senior year in 1914, and since that time has composed numerous songs and waltzes. He has made his home in this city for the past eight years.

Latest Type Of Market Is Opened In City Today

SANTA ANA DRIVE-IN MARKET AT SOUTH MAIN AND FAIRVIEW IS FORMALLY OPENED TODAY

One of the most pretentious and thoroughly up-to-date drive-in markets in Orange county will make its formal bow to the public today and Saturday when the Santa Ana Drive-In Market, South Main at Fairview, celebrates its grand opening.

The structure was built at an estimated cost of more than $50,000, according to Roy Langley, its owner. Langley personally supervised the construction work and he has left nothing undone in an effort to give to Santa Ana one of the finest markets on the west coast.

The architectural design of the building is the customary L shape featuring a semi-Spanish type of exterior decoration. A beautiful red tile roof completes the setting. Ample parking space has been provided for patrons and there is a convenient service station which in itself sets a new standard in this field. This department will be in charge of Ray Graham, a Santa Ana boy who, before embarking on his new venture, was identified with the Radio Den, on Fourth street, and was for a number of years prominently affiliated with the Richfield and Mutual oil interests.

Graham has installed a late type greasing machine which is said to be a great improvement over the old style apparatus. He has announced that he will carry an exclusive line of oils and gas along with a complete array of accessories.

Altogether, in the main building, there are five attractive units. The grocery department, of which Joe Peterson, well known Santa Anan is proprietor, has been so arranged as to permit customers to obtain their merchandise without any unnecessary loss of time. This unit will feature the famous Smart & Final line of canned goods in addition to other equally well known brands. An elaborate line of staples including high quality butter, eggs and milk assures patrons of the best at reasonable prices.

Peterson always has been active in civic affairs and was at one time a member of the Community Players. He is a graduate of Santa Ana High school and for a number of years was associated with the Smart and Final Wholesale house, Santa Ana. He also is a member of the Lions club.

The meat and delicatessen department will be under the direction of Aubrey Dunbar, also of Santa Ana. Dunbar has had many years experience in this business and is well qualified to cater to the individual needs of the public. Dunbar formerly was with the Arcade market, Grand Central, and is well known in the community. Only the highest grade of baby beef, eastern pork, milk lambs and veal, along with lunch cuts and a complete line of delicatessen foodstuffs will be carried.

Vic Brandalise has an attractive site and will deal exclusively in fruits and vegetables. A modern cooler has been installed affording protection for the more fragile types of merchandise during the hot summer months. This particularly applies to berries, celery, lettuce, melons and others in this class. Only grade A merchandise will be carried and according to Brandalise an enticing scale of prices will prevail.

In conjunction with the market, a modern dry cleaning plant will be opened. This unit will be in charge of Ben Livesey, who has been engaged in this business for the past 15 years. Livesey has installed new equipment and will specialize in the dyeing of all fancy materials. His plant is equipped to clean suits, gowns, and other forms of wearing apparel, quickly and at a nominal cost. Livesey is a graduate chemist of Massachusetts Tech and is familiar with the various dye processes employed by German masters in this field.

As a special feature of the grand opening merchandise values amounting to more than $300 will be given away by the various merchants. The doors will be thrown open to the public at 7 a. m. Friday and will remain open until 9 p. m. The same hours will prevail daily.

STARS PLAY DANGEROUS PACKERS TONIGHT

MIRACLES OF SPORT - - - BY ROBERT EDGREN

Allison, Hard Pressed, Wins

U. S. IS VICTOR IN FIRST PLAY FOR DAVIS CUP

PARIS, July 18.—Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., defeated Georgio De Stefani of Italy by scores of 4-6, 7-9, 6-4, 8-6, 10-8, in an inter-zone Davis cup finals match here today.

The young Texas star made a sensational comeback after losing the first two sets to the Italian. He was unable to settle down at first, though he did carry he second set to extra games. He outed repeatedly and often drove into the net. Stefani, on the other hand, was playing a game of the Lacoste type, steady and cool, showing a great improvement over previous form.

After a particularly bad out Allison was heard to remark: "What's the matter with me?"

Allison gave the United States the first victory in the matches to decide who will challenge France for the cup.

There will be five matches in all, the nation winning three becoming the challenger. There will be three more singles matches and one doubles match.

The second singles match was being played this afternoon, George Lott of Chicago meeting Baron Humbert De Morpurgo, of Italy.

The doubles match will be played Saturday. Draw for this match was to be made later today. On Sundy, Allison will play De Morpurgo, and Lott will play De Stefani.

Whittier Quits County 'B' Night Loop

With Yorba Linda already having thrown in the sponge and Whittier failing to appear for its scheduled contest with Garden Grove last night, the Orange County "B" league, subsidiary and "farm" circuit of the National Night league, is about on its last legs, reports today indicated.

Interest has been apathetic in the "B" league at many points around the wheel, only Westminster, Garden Grove and Olive breaking anywhere near even financially.

What league officials will do about Whittier's disinclination to carry out its schedule is not known.

ALLEN DEFEATS 'WILD MAN' IN CLOSE CONTEST

Nursing an eye as black as the dragon's gorge, Jack (Kid) Allen today prized more highly than ever his welterweight championship of Cuba, a bauble he should have lost to a tough Mexican, Jesus ("Wild man") Macias, of Los Alamitos, at the Orange County Athletic club last night.

Allen was given an unpopular and unwarranted decision over Macias at the end of a 10-round main event that started slowly but finished in a turmoil of gloves.

Referee Steve Nyland, one of the finest judges of talent on the state boxing commission's payroll, kicked the decision. Macias deserved no worse than a draw.

Nyland, prone to few mistakes, booted another verdict after the sensational semi-windup. He gave Tony Moreno a decision over Jess Gabucco, but the little Filipinos was right in the fight and should have received more consideration.

Pernassas Squawks

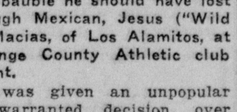

George Pernassas, manager of Allen, almost refused to allow the Cuban to go on with the fight.

He had his charge in the ring under the impression that the bout was to go eight rounds, and when Announcer Emil Foust said something about ten rounds, Pernassas let out a squawk.

He was pacified after considerable argument.

Macias won the first round which was slow and uninteresting.

The action continued to be half-hearted until the fifth when Ref-

eree Nyland stopped the principals, warned them that he expected more fireworks.

Up to this time Macias had a shade. He won the first, third and fifth, drew in the second. Allen scored in the fourth.

Battle In High Speed

The sixth saw the battle in high speed. Abandoning their earlier caution, Macias and Allen tore at each other's throats. Macias carried the sixth but Allen, employing a nasty uppercut, piled up the points in the seventh and eighth.

Macias recovered his equilibrium in the ninth which he won. The tenth was even.

Register ringside figures gave Macias five rounds, Allen three, two even.

Nyland chalked down seven for Allen, three for Macias.

It is easy to rave about "best fights" but still it is safe to say few such thrilling encounters have been waged here as the Moreno-Gabucco rematch, a year old but as hot as soup.

The busy bantams punched each other dizzy through six torrid rounds.

Moreno Shakes Gabucco

Gabucco earned the first, fourth and sixth heats. Moreno took the second by a tremendous margin, shaking the Filipino to his heels with a series of right hand punches, and the third by a shade. The fifth was close.

Moreno did all the fight-making, and his aggressiveness probably impressed Nyland.

Three quick knockouts featured the preliminaries.

Mickey Koshell stopped Reggie Placentia, substituting for Mickey Thomas, early in the second round. The punch was a long overhand punch to the chin.

Cliff Burrier lost the first round to Frankie Hirsch, then finished his opponent in the second, scoring three knockdowns.

Benny Stinson, La Habra middleweight, kayoed "Bud" Austin of Los Alamitos in the first round of the curtain-raiser.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Babe Ruth has offered an excuse for having picked the Robins to finish seventh this year. . . . He says he didn't know much about some of the Brooklyn players when he made that prediction. . . . That's what a lot of the experts are saying, George. . . . Charley O'Leary says that when the Tigers of the olden days were winning pennants, they averaged two good fist fights per diem in the clubhouse. . . . . George M. Cohan is a red-hot baseball fan, invariably rooting for the visiting team wherever he happens to be. . . . We fail to see ho wGeorge ever got out of the Brooklyn ball park alive. . . . San Francisco has insured Frank Crosetti, star shortstop, for $100,000. The niftiest dresser in the big leagues may be George Fisher of the Cardinals, or may be Mickey Cochrane of the A's. . . . We'll not argue.

AS PENNOCK GOES

Ruth has been slapping that old potato to all parts of the city; so has Gehrig; so have all the other Yankees that drove from far down in the American league standing to the top of the hill.

"As Ruth goes, so go the Yankees," is a familiar old cry that has been revived. When the Bambino is in there banging away every day, the whole team seems to snap into it.

But behind the great campaign of the Yankees this year is another story, in which a fragile old gent plays the strong man's role.

CONTROL AND NOODLE

On May 20, the Boston Red Sox knocked Waite Hoyt, then a Yankee, out of the box. Pennock succeeded him in the second inning. From then through to the tenth inning, the Kennett Square crook-

OLIVEMEN BID FOR THIRD WIN OVER S. A. CLUB

Those pesky Packers from up Olive way, the "giant-killers" of the National Night Baseball league, come to the Santa Ana Bowl tonight for one last, long, lingering crack at the team they detest above all others.

Santa Ana has its Anaheim, Whittier its Long Beach, Riverside its Arlington, and—Olive its Santa Ana. Victory over the Stars is as sweet in Olive as the mellow, golden fruit packed in that thriving orange hub.

It is just another ball game as far as the Stars are concerned, but a highly important one as they all are for Herb Salveson's merrymen these evenings. The Stars are so near, and yet so far, from that second half championship, that they can't afford to stumble on any of the so-called second divisioners, like the Packers.

Cornelius Mound Nominee

Consequently, Salveson has decided to come forth once again with Josephus Cornelius, the iron man kid himself, who has won exactly 15 times for the Reds while losing twice, both times to Whittier.

Cornelius beat Olive the first time he faced that team, but it took one of those old time Santa Ana ninth inning rallies to turn the trick and start the club on a winning streak that carried it to the top of the heap—now two full games ahead of the whole field of nine pursuers.

Darwin Scott, third sacker, cinched the argument with a timely blow in the last round that scored Randolph Bell, whose bingle had knotted the count. The final score was 3-2, but it was 2-1 most of the way. Olive won both its earlier starts against the home guard, first 51, then 3-2.

Always Starts Poorly

SINGER KNOCKS OUT MANDELL IN FIRST ROUND, HAILED AS NEW LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 18.—His arms outflung, his face distorted with unuttered pain, his sightless eyes staring up at the lights, Sammy Mandell lay stark on the floor last night and was counted out of his world's lightweight championship in 1:46 of the first round. Stricken, he lay inert and unheeding, with the doleful count of 10 sounding in ears that heard not and a referee's arm waving before eyes that could not see.

Over in a neutral corner stood the champion-to-be, Al Singer, of New York, chittering and gibbering with the hysteria of one to whom the fairy story of life has come true.

He literally was chuckle-headed with fisbelief at his own good fortune and, when the count reached ten, he leaped high in the air, his mouth working strangely and odd sounds issuing from his lips. He is not as graceful as Nipinsky nor as handsome as Barrymore.

But he is a good champion and he won as a good champion should—with the punch.

It was almost a Dempsey climax, this punch, a sort of one-shot bulls' eye that left the skipping, flitting human zepher that had been Sammy Mandell draped, all butlifeless, across the axminister. Thrice more the stricken man was beaten down and, at last, he lay there unconscious, never to rise again.

It took four knockdowns in less than two minutes to finish Mandell, first, because they come no gamer than Sam, and second because the flustered Singer had punched himself out and finally couldn't have dropped an empty night shirt with a monkey wrench.

He simply had nobody to lick after the first left hood had nailed Mandell on the chin for the original knockdown. To all practical purposes, the fight was over when Mandell arose, with drooping legs and dribbling lips, to face the young savage before him.

Only a question of minutes, you said, and then ,abruptly, you changed the estimate to seconds. The first punch had done it. The thing was a re-enaction of the moth and flame thesis. Too near for once and so out shot the licking, searing punch like a flame of light and it was all over.

Thus ended the career of a good champion and thus began that of another. The Bronx had returned its own to the seats of the mighty, where once the great Leonard sat and royally reigned to receive his subjects, and so a crowd of 35,000 avid home-towners raised a pain of joy by way of acclaim for the home-town boy who had made good.

The fight bore out in all respects the representations that were proferred about Mandell before he entered the ring. They said he was through and never a truer word was spoken. Mandell was so far through last night that the 8 to 5 and 2 to 1 that was laid against him was bare-faced skulldoggery. He didn't have a chance. He probably never had a chance from the moment the match was made.

YOUNG CORBETT IN TITLE BATTLE BID

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Young Corbett, 111, Fresno welter and recognized by the state athletic commission as the leading challenger, was in Los Angeles today seeking a title bout with Champion Jack Thompson, but with slight hopes of success.

The Negro titleholder has demanded $100,000 for a title bout with either Jimmy McLarnin in New York or Corbett in California, and such a price practically prohibits a match in the golden state, it was agreed. Matchmaker Wad Wadhams of the Olympic arena, said he believed Corbett's only alternative was to make the guarantee himself.

Earlier in the week the boxing board ordered Thompson to defend his title within six months, the order dating back to May 9, when he won the title.

WESTMINSTER 4-0 VICTOR OVER OLIVE

Francis Penhall's fast Westminster baseball team stepped out and won itself another game—its ninth in ten starts since the beginning of the second half of the Orange County "B" league's split season—on the Westminster lot last night.

DeBusk blanked the Olive Bees, 4 to 0, alolwing the invaders only four hits and striking out 13.

His colleagues got two runs in the fourth on Gardner's single, Sauers' triple and Penhall's single; two in the fifth on Campbell's single and stolen base, McGuire's walk and Gardner's double, and another in the sixth on Burns' hit, two stolen bases and a wild pitch.

Westminster plays at home again Monday, meeting Orange.

HONOLULU, T. H., July 18. — The yacht Talayha, owned by Lazard Lippman, sped past Diamond Head at 3:05 p. m. yesterday to arrive third in the trans-Pacific race from Los Angeles to Honolulu.

The Talayha's time for the trip was 13 days, 5 hours, 35 minutes and 38 seconds.

BUILDERS ROUT PRINTERS, TIE FOR CITY FLAG

Deadlocked again, the Dennis Printers and Orange County Builders' exchange night baseball teams today were further than ever away from determining which was champion of the first half of the Santa Ana City league's split season.

Defying the critics who picked 'em to lose, Franklin Nickey's Builders defeated the Printers, 5 to 3, in the Bowl last night, in a game that officially completed the regular schedule for the first half.

Both teams won seven games, lost two. Kenneth Morrison, president of the City league commission, said that Managers Nickey and Carlyle Dennis would get together with the commissioners and decide whether a one or three-game playoff would eliminate the tie.

A two-run rally in the seventh and last inning gave the Builders victory, although it was slovenly handling of the ball by the Printers that really caused the bulk of the damage. Going into the windup round in a 3-3 tie, Roy Heard opened with a single and Jim Coulson followed with another. Both runners went all the way around the four-base circuit when the Printers threw wildly to bases ahead of them.

Previously, the Builders got two in the second frame when Nickey singled and Wayne Vance was safe on a fielder's choice. Harless' single and wild patches brought them around. Wendell Vance's single and wild throws gave the Nickey gang its other counter in the sixth.

The Printers got a pair in the first on hits by English, Elliott and Everett Lutz, and another in the third on English's hit, wild pitches and an infield out.

Hess 2-1 Favorite Over King Tonight

HOLLLYOOD, July 18.—With 2 to 1 odds favoring him, Goldie Hess tonight meets Richie King, in a 10-round bout at the Hollywood Legion stadium. Hess, one of the hardest hitting lightweights on the coast, was the favorite due to his decision over Johnny Lamar at the Olympic two weeks ago.

King is known as a clever boxer but lacking in a championship punch.

STARS TO PLAY OLIVE CLUB IN BOWL TONIGHT

Cornelius after the first inning. Few teams do. The former Imperial valley boy always gets away from the post poorly, almost every team nicking him for a run or two, but once "Jumping Joe" gets his bearings he is a tough hombre in the pitcher's box. Furthermore he seems to thrive on plenty of work, apparently slinging better under the two-a-week schedule.

Two changes in the lineup that started against Long Beach are probable.

One would find at first base Johnny Lutz, a Santa Ana boy who was with Orange early in the season and hit right along with the leaders during the first half of the season.

The other calls for Scott to take third base. Salveson has been using Scott and Bill Hunter at the hot corner alternately, and Hunter saw service last Tuesday.

Heman Is Olive Choice

Wilcox will catch with Leavitt Daley at second base and "Memphy" Hill at short. Wayne Nelson, hero of the Long Beach thriller; "Rosy" Merrill, who is in the midst of a great batting spree, and the ever reliable Randolph Bell are sure starters in the pastures.

Olive has groomed Rudy Heman for tonight's battle. He has always been a tough nut for the Stars, especially their right hand hitters, although tonight there won't be many of the orthodox swingers in the home batting order. Freddy Guenther, who stopped the Stars once this year and blanked Huntington Beach with three hits Tuesday, may get a chance to do the pitching. Thomas, former Fullerton gunner, is a third member of the Packer deceiving staff.

The only other league game where an upset is possible will be played at Anaheim. Garden Grove, a troublemaker for any of 'em, invades the Colony and a Pepper victory would not be surprising. Ochoa probably will pitch for Anaheim, Morrill for Garden Grove.

La Habra Meets Orange

La Habra goes to Orange and the tailenders are not likely to give Chico Sabella much competition.

Whittier meets Fullerton at Whittier. There will be no such reversal of dope as there was the lest time the teams met. Whittier will win this time—just about as it pleases.

Long Beach goes to Huntington Beach and the Acorns are heavily favored over their old pitching partner, Howard Morning.

Standings follow:

ed arm held the Red Sox at bay, granting never a run. His mates won the game in the tenth.

Since then Pennock has been a regular starter and a regular finisher for the Yankees. With no semblance of a fast ball, he has stood the visiting firemen on their ears, winning his games by sheer control and craftsmanship. In 66 consecutive innings he issued just four bases on balls. He stopped Detroit with five hits.

Down at St. Petersburg in the spring, Bob Shawkey told me:

"I am placing a great deal of faith in Pennock. He hasn't pitched 17 years in this league for nothing. All that arm needs is control. His head will take care of the rest."

It begins to appear Shawkey made a sound prediction.

THAT "CANARY" GUY

"I will send my nigger out to bust that Canary guy right between the eyes," spake Jimmy Dougherty, the Baron of Leiperville, on the eve of the tussle between Godfrey and Carnera.

That's what Gawge did. But it din't take. Gwage busted that Canary guy between the eyes so often that he got sick and tired of bustin'. When Big Gawge found that bustin' the Canary guy between the eyes was much like slapping a fireplug with a tackhammer he just naturally folded right up hisse'f, swung one into forbidden territory and went home to his giblets and po'k chops.

And now look at the Canary guy! Isn't he just the great big shot, though? Ho, ho! and a brace of tee hee's!

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

High in the list of American stcokholders in the firm of the Carnera Beef company, Unlimited, is Mr. Ownie Madden . . . who has quite a persuasive way with box fighters . . . another is Mr. Will Duffy, who operates aside from his Carnera Circus, several night clubs of this sort and that. . . . Still another holder of stock in the Carnera enterprises is Mr. Goodtime Charley Freedman. . . . The Carnera offices in New York City are next to the office of Mr. Joseph Jacobs, but of course that may mean nothing at all. . . . Still another gent associated in the Primo promotion is Leon See, a Frenchman. . . . Another in the party is Pete (the Goat) Stone, but he is probably only an employe at this writing. . . . Altogether quite a fine looking body of men.

P. E. AND MOTOR TRANSIT MERGE IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 18.—Additional service features for patrons of both Pacific Electric and Motor Transit lines in this district are urged in the recommendations of the state railroad commission which has just announced its decision relative to the Pacific Electric reducing its passenger service on the Los Angeles-Fullerton and Yorba Linda lines, according to Harry May, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, who received the report.

The commission has granted the major portion of the application for the reduction from ten passenger trains a day to three cars to and from Los Angeles.

Interchange of tickets between the Motor Transit and Pacific Electric in this district is one of the points on which the commission requested action to be taken. The comment of the commission on the service follows in part:

Commission Report

"Following a review of the evidence presented, we are of the opinion that a number of the present schedules are not reasonably required for the public service, as evidenced by the may trips on which no passengers are carried. The existing auto stage service of Motor Transit company, which is substantially similar as to running time and fare and materially better as to frequency of service to all communities except Yorba Linda, provides and will continue to do so, a common carrier passenger service adequate for the needs of the public in the district, according to the testimony of its general manager.

"The travel checks indicate, however, considerable use of the morning and evening rail service, due no doubt, to the lower commutation fare and somewhat shorter running time of these trains, which operate as limited trains between Los Angeles and Santa Fe Springs. We believe that this service should be contiued for the present.

Exchange Tickets

"It appears to be in the public interest that means be provided for the exchange of tickets between applicant and its subsidiary, Motor Transit company in this territory so that passengers finding it convenient to travel in one direction on one line and return on the other line may avail themselves of the round trip commutation rate in making the trip. The record shows that while this is feasible, certain adjustments in present tariffs are necessary. We will not, therefore, include this as an immediate condition of the service changes but will require that a plan be submitted by applicant (Pacific Electric) within 30 days for the commission's consideration.

Trial of 60 Days

"The commission is of the opinion that the provisions of the order herein shall not be considered as final until the proposed service has been given a reasonable test, and by this we mean that if after a trial og 60 days the modified fares and services do nto appear adequately to meet the requirements, the matter will be re-opened for consideration of such features of our order as appear to require further modification."

In its formal order, the railroad commission called for two inbound trains in the morning from both Fullerton and Yroba Linda and one outbound to both points in the afternoon. Both of these schedules are to be operated on time schedules adapted to needs of commuters and are in addition to the one trip daily proposed by the Pacific Electric.

The order is made effective 20 days after date of filing in San Francisco, June 10 and 10 days notice is required by the Pacific Electric before reducing its service.

NEWPORT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, July 18.—The summer pay-as-you-go luncheon of the Newport Beach Exchange club this wee khad an attendance of over 30, with Chief of Police R. R. Hodginson presiding.

The Ponce Hamond cup which was won by the Exchange club float in the Tournament of Lights contest was presented to the club and Larry Wilkinson, the chairman of the club decorating committee, was congratulated on the success of the committee's work.

Get Congratulations

Congratulatory offerings from several local and visiting citizens were presented, and the show was decided to be the best yet put on at the local harbor.

Lancy Sherman who was generalissimo of the forces handling the event this year, was the lion of the meeting, and received many well deserved congratulations for the success of the event.

A delegate from the Santa Ana club extended an invitation to hold a joint meeting with them August 5.

Guests were then introduced and the visiting members of the dance orchestra now playing at the Casino dance hall, rendered several well appreciated numbers for the enjoyment of the members.

AGED PHYSICIAN CALLED BY DEATH

Death claimed another of Santa Ana's aged residents when Dr. W. M. Perkins, 81, passed away yesterday at his home, 615 South Main street, after an illness of more than four weeks. Death was attributed to high blood pressure and pneumonia.

Dr. Perkins was born in Jackson, Tenn., October in 1849, and later moved to Nashville, Tenn. He was a graduate of the University of Louisville. He first practiced medicine in Fort Smith, Ark., and came to Santa Ana in 1922. He developed a wide list of acquaintances here and was actively interested in public affairs.

Dr. Perkins is survived by his widow, Mary E. Perkins, and the following children: Mrs. W. H. Bates and Glenn Perkins, of Yorba Linda; Mrs. John Culp, Long Beach; Mrs. Beth Mathis, Santa Ana, and James L. Perkins, Fort Smith, Ark.

Funeral services will be held at the Smith and Tuthill chapel at 10 a. m. Saturday. The Rev. Moffett Rhodes will officiate. Interment will follow in the Fairhaven cemetery.

National Guard Men Leave For Summer Camp Tonight

MEMBERS BUSY PREPARING FOR JOURNEY TODAY

Dressed in their new uniforms, 61 members of Company L., 185th infantry, and 20 members of Headquarters company, third battalian of the 185th infantry, both Santa Ana companies, will leave here tonight for their summer encampment at San Luis Obispo.

The company was busy today making final preparations for the trip. Baggage was being stored and the entire company was at the armory on Birch street, doing last minute errands and packing.

The two companies, led by Captain James Cain, of Company L., and Lt. James B. Pettit, of headquarters, will leave the armory tonight, marching down Fourth street, behind the drum corps of the Santa Ana American Legion post, to the Pacific Electric railway station, where special cars will take them to Los Angeles, where the remainder of the regiment will be stationed.

Just prior to the departure, the company will be given a big dinner at the Legion home, to be served by the women of the Santa Ana American Legion auxiliary.

A number of guests have been invited to attend, including members of the county board of supervisors, members of the Santa Ana city council, Commander Otto Jacobs, of the American Legion, Justice Kenneth Morrison and Maj. A. S. Ralph. The drum corps also will be guests.

The two Santa Ana companies will be in camp at San Luis Obispo from July 18 to August 2. The 184th and the 185th infantry regiments will be in camp at the same time, together with a tank corps and an aero squadron, according to Captain Cain.

Report Paralysis Improvement Here

With another patient released from quarantine, the infantile paralysis condition in Orange county, continues to show improvement, according to information given out today by the county health office.

At the present time, there are but six quarantine cases, which would seem to indicate that the efforts made to combat the disease have been quite successful. During the absence of Dr. K. H. Sutherland, who is on a two weeks' vacation, the county health office will be in charge of Dr. Murray Bates.

ELECTED

Earle W. Hodges, of New York City, shown below, was elected president of the Lions international today at the annual convention of the organization in Denver.

EARLE HODGES HEAD OF LIONS INTERNATIONAL

DENVER, July 18.—Earle W. Hodges, of New York City, head of the department of public relations for Henry L. Doherty and the Cities Service company interests, this afternoon was elected president of the International association of Lions clubs, a service organization of more than 2200 clubs and 80,000 members all over the United States and Canada.

Hodges was first vice president of the Lions in 1929-30, and now succeers Ray L. Riley, who is comptroller of the state of California.

Farm boy, printer's devil, printing office foreman, newspaper owner and publisher, state printing clerk, deputy state auditor, secretary of state of Arkansas, director of public utilities for his state, and finally director of public relations for the Henry L. Doherty interests—that is Earle W. Hodges, the new president of Lions international. He is one of the best known public speakers in the country, and has visited and delivered addresses many times in every state of the union.

He began his public career early. While he was yet in the grade and high school of Salem, Ark., near which town he was born in 1882, he says he was "dabbling in ink in a country printing office." His experience was that of thousands of others—that once you get well smeared with printer's ink you never get far away from a printing plant. When he left high school he became foreman of the composing room of the Mammoth Springs Monitor, and held the job down for a year.

NATIONAL AIR TOUR

CONDITION OF FINANCES FOR SCHOOLS TOLD

Showing a total expenditure for Santa Ana schools during the fiscal year ending June 30, of $1,277,254.88, total receipts for the same period of $1,545,099.63, a cash balance of $267,754.75, and total valuations of all school property amounting to $2,566,331.54, the annual financial statement of the Santa Ana school system, prepared by Elizabeth Phillips, secretary to the board of education, was released today.

The report shows in detail the various sources of income, as well as listing the expenditures and setting up facts concerning bond issues, tax rates and new construction during the fiscal year that has just ended. The funds are segregated into five divisions, embracing kindergarten, elementary, high school, junior college and elementary bond fund.

A recapitulation of the receipts and expenditures for the year in these five funds is given as follows: kindergarten—receipts, $46,038.21; expenditures, $36,809.01; cash balance, $9229.29; elementary—receipts $415,453.93; expenditures, $335,381.48; cash balance, $60,072.45; high school—receipts, $450,891.17; expenditures, $446,300.98; cash balance, $4590.19; junior college—receipts, $167,626.32; expenditures, $140,487.74; cash balance, $27,138.58, and elementary bond fund—receipts, $465,000; expenditures, $298,275.67; cash balance, $166,724.33.

A setup outlining the bonding capacity and amount of bonds outstanding is included in the report prepared by Miss Phillips, which shows the assessed valuation of the elementary district as $22,436,520 and of the high school district as $32,945,990. Attention is called to the fact that the valuation of the high school district will be reduced $9,000,000 this year due to the withdrawal of the Newport and Costa Mesa districts. This will leave a valuation of approximately $24,000,000, or a bonding capacity of $1,200,000. The old bonding capacity for the high school district including Newport and Costa Meca, was $1,647,299. Outstanding monds, as of July 1, for the high school district amounted to $354,000. To this on July 10 was added $494,000, the amount of the recent bond issue voted to provide a junior high school building program. Bonds outstanding for the elementary district amount to $950,000, while the bonding capacity is restricted to $1,121,826.

The total tax rate for last year was $2.76. This was split among four funds, with the kindergartens getting 15 cents; the elementary schools, $1.22; high school, $1.17; and junior college, 22 cents. The kindergarten and junior college rates were assessed on a special district, while the high and elementary rates were split as follows: elementary—special district, 30 cents; county common, 38 cents; building special, 15 cents and bond building, 39 cents; high school—special district, 75 cents; county comon, 25 cents, and bond building, 17 cents.

One item of the report that is very interesting is an analysis of the costs and a number of pupils showing the cost per pupil of the various divisions. This starts in at a cost of $92.73 per pupil to keep a child in elementary school last

HARRY WESTOVER, CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE, GIVES TALK AT LA HABRA ON BOULDER DAM

Water needs and sources of supply were discussed before the La Habra Kiwanis club yesterday in the regular meeting of that organization at the Masonic temple, by Harry Westover, candidate for district attorney. The development of the coastal plain and the rapid growth in population were pointed out as factors that are requiring greater water supply.

Westover said in part:

"The development of the coastal plain (that is that part of southern California from Santa Barbara to San Diego and from the mountains to the sea) has gone hand in hand with the development of water. The water question is the most serious question to be answered and solved by the people of southern California. For some years we have been drawing upon our great natural underground storage of water, but the time is fast coming when we will not be able to get any additional water from such sources. During the past ten years the population of the coastal plain has increased approximately 100 per cent. If the same rate of increase should continue for the next 10 years how are we going to provide sufficient water for our increased population?

"The development of the water law of California is part of the history of the development and growth of the state. The first industry pursued in California was that of placer mining, which required the liberal use of water. Later, the more widespread industry of agriculture required still larger quantities of water. Our original water law came from England, where it was a part of the common law. In England there was developed the doctrine of riparian rights. Those who owned the streams, or who had property on the banks of the streams had a right to use the water, but property owners whose land did not abut the streams had no right to such water. However, with the development of the western part of the United States, there was developed a new doctrine as far as water was concerned—the doctrine of appropriation—that is the doctrine of "first come, first served.' This doctrine was promulgated by the miners of California, who discovered that they had to have water for their mining claims and that not always were their claims situated on the banks of the streams. At first it was only possible to appropriate water fer use within the water shed of the streams but it is now possible to appropriate water for territories lying without the water shed.

"Los Angeles led the way by bringing water from one water shed into another water shed when it went into the Owens valley for its water and brought it to the city over deserts and mountain ranges. Southern California expects to get its future water from the Colorado river through the doctrine of appropriation and expects to bring the water from the watershed of the Colorado across the mountains to the coastal plain.

"At the present time, however, there is no water subject to appropriation in the Colorado river, except the flood waters. At times of flood untold quantities of water go to waste into the Gulf of California. After the flood has passed the river reaches such a stage that all of the flow of the river is used for irrigation purposes. During certain parts of the summer each year, all of the water of the Colorado river is diverted into the irrigation canals of the Imperial Valley Irrigation district at Hanlon heading and many times the Imperial valley does not get all of the water it would like to have.

"If Southern California is to make use of any of the water of the Colorado river it must take the flood waters. One of the reasons for the building of the Boulder canyon dam is to hold back and preserve the flood waters of the Colorado river so that this water may be used rather than wasted. Until the Boulder canyon dam is completed and the flood waters of the Colorado have been conserved there will be no water for the coastal plain of southern California."

Return From Salt Lake City Meeting

Roland D. Flaherty, secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau, has returned to his duties here after attending a Farm bureau conference of the 11 western states held recently in Salt Lake City. He was accompanied by Roy Bishop, past president of the Orange County bureau, and E. E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor.

Flaherty reported that the chief business before the convention was a wholesale discussion of the problems confronting the rancher and various methods of eliminating the natural enemies encountered in the pursuit of ranching.

STRAIGHTENING ROAD

EL TORO, July 18. — The county road department is making remarkable progress on the straightening of Trabuca road. Steam shovels are cutting down the grades and the entire road widened. Oil and graveling will begin soon.

MANY PRESENT FOR ASSEMBLY MEETING HERE

The summer assembly of the Evangelical churches of Southern California, which is being held in the assembly grounds west of Santa Ana this week, is continuing to attract large crowds at the special services, and the largest group of the session was taken care of in the dining room last evening. Special features yesterday on the recreational program were the ball game in the afternoon between the pastors and the delegates, and the camp fire last night.

The delegates handed the pastors the short end of a 34-13 score in a five inning slug fest and merry-go-round of the bases. At the camp fire last night some 300 persons gathered about the huge fire in the bed of the Santa Ana river near the assembly grounds and enjoyed a program of songs, stunts, charades, and stories, that closed with a treasure hunt.

The usual class periods and worship services were held during the day yesterday. The Rev. Paul O. Steps, of San Bernardino, was in charge of the morning watch, using as his text John 21:18-23.

Bishop L. H. Seager, of Le Mars, Ia., conducted the Bible hour, continuing his series of talks on the book of Job. The noon-day meditation period was led by the Rev. F. A. Zeller, of Burbank, whose subject was "Walking in Christ."

The Women's Missionary society conducted an oratorical contest yesterday afternoon, at which Mrs. J. W. Harrison, of the Melrose avenue church, Los Angeles, was winner. "Paul of the Valley" was the subject presented at the vesper service last evening by the Rev. F. Schrader, of Los Angeles. Bishop Seager at the evening service discussed "How to Live in This Present World." His text was found in Titus 2:12, "Denying ungodliness and worldly lust, we should live soberly, righteously and Godly."

Services today followed the same program with the same leaders, with the exception that at the evening service tonight Mrs. L. H. Seager will be the speaker and will discuss "Our Part in Kingdom Extension." There will be two business meetings this afternoon, one of the conference board of religious education and the other of the missionary society. There also will be a conference on league work this afternoon.

Barrel cactus of the southwest, besides being shaped like a barrel, also serves as one. By slicing off the top, the thirsty traveler may dip out a refreshing fluid from within.

STYLE POINTER

N. Pemberton Billings, English writer, is shown below as he arrived in New York City prepared to give American men a couple of pointers on styles. Not only was he wearing the latest wrinkle in elongated collars, but he dispensed with a necktie. And the collar clasp made it a pretty snappy get-up.

ANNOUNCE LIST OF WINNERS IN 'SHOE' FINALS

The city playground elimination horseshoe tournament, held yesterday afternoon at Lathrop playground for the elementary division, resulted in Lloyd Race, of Roosevelt playground, annexing his second city championship in three weeks of playground activities. Lloyd defeated all comers in dominoes last week, and yesterday added the horseshoe crown to his list.

Blas Mercurio, representing the Lincoln playgrounds, ran a close second, losing by only one point in the final game. Other playgrounds finished as follows: Jean Miller, playing for Lathrop, third; Ruben Segobioa, Fremont, fourth, and Charles Maxwell, Edison, fifth.

In the doubles division of the tournament Lincoln playground's champions brought home the honor of the city championship. They were Erwin Youel and Oriato Noche. They eliminated, during the progress of the afternoon, the following players, who finished in the order named: James Walters and Pierino Lovero, representing Roosevelt; Juan Barela and Manual Morales, from Fremont; Oliver Pickens and Leo Rankin, from Lincoln and Jimmie Wendorf and Clayton Manning, Lathrop's entrants.

Logan Jackson Is Widely Endorsed as Candidate for Sheriff

When a candidate for county office is able to present solid backing in his own community, where he is best known, he is able to enter other communities with a valuable recommendation. Such is the situation of Logan Jackson, candidate for sheriff, who has received a fine endorsement of his candidacy from his home people. More than 200 prominent Orange people have signed a statement in behalf of Jackson's candidacy as follows:

TO THE PUBLIC:

Believing that the office of sheriff is one of the most important offices in Orange county and that it should be filled by a man of sound character and proven ability, we are making this voluntary statement in behalf of Logan Jackson, a candidate for that office.

Mr. Jackson has resided in Orange county for many years. His record is one of absolute honesty. He is a man of high character and correct personal habits. In experience and business ability we believe him to be fully qualified to administer the office of sheriff.

We cordially endorse his candidacy for that office:

Bridge Tea Compliments House-guest From Pennsylvania

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hoy, 1225 French street, made a pleasant haven yesterday afternoon, when the Misses Wilma and Betty Hoy entertained in honor of their cousin, Miss Eleanor Hoy, who is a guest in their home from Oil City, Pa.

Bridge occupied the afternoon, at the close of which clever prizes were offered to Miss Eleanor Metzgar, high; Miss Ruth Davis, second; and Miss Eleanor Hoy, guest prize. The card table covers were replaced with dainty linens, and tables arranged for the tea menu with appointments of rainbow colors in yellow, pink, orchid, and blue, with garden flowers to harmonize. Nut cups were tiny rosebuds of pastel tints, while bridge tallies used earlier in the afternoon bore dainty old-fashioned maidens.

Those present in addition to the co-hostesses, the Misses Wilma and Betty Hoy, and the guest of honor, Miss Eleanor Hoy, were the Misses Lois Winslow, Enid Twist, Veda Mitchell, Muriel Smith, Elaine Smith, Ruth Davis, Patricia Kennedy, Eva Marshall, Edith Lewis, and Mesdames Russell Wilson, Frank Finster and Paul Olmstead.

As a compliment to Miss Zelma Beemer, whose wedding to Ray Walworth of Orange will occur at high noon on Thursday, July 31, Miss Lola Christie entertained with a miscellaneous shower in the pretty home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. DeWolf, in Balboa, yesterday afternoon. The invited guests comprised the members of the Standard Bearers, an organization of the First Methodist Episcopal church, of which the honoree is a member.

Following several hours spent on the beach, and delectable refreshments served out of doors, the girls again sought the home, where the delighted honoree opened her many varied and lovely surprise packages

As evening approached, the guests scattered, many of them going to Irvine park, where they enjoyed a delicious steak bake, while others attended the band concert in Birch park

Past Commanders of Sons of Veterans Hold Banquet

Bringing to a conclusion an interesting year's work under the direction of E. A. Bell, president, and C. F. Millen, secretary-treasurer, the Past Commanders, club of Sons of Union Veterans, met in the Rossmore cafe Wednesday night, for a pleasant banquet at which their wives were honored guests.

Following the varied and delicious courses of the dinner the group continued the hospitable evening in the J. R. Moore home, 424 West Second street. The past Commanders held a short business session during which S. L. Carpenter was elected to the post of president, succeeding E. A. Bell, while Walter Somerby was elected to succeed C. F. Millen as secretary-treasurer. Both Mr. Bell and Mr. Millen were highly commended for the manner in which they had conducted the duties of their offices during the past year, making it a memorable and valuable year for the other members of this little organization.

Two new members were received, Sherman Gillogly of Orange, and C. E. Braton, both eligible as past commanders of Sons of Veterans posts.

The remainder of the evening was a social one, during which Mrs. More introduced the game of "Touring," which seemed very appropriate to the current vacation and travel season. Late in the evening she served a refreshing fruitade, cool and sparkling.

Sharing the banquet at the Rossmore and the subsequent hospitality of the Moore home were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Millen, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Gillogly, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brayton and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Somerby.

Tourists in North Have Pleasant Outing

Mr. and Mrs. Myron H. Miller and son have returned to their home at 1312 South Cypress street, after a 15 days' trip through northern California and Oregon. They took the Redwood highway to Eureka where they had the pleasure of a visit with Mrs. Miller's uncle before continuing on to Medford, Ore. They also spent a week in Merrill, Ore., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Penhall, former residents of Santa Ana who now own a large sheep and alfalfa ranch in that section.

Probably no part of their outing was more uniquely enjoyable than the "Glorious Fourth" which they spent in Klamath Falls where a typical old-time celebration of the national holiday was staged with a big parade, horse racing, etc.

Returning to the Southland, the Millers visited beautiful Crater late, and traveling south through California by the inland houte, stopped in Bakersfield to see their cousins residing there.

Topaz Crystal Shower Was Compliment to Miss Fern Flood

Engagement days of Miss Fern Flood, charming young fiancee of Norman Pixley of Pasadena, are being filled with pleasant events as her friends express their interest in the bethrothal and approaching autumn wedding date, in a series of thoughtful courtesies. The latest of these and one of the most charming, was the luncheon, bridge and gift shower at which Mrs. Ray Chandler and her daughter, Miss Kay Chandler, entertained yesterday.

A dozen close friends were bidden to the Chandler home, 302 South Birch street, where luncheon at 7 o'clock was to the accompaniment of unusually attractive features. Centering the one table where guests were assembled, was one of those fairy-like crystal trees, so smart an addition to a table's equipment. Its foliage was in the most delicate tones of pink and pale green, and the effect was lovely indeed. Demure bride place cards were a graceful gesture on the part of the hostesses, pointing to the October nuptials of their honor guest and Mr. Pixley.

Returning to the drawing room, where card tables awaited them, the guests enjoyed a spirited session of bridge in which Mrs. J. B. Tucker took first honors, with Mrs. Will A. Flood a close second.

It was when prizes were awarded in the bridge event that Mrs. Chandler and Miss Chandler took the opportunity of presenting the shower gifts to their honoree. As a result of her friends' thoughtfulness, Miss Flood added cocktail glasses, sherbets, goblets and several odd pieces, to the set of graceful topaz glass in etched design which she is assembling.

Sharing the enjoyable afternoon with Mrs. Chandler, Miss Chandler and Miss Flood, were the latter's mother, Mrs. Will A. Flood, Mrs. Richard Emison, Mrs. Richard Winckler, Mrs. Herbert Miller, Mrs. J. B. Tucker, Mrs. Loring Dale, Mrs. Lloyd A. Chenoweth, Mrs. J. K. Hermon, Mrs. Leonard Jones of Alhambra, Mrs. Jack Neville of Anaheim and Mrs. John McKittrick.

Educators Leave For High Sierra Outing

Leaving early yesterday morning for a vacation motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Kellogg and Mrs. Kellogg's mother, Mrs. Iva M. Webber, 425 South Ross street, were anticipating an enjoyable stay at U. S. Grant camp east of Terra Bella in the High Sierras.

The outing will be especially appreciated by all three, for Mrs. Webber has just completed her usual year of teaching at Julia Lathrop junior high school, while Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg, both members of the city staff of teachers, only recently returned from New York City, where they spent a year's leave of absence in special work at Columbia University.

Mr. Kellogg, former principal at Frances Willard junior high school, was working towards his Ph. D. degree in education, devoting his winter studies principally to administration. Mrs. Kellogg took her Master's degree in adult education and sociology, receiving her final papers on Wednesday just a few hours in advance of her departure for the north.

The Kelloggs returned to Santa Ana a few weeks ago, and while Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lund were in Seattle for a vacation automobile trip, occupied their own home at 2412 Poinsettia street. Mr. and Mrs. Lund returned a few days ago, and will again occupy the Kellogg home, as Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg are not quite certain as yet regarding their autumn and winter plans.

Summer Home at Beach Is Opened to Past Matrons' Group

When Mrs. J. W. McCormas and Mrs. W. Verne Whitson yesterday entertained members of Hermosa Past Matrons' association, they were privileged to stage their hospitality in the hospitable summer home of Mrs. J. R. Medlock on Lindo avenue, East Newport.

Needless to say the Past Matrons were happy to avail themselves of the opportunity to spend a day at the shore, and everyone seemed to be in unusually gay spirits. As a result the affair was one of the most enjoyable of the summer, while the luncheon, served buffet style by the hostess duo, elicited the appreciation and praise of every guest.

Colorful zinnias were used with cool ferns to provide floral decorations amidst which the Past Matrons held a short business meeting before giving their attention to amusement features. Mrs. Mark Lacy presided over this interval, which included devotionals led by Mrs. M. M. Holmes; roll call answered by events of current interest or charming bits of poetry, and an affecting interval of silent prayer in honor of the memory of a dearly-loved member, the late Mrs. Alice Tubbs.

For the remainder of the afternoon, the guests were divided into three groups, in accordance with the old adage that "birds of a feather flock together," and took part in an amusing bird contest. One feature of more than passing interest was the contribution on the part of each one present, to an impromptu program, the whole thing emphasizing the gaiety and goodfellowship of the occasion.

Another amusing feature was the installation of a group of chairmen and minor officers, to the accompaniment of much merriment. These included Mrs. F. D. Drake, Mrs. Theo A. Winbigler, Mrs. M. E. Gilbert, Mrs. P. L. Tople and Mrs. W. V. Whitson.

Rehearsal Dinner Held For Lowell-Dickson Bridal Party

A series of pleasant pre-nuptial courtesies in which Miss Virginia Lowell has had the leading role as fiancee of DeRoy Dickson, reached a climax last night in the final event preceding the wedding, the bridal dinner, presented at Las Ondas cafe, Laguna Beach.

The wedding of Miss Lowell and Mr. Diskson will take place tomorrow night in the pretty garden of the Jo Lowell home, 925 Lowell street, and last night's dinner party was a sequel to the final rehearsal of the nuptials, held in the early evening hours.

Miss Lowell and Mr. Dickson had assembled the members of their wedding party for the pageantry of the ceremony, which promises to be an unusually colorful and lovely affair. Whisking them down to "Our Village," they all enjoyed the elaborate dinner as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell.

A pink and yellow color effect was maintained by the lavish use of gladioluses and dinner tapers, providing an attractive table arrangement. Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell, their daughter, the charming bride-to-be, Miss Virginia Lowell, her fiancee, Mr. Dickson; Miss Lorene Porter, soon to wed Donald Nash of Hanford; Miss Charlene Lowell, Miss Martha Adams of Anaheim; Miss Veda Mitchell, Miss Georgia Belle Walton and Mr. and Mrs. James Dickson.

Arizonan Honored at Pleasant Affairs

While the majority of Southern Californians are following mountain trails and responding to the lure of the sea, in an effort to achieve coolness, there is a guest in Santa Ana, who revels in the arden rays of the sun, and never utters a word except in praise of the grateful warmth. This is Ray Hall of Prescott, Ariz., who arrived late last week to spend some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall, 305 East Tenth street.

While Mr. Hall is loyal to his home city of Prescott, asserting that as Arizona's famous "Mile High City," it is one of the favored summer resorts of the Southland, let he has been equally certain in his admiration for Santa Ana's genial sunniness, and has found the warm weather so agreeable that even sea bathing has had no allure.

One of the delightful family affairs planned in the visitor's honor was the dinner Sunday in his parents' home. Enjoying the pleasant menu were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hall and children Gene and La Von of Orange; Mrs. R. Stebbins, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall, and son Neal. Many other happy gatherings have featured his visit here, and when he leaves today for his home in Arizona, he will take with him pleasant memories of the welcome accorded him in extraordinarily sunny California.

Church Societies

First M. E.

The regular meeting of the First Methodist Episcopal Women's Foreign Missionary society was held Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. The session was opened with singing, accompanied by Mrs. Palmer at the piano; and was followed by devotions, led by Mrs. Allie Fitz, the subject of which was "Spiritual Mountain Climbing." This was followed by a prayer, led by Mrs. Horton Palmer.

According to a report made, there is a 50 per cent increase in stewardship membership. Mrs. Harry Hayes gave a beautiful rendition of "His Eye is On The Sparrow." She was accompanied by Mrs. Snow, at the piano.

Mrs. Wiltsie, program chairman, introduced Harry Lewis, who gave an illustrated talk on the local Methodist missionary work in the schools, colleges, and hospitals in South America. Mr. Lewis stated that much was being accomplished in our sister country by the Methodist organization. His familiarity with conditions there was gained on a recent trip which he and Mrs. Lewis enjoyed.

Epworth League

One of the merriest events occurring last evening came when members of the First M. E. high school and young people's Epworth League numbering 50 met under the oaks of Irvine park, for a steak bake. Following the serving of delicious juicy steaks, accompanied by all of the other good things that a picnic supper provides, games occupied the rest of the evening. A watermelon feast was a feature of late evening.

SUCCESS WITH ICINGS

The most aggravating thing a cook has to contend with is her carefully made boiled icing or fudge going grainy. The reason for this happening can be chalked up to too high a degree of heat, so, cook icing syrups or fudge with a heat just hot enough to keep them at the bubbling stage, or, add a small quantity of acid to the cooking syrup—one-half teaspoonful of lemon or vinegar to two cupfuls of sugar is enough. When an acid is not desirable, the same effect can be had by using 2 tablespoonfuls of white corn syrup.

I proved the truth of my statements in making that lovely 7-minute icing. When first I made it—under directions—it was perfect; the next time and times innumerable thereafter, I made it hurriedly and it was too grany to spread nicely and cracked off under the knife when the cake was cut.

I tried cooking it one minute less, but still the result was nil; then I hit on the idea of not having the water at a galloping boil and it turned out just as it should. Then I went still further and cooked it at the high temperature after adding the corn syrup (glucose) and had success, but not to the extent that was mine when the plain syrup was cooked slowly.

This is true also of syrups for boiled whipped icing: cook them slowly, do not stir and thus dislodge the sugar crystals against the side of the kettle. Test by dropping from the spoon tip. When a thin "hair" forms immediately, the syrup is done.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Clam Stuffing

4 cups stale breadcrumbs
Boiling water to moisten
2 well-beaten eggs
3 teaspoons salt
Pepper and paprika
1 teaspoon powdered sage leaf
1 onion, minced fine
1 large can minced clams
4 tablespoons butter

Scoop the crumbs out of a stale loaf, add enough of the crust cut in bits to make the 4 cups and over then pour boiling water to moisten. Drain off immediately and press out all possible moisture with the back of a spoon—you see the crumbs must be soft and fluffy.

To the crumbs add the well beaten eggs, the seasonings and the clam meat, drained off juice. Saute the minced onion in the butter, add to the dressing and mix well. If it seems a little dry use a small amount of the clam juice to moisten.

This is sufficient stuffing for a small turkey, or two chickens. Half of the amount will be sufficient for a boned shoulder of lamb, veal or pork.

It is impossible to give the individual calorie total, for appetites differ on the question of stuffing. The grand total is 1670, mostly energy calories, but who cares? This is a grand stuffing!

WAR FILM TO HAVE MIDNIGHT MATINEE

Due to the big demand made to see Universal's greatest war drama, "All Quiet on the Western Front," which has been showing at the Fox West Coast theater since last Monday, a midnight matinee of the show will be staged tonight, Norman Sprowl, Fox theaters manager announced today.

The picture ends its Santa Ana performances today. It was booked in here only for five days and it is by popular demand that it is being held over for the midnight show, Sprowl said.

The midnight show will start at 11:45 p.m. after the second performance in the evening.

"All Quiet on The Western Front" will disgust you with war. It shows the war of 1914-18 as it really was, not as it has been painted in scores of pictures made since that time. It shows the other side of war glory and war glamor. It take you down to the depths men sank while they were fighting in the trenches.

The picture, made from the book by the same name, written by Erich Maria Ramarque, is almost exactuy like the book. To those who have read it, it will mean seeing in pictures just what the mind caught as the eye read the print.

Thrilling, true, and sensational all though it is a picture that will be remembered here for a long time.

CLARA BOW SINGS IN BROADWAY FILM

Clara Bow has discovered that love is just as exciting among the millionaires as it is with ordinary folk, and the "It" personality is at its finest in the sparkling, comedy-full musical romance, "Love Among the Millionaires," showing at the Fox Broadway theater for three days, starting today, as it was when confined to the fleet in "True to the Navy."

Amid the clatter of dishes and the blatant tones of a nickel-in-the-slot piano, "Love Among the Millionaires" gets under way. Clara sings a song, "Believe It or Not, I've Found My Man." That's where Stanley Smith comes in and transports the Redhead to a fairy paradise of the wealthy at Palm Beach. But, even then, everything refuses to run smoothly.

Stanley has a father, Claude King, who thinks a son of the rich shouldn't marry a girl of the poor, and, likewise, Clara has a father, Charles Sellon, who declares no daughter of his will marry a wealthy man. While the old chaps get together, Clara and Stanley have a misunderstanding which almost breaks up the romance.

"Love Among the Millionaires" is one of the most enjoyable pictures Clara Bow has ever made, and Clara really gets a chance to sing. Those who heard the "It" voice in "Paramount on Parade" and "True to the Navy" will want to hear the Redhead sing "Believe It or Not," "That's Worth While Waiting For," "Love Among the Millionaires" and "Rarin' to Go." Clara sings with her voice, her eyes, her red hair, her whole body. She handles a song like she handles a man, with pep, personality and enthusiasm.

GO TO CAMP

Paul Horn, Bailey and Robert Shaw, Russell Knott, Earle Travers, Billy Dow, James Dabney and Franklin Sullivan were the Buena Park boys who left Tuesday morning for the North Orange County Y. M. C. A. camp for high school boys at Camp Osceola. Lester Schofield leader of the Buena Park Comrades, has charge of Cabin 2, Gene Moss of Somerton, Ariz., cousin of Paul Horn, and Donald Brown of San Bernardino, cousin of the Shaw boys, also accompanied the group.

It is now possible to photograph a bullet as it leaves the barrel of a pistol.

'LONE RIDER' AT WALKER THEATER

Thrill after thrill, and then some, are incorporated in "The Lone Rider," the Columbia all-talking "western" starring Buck Jones, opening today at Walker's State theater.

If there is one hair-raising riding stunt that this famous cowboy and his horse Silver do not perform, it is not on record. It all happened in the days of '49. Jim Lanning, the "Hell's River Kid," having quarreled with his gang, started out to rob a stage-coach single handed. His old gang got there first, and when Jim appeared and drove them away, Mary Stevens, the only passenger, mistook him for her rescuer. There was nothing for Jim to do but keep up the deception. He did and took Mary to her father, Judge Stevens in Gold City. How the judge rewarded Jim by making him a member of the Vibilantes, and how, after a good many stirring battles with his former gang, Jim proved himself an honest man and won the girl, are all depicted in a series of thrilling and dracatic scenes.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, July 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Applebury have been entertaining with a house party in their home a group of relatives of Mrs. Applebury's, which included her neice and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Noll and daughter, Helen, of Whittier, who were here five days; brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Abbey and baby of Victorville, and Mrs. Abbey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Turner of San Bernardino, who visited three days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Applebury motored to Pomona where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson. Virginia Jackson, the granddaughter, who has been ill so many months, seems to be greatly benefited by the change of climate since the family moved to Pomona and is able to be up and about the house now.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Heil and sons, and Mrs. Allen and Miss Cleo Allen who compose a vacation party east, are now in Kansas, following a pleasant trip through Oregon, Washington and into Canada. All were well according to late word from them in spite of the intense heat experienced.

Charles Parr, Jr., who has been very ill for a week with mumps and under a physician's care, is reported as improved.

ALL QUIET ON THE WESTERN FRONT

Have you seen "All Quiet on the Western Front?" We believe there is no moving picture that is making a more profound impression upon the minds of the people than is this one.

We read the story when it was first published, and read the reviews on it by those who knew, who declared it to be most faithful to the general facts. Certainly the picture is faithful to the story.

It is on tonight and tomorrow night. We make no apologies for urging those who can afford to do so, to see this picture.

Incidentally, we are privileged now to see some great undertakings depicted on the screen. The picture of Byrd's trip to the South Pole was one of them. We hope to see that returned.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" will be counted upon as one of the great factors in giving the populace a realization of exactly what war is.

Confessions of a Gangster's Wife

"My husband got sore and gave me a slap. . . . Stanley's wife came over and said 'Never mind, Peggy . . . any time the boys bring anything home, don't ask where it comes from . . . just take it and be glad you've got it.'"

(Sketch by Paul Kroesen.)

Plenty of money, many big parties, lots of jewelry and clothes while luck lasts, but in the end a futile, hunted life . . . such is the fate of all gangland's women, as revealed by one girl who went straight

Margaret Collins, alias Burke, alias Hamilton . . . became known as "the jinx girl of gangland" . . . Five of her sweethearts have died by gangdom's guns . . . and she is only 27.

As Told to BRUCE CATTON

By PAT ROCHE

Chief Investigator for State's Attorney, Cook County, Illinois

PRACTICALLY nothing has been written about the women of Chicago's gangsters.

They are a strange, mysterious crew. They're recruited from all classes and all walks of life. Some of them are the legal wives of the gangsters they consort with, some of them are the legal wives of other people, and some of them wouldn't know a marriage certificate if they saw it.

Some of them are cabaret girls, entertainers, dancers; some of them were street girls before their gangsters took them in tow; some of them come from good families and have a lot more brains and general background than you'd expect of a gangster's sweetie; and some of them are little dumbbells fresh from the country who never quite figure out what it's all about.

They usually live pretty high, while it lasts. The gangster has money and he likes to spend it. The women get fine clothes, jewelry and nice apartments, with plenty of spending money.

But—well, I imagine that if you could get acquainted with them, you'd find that their life isn't all moonlight and roses. I don't think there is any particular reason for envying them.

For instance there is—or maybe by now it's "there was"—a girl whom we'll call Peggy, though that isn't her real name.

Peggy came to me and told me her whole story. She and her husband had split up, and he was looking for her with a gun. So Peggy figured that the best thing she could do was get him safely behind the bars, and she came to me to tell everything she knew about him. She knew plenty, and we're engaged now in verifying her story and looking for corroborative evidence.

Dale Winter Colosimo . . . show girl wife of Jim Colosimo . . . He showered her with luxuries until the day he was shot to death.

FOR more than a month I kept Peggy under police protection. The gang knew she had squawked, and she knew they knew it, and all hands were agreed that her life wouldn't be worth a dime if they ever found her. So I kept her in hiding for more than a month. Finally, though, she wanted to leave—said she would be able to get away safely—and so she took her departure. I haven't seen or heard of her since.

Not long ago, when a woman's charred body was found in the ruins of a burned house on the outskirts of Chicago, I thought—"well, perhaps that's Peggy." I went out and investigated, but it wasn't. But wherever she is, I don't think she's very easy in her mind.

Peggy was a country girl—came down to Chicago from some place in Wisconsin. She fell in with a man we'll call Thompson, who was one of Capone's ace gunmen. At one time, in fact, Thompson had the job of sleeping in the anteroom of Capone's private suite at the Lexington Hotel. Peggy fell for him, and the two were living together.

Thompson was associated with Ralph Sheldon and Stanley Martin. Sheldon had at one time formed a plot with a politician named Newmark to get Capone out of the way. Capone had heard of it, and Sheldon, Martin and Thompson got orders to kill Newmark. They obeyed, Thompson doing the shooting; but after it was over they noticed that Capone's manner was pretty chilly, and one day Sheldon called in Martin and Thompson and said:

"Boys, it looks like Capone is going to put us on the spot, so the best thing we can do is beat it. I have lots of money, so you boys come with me."

The three promptly lit out for the west, by automobile; and I'll continue this story as Peggy told it to me:

"Stanley Martin's wife came to the house where I was living and got me. I didn't know where she was taking me to, and I was just slightly acquainted with her, but we drove to some part of Chicago and got Ralph Sheldon's wife, and from there we drove until we got to Kansas City. Next day we got to Kansas City and met the three boys, and from there we drove on to Dodge City, Kan., and there I married Thompson.

"From there on we traveled westward until we got to Los Angeles. At Los Angeles the boys were trying to get connected, and we spent about three weeks there. Stanley Martin's wife and I then started back to Chicago. She was in hopes of fixing it up with Capone so Stanley and Thompson could come back—come back to Al's gang, that is—because her father is a racketeer and her brother is with Al, too.

"We came back and we were in Chicago about nine days. I don't know what she was doing, because I never heard about any fixing or anything else, but finally she told me everything was set and that Al would take the boys back. So we got on the train and went back to Los Angeles."

In Los Angeles the two girls met their husbands at the post office and gave them the good news. Mrs. Martin said that Capone had promised to give them their old jobs back and had even offered to make up their back salary. Each man had been on the payroll at about $150 a week. Martin and Thompson were overjoyed. They got ready to start back for Chicago at once.

"I said," says Peggy, " 'Well, I am certainly not going, because I am all tired out after riding on the train for five days.' So my husband said, 'Get up and do as I say!' then that he was supposed to kill this man. Neither of us knew who the man was.

Peggy . . . got a job at a news-stand . . . supported her hiding gangster husband.

"So I said, 'Certainly not, I don't want you to do anything like this.' And I said, 'Why, you wouldn't do anything like that, would you?' And he said, 'Don't be silly, just say shall we go or not?' I said, 'Of course we are not going, I don't want you to have murder on your hands,' and I said, 'Let's go back to my sister's and get the rest of our clothes and we will leave town.'"

So, having pawned some jewelry, they headed west by auto. At Tulsa, Thompson was seized with a desire to write to Capone. Peggy continues:

"He had me write a letter to Al, and in the letter he said, 'Well, Al, you tried to get me, but you didn't.'

"I WAS kind of slow getting up, so he gave me a shove out of bed. So I got up and slipped a dress on over my pajamas and slipped a coat on, and we got our grips and went down and got in Stanley's car and drove away. We drove about 100 miles out of Los Angeles, I guess, when we stopped at a tourist camp. At this camp we took two cabins, one for Stanley and his wife, and one for me and my husband. Stanley brought in a brown grip, and they started pulling jewelry out of their pockets, pearls and two diamond rings and a diamond wrist watch.

"I said, 'Well, where did you get this jewelry?' I knew that Sheldon had promised to pay them so much, and had not paid them, so I thought maybe it was Sheldon's jewelry that they had got as their pay.

"So I said, 'Does this jewelry belong to Sheldon?' And my husband got sore and said, 'Shut your mouth!' and gave me a slap. Then I started to cry and Stanley's wife came over and said, 'Oh, never mind, Peggy, pay no attention to him; but you had better get smartened up—any time the boys bring anything home, don't ask where it comes from, just take it and be glad you got it.'"

After this lesson in the ways of gangland, Peggy and the rest of the crowd came on back to Chicago. They went to Martin's wife's home, in Benton Harbor, Mich., to lie low while Martin and Thompson made sure, once more, that they were going to be taken back into the gang.

Capone, apparently, still doubted Thompson's loyalty, and Thompson had a narrow escape—about the narrowest escape a gangster can have. He was called in to the home of Tony Lombardo, who was then one of Capone's lieutenants, and who has since gone the way of most gangsters with a bullet in his brain; and he sat in Lombardo's living room while two gunmen sat opposite him with their hands on their revolvers, ready to kill him if Lombardo gave the word. But Lombardo, after talking with Thompson, evidently decided that the young man was worth using some more; so instead of shooting him he gave him an assignment—told him and Martin to go up to Benton Harbor to kill a man.

PEGGY met her husband in downtown Chicago; and we'll continue the story in her own words:

"We drove down Michigan avenue and got almost downtown, when he said, 'Honey, there is something I have to tell you.' So he pulled the car over to the curb and started telling me.

"He said, 'Today everything was set for me, they were going to get me today, but some way they changed their minds and didn't give the signal, and I am supposed to go out with Stanley Martin and shoot a guy in Michigan.' And he said, 'What do you say, shall we risk it and go out there, or not?'

"Well, this was the first time my husband ever told me about his work or what he done, up to this time. I didn't know what his work was, with the exception he hold me he was a bootlegger and rum-runner. I didn't know anything about any killings until he told me

"SO,' he said, 'now you either come across'—I think he asked for $10,000—'or I am going to squawk.'

He said, 'You can't feel very safe with that McSwiggin murder on your hands.' And he said in that letter to Al, 'Send the money under the name of Bernice Manning to New Orleans.'

"So he drove me as far as Little Rock, Ark., and from there he had me take the train to New Orleans, and there I was to get the money that Al sent; but instead of sending the money Al just sent a wire to my husband and told him to come back to the gang, that everything was all right and that he should not talk like that.

"Well, my husband was too smart. He said, 'They will talk that way until I get there, and then they will bump me off.'"

But he still kept trying to shake down Al Capone. From city after city he dictated to Peggy letters that she mailed to Capone, each one demanding $10,000 under the threat of squawking. One letter, Peggy said, went like this:

"I am not the type that will go out and work with a pick and shovel. I have murdered hundreds and hundreds of people for you, and now, you dirty double-crossing louse, you had better come across with that ten grand or I am going right to the police and squawk. You know I am not going to work with a pick and shovel to make my bread and butter, so if I get caught stealing or anything I will squawk my brains out."

BUT Capone remained adamant, quite unworried by these long-distance threats, and he finally stopped answering them; so Peggy got a job at a hotel newsstand and supported the two of them. She remarked, "My husband said he could not get a job, but I doubt if he even looked for one." By this time, I imagine, she was learning that a gangster's woman can have a pretty hard time of it.

Then they kept on wandering, finally landing in Winnipeg. There they quarreled. Peggy evidently got tired of being the wage earner.

Peggy threatened to do a little squawking to the police on her own account. "He said, 'Will you?' So he reached for his pistol, but the pistol was unloaded, and I opened the door and ran and locked myself in the bathroom in the hallway. Then he packed his grips and left."

Peggy thereupon drifted to Detroit and got a job as a waitress.

"I worked there under the name of Anna Wilson," she explained, "because I had to work under different names all the places I went. They have connections with the Detroit gang there—almost all the Chicago gangs have—the gangsters in Chicago know me, you understand, and after I wrote all those letters to Capone, in my own handwriting, he knew it was me that wrote them."

One day, while working in Detroit, Peggy got a letter from her sister in Chicago, telling her that Thompson was looking for her, breathing out protestations of his love for her and begging her sister to get Peggy to return to him.

"Well," said Peggy, "I knew he did not want me back only for one reason, and that would be to get rid of me. So I wrote him a letter and I told him in that letter, I said, 'I am too smart for you. I know why you want me back.'"

Mrs. "Dingbat" Oberta . . . twice widowed by gangsters' bullets . . . "Big Tim" Murphy, her first, was shot down in his front yard . . . At his funeral she met his friend, Dingbat Oberta, later married him . . . He, too, was shot down.

AFTER mailing this letter, Peggy got to thinking; and she evolved a bit of underworld strategy of her own. She decided to send him a telegram that would keep him waiting around her sister's home; and while he was waiting she would go to Chicago and have him arrested. So she wired him: "Daddy, I love you. Wire me some money and I will come at once."

"The next day," she said, "I got the bus and came on to Chicago. I came right in to see Captain Shoemaker."

But it didn't do Peggy any good. Thompson, evidently, scented a trap, and the police were unable to lay hands on him. I protected Peggy for a month. Then she went away, and the Lord only knows where she is now. Her life is typical, and it doesn't seem to me a very enjoyable one.

Look out when you wake up tired and stay tired. Beware of headaches, unpleasant breath. These are usually the first symptoms of constipation.

The trouble is that your intestinal system is clogged. You have eaten too many bulkless foods. But you can clean your system safely, if you start at once to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a cereal that you can eat naturally. It sweeps the intestines clean of poisonous wastes. Far better than habit-forming pills and drugs.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—recurring cases with every meal. You'll like its crispness and flavor. Your system will benefit by its rich store of iron and healthful elements as well as by its roughage.

Ready to eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits and honey added. Use it for cooking. Recipes are on the package for muffins and griddle cakes. Sold by all grocers. Served by hotels, restaurants and dining cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

TAKE THE TIP BELOW

The precaution you observe in making hot biscuits is the one observed in roasting HILLS BROS COFFEE

You don't throw all the ingredients in the bowl at once. You combine them a little at a time and make a perfect, spongy dough. Hills Bros. roast their coffee by a continuous process—a few pounds at a time—never in bulk, and develop a flavor such as no other coffee has.

Fresh from the original vacuum pack. Easily opened with the key. Look for the Arab on the can.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

Safeway Stores Are Large Buyers Of Fresh Produce

While Southern California cities sleep, a small army of men labor industriously that the housewife, on the morrow, may have her choice of fresh fruits, berries and vegetables. And few they are who give even scant heed to the almost magical system of distribution by which they are enabled to select, at 8 o'clock in the morning, vegetables which may have been harvested as late as 7 o'clock the preceding evening at a point perhaps 80 miles distant.

Nowhere is the system of rapid and comprehensive distribution of perishable food stuffs more strikingly displayed than at the fruit and vegetable dock of the Safeway Stores in Los Angeles.

This dock, the largest in the world devoted exclusively for the retail distribution of fruits and vegetables, measures 100 by 480 feet, and besides the main floor has a basement covering the same area. On one side is siding trackage to accommodate 20 railway refrigerator cars, in two parallel rows of ten; all may be unloaded simultaneously. On the other side, for its entire length, receiving and shipping by truck is carried on, while down in the center are three immense Moore ventilated coolers for the most perishable goods. These coolers have a total capacity of six refrigerator carloads.

Apples, for instance, which may have arrived by refrigerator car in the afternoon, are transferred at once to the coolers to await shipment by truck at from 11 p. m. until 5:30 a. m., depending upon the distance to be traversed by the truck.

The Safeway system of food accumulation and distribution, as it applies to fruits and vegetables, is considered one of the most satisfactory solutions to farm aid that has ever been developed, and what it means to growers in Southern California can best be appreciated by the fact that Southern California division ships mixed cars of fruits and vegetables to Safeway stores at such far away points as cities in the province of Saskatchewan, Canada; Butte, Montana; Denver, Colorado, and also to points in Arizona, while straight cars are shipped to Oakland.

Southern California farmers who market their products direct to Safeway are assured a regular market, and, further, know upon acceptance of the shipment just what they will receive. Safeway, by providing a steady, assured market, is able to procure the very finest of fruits and vegetables from Southern California farmers at a price which means a considerable saving to the consumer, while the farmer receives much more for his produce. Safeway and the farmer meet on the middle ground of the broker's commission.

From near points the farmers send in their produce by truck, while from more distant points, such as in the Imperial valley, shipment is made by rail direct to the Safeway dock. An instance of this is one grower in the Imperial valley who has 1500 acres in watermelons. He loads full cars at his siding.

An instance of a near point is that of a farmer raising bunch goods on 210 acres near Los Angeles. In his case daily harvesting goes on up to as late as 7 o'clock in the evening, and the housewife buys his onions, carrots and the like at perhaps 8 o'clock the next morning at such distant points as Palmdale and Lancaster.

The Safeway system of distribution, however, permits of no "hauling of coals to Newcastle," for store managers also buy direct from their local growers whenever possible. Thus in Santa Ana, a great deal of the produce sold there is not handled through the Los Angeles dock at all—yet business at this immense perishable food clearing house amounts to between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 per year.

To accurately gauge the market, and to maintain the perishable food division at peak efficiency, ten girls daily (except Sunday) undertake the task of telephoning each one of the 549 stores in the Southern California system to ascertain their fruit and vegetable requirements for the following day. Each girl is responsible for approximately 55 stores. As the information is received over the phone, the orders are entered direct upon a form and then these are all recapitulated by quantities for each item by truck routes so that the large force that works while the city sleeps may assemble all orders in a minimum of time. When the order is completed, the trucks and trailers are loaded, and each store, in addition to a copy of the order, receives a market bulletin giving crop information.

Balancing the market for the benefit of the consumer and grower alike is one of the tasks at which Safeway has been particularly successful. When, for instance, strawberries come in nightly at a rate beyond the normal consumption (and strawberries can not be held in storage), the system cooperates to aid the farmer by advertising a special at its stores at extremely attractive prices for perhaps three days.

The housewife responds to this opportunity and thus 3000 crates may go out each night instead of the 500 crates which went out previous to the special. In this way the farmer is saved a tremendous loss from spoilage of his crop, the consuming public enjoys a rare bargain in strawberries, and the store system has balanced supply and demand.

Cherries, another very perishable crop, presents similar problems, and Safeway takes the same measures to protect both producer and consumer, for the system does not accumulate them in storage for speculative purposes. What Safeway requires in its operations is quick turnover at all times. Thus the stock is always fresh.

Too, in balancing supply and demand, Safeway often finds it expedient to ship the surplus to some distant point and in turn may receive surplus shipments from other points. Thus Pocatello, Idaho, may develop a surplus of potatoes which can very well be absorbed here, thus preventing a local market glut at that point.

Through the medium of newspaper advertising the producer is saved spoilage losses, for Safeway specials have been put on with only 24 hours notice, though usually a surplus can be seen looming up two or three days in advance. Hence Safeway, through the presentation of its message in newspapers to consumers throughout Southern California, is doing for local farmers what no act of congress is ever likely to do.

BAN HARD TIRES

ROME, July 18.—Heavy motor traffic equipped with solid rubber tires is banned on Italian roads as a result of a recent law brought about by Mussolini. The decree brought so many objections from tire dealers that a compromise setting the date banning tires ahead to December 31, 1931. The only exception favors vehicles making more than 20 miles an hour.

year, and reaches a high point of $307.81 as the cost per pupil in operating the junior college. Average daily attendance at the high school is 991 pupils, in junior high schools, 1319 pupils, in junior college, 398 pupils, and in adult education classes, 86 pupils. The cost per pupil in juior high school is $155.77; in adult education, $171.37, and in high school, $188.46.

Naturally the larger part of the receipts for all departments comes from state, county and district taxes, but one unexpected source of income that most school districts do not enjoy is listed in the elementary school receipts, amounting to $3109 from the sale of fruit. This resulted from the first sales from producing trees on several of the elementary school properties.

The statement of the elementary bond fund, of $465.00 that was voted last year, shows that a balance of $166,724.33 was on hand at the close of the fiscal year. Disbursements from the fund during the year after the money was received last September are as follows: election costs, $994.85; maintenance, $11.65; taxes, $648.13; land $50,067.95; improvement of grounds, $3214.91; new buildings, $151,718.29; alterations, $76,910.21; new instructional apparatus, $325.85; new furniture, $2965.13; other new equipment, $11,418.63. This makes a total of $298,275.67.

Interest paid last year on the eight outstanding bond issues for the elementary schools amounted to $49,165. These issues go back as far as 1909, and dun in the future until 1949. Yearly payments on the retirement of these bonds amount to $76,000. Interest paid on high school bonds last year amounted to $17,775. There are four outstanding issues in this dicision, dating back to 1909, with the completion date set for 1948. Yearly payments on the four issues amount to $21,000.

Analysis of the expenditures of all funds for the year, exclusive of bond funds, shows that teachers' salaries head the list with a total of $591,966.01, or a budget percentage of 70. Next in order, with a total of $69,363.46, or a little over eight per cent, is operation. Instructional expense, amounting to $45,789.83, accounts for slightly more than five per cent. Maintenance calls for 4.4 per cent, with an expenditure of $34,864.94. Other items with their totals and percentages, respectively, are shown as follows: auxiliary agencies, $39,164,03, 4.2; library, $26,213.45, 3.1; general control, $24,088.34, 2.9; fixed charges, $9610.76, 1.1.

Valuation of school property is shown on the secretary's report as follows: unencumbered cash balances, $219,500.51; stock in warehouse, $5389.32; elementary district properties, $1,312,896.65; high school district properties, $1,028,545.06; total, $2,566,331.54.

WORLD WAR SOLDIER FINDS SWEETHEART

KANSAS CITY, July 18.—(INS)—After a lapse of 11 years, when he served with the American Expeditonary Forces in Germany following the World war, J. E. Johnson, employed at a grocery store here, has found his old German sweetheart.

While stationed in Morbach, Germany, Johnson stayed at the home of Herr Dierks, and became acquainted with Pauline Dierks, his daughter. Johnson lost trace of Pauline when she returned to America, and believed he was seeing an apparition when the comely fraaulein walked into his store to order some groceries. He kicked over several pecks of potatoes reaching her.

The romance has been resumed where it left off in the Fatherland.

NEW YORK CURB

NEW YORK, July 18. — (UP) — Brisk advances in miscellaneous issues featured trading on the curb market in an otherwise irregular session today. Profit-taking sales depressed levels in many recent leadern, but buying operations went ahead in other sections of the list.

Glen Alden Coal was a feature of the industrial section, spurting more than 5 points. Transamerica corporation continued its recovery from the recent break with an advance of more than 2 points, but other investment trusts failed to respond and moved irregularly in a narrow range.

After scoring a further good gain in early trading, Vacuum Oil ran into selling that brought a 1 point decline. Other oils such as Standard of Indiana, Gulf and Humble, held steady at fractions above the previous closing levels.

Utilities backed and filled over a narrow range. Cities Service was well taken and advanced fractionally, reflecting the record-breaking earnings reported by the company for the year ended June 30. Electric Bond and Share was in supply at a slight concession. Niagara Hudson Power and United Gas new stock advanced fractionally.

PRODUCE

LOS ANGELES, July 18—Fruit and produce moved in about the same volume on today's market with prices weaker in several lines. Soft fruits, however, were somewhat stronger.

The apple market was practically unchanged with Gravensteins jobbing at 3-3½c per lb. on Sebastopol stock, with white Astrachans from San Jose brniging 2½-3c.

The avocado market was unchanged on loose local Sharpless and Dickinsons, which jobbed at 55-60c per lb. Fancy packed flats ranged from $8.50 to $11.00 on sizes ranging from 10s-30s.

The cantaloupe market was slightly weaker, with receipts of homegrown stock amounting to 7,280 crates.

Venice celery moved fairly well at $1.25-$1.50 per crate.

Cherries were in limited supply, with orange bings and Lamberts bringing 19-20c per lb.

Bakersfiled seedless grapes were weaker at 3½-4c per lb. Coachella malagas ranged from 3-5c, with red malagas at 6-8c.

Local white rose potatoes were steady, with brokers' sales ranging from $2.25-$2.35 per cwt.

The receipt of berries were light as considerable stock had been damgaed by recent warm weather.

Receipts of local tomatoes were heavy and the market slightly weaker. 5x6 and larger were mostly $1.25 to $1.35 per lug, few best $1.50-$1.75, an dfair quality $.100-$1.25. 6x7s brought 50-75c. Bakersfield, 5x6s jumbo pack, 1.25-$1.35.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, July 18—(UP)—Wheat cloed sharply higher on the Board of Trade today despite heavy hedging pressure and profit-taking sales. The undertone was firm and the seaboard was a good buyer. Confirmation of rust in parts of Canada was receivd, adding to the already very bullish reports from that country. Dry weather still prevails over the npring wheat sections of the American northwest with no relief in sight. Corn failed to hold the best prices but was sharply higher. Oats were firm.

At the close wheat was 1⅜ to 1⅝c higher, corn was 1⅜ to 2⅜c higher and oats were ½ to 1c higher. Provisions were weak on meats but strong on lard.

FUNERALS FAIL TO PROVE MIKE DEAD

CRESTON, Ia., July 17.—Two funeral services already have been held for J. B. "Mike" Dolan and he still is alive.

Dolan was living in Oklahoma two years ago when he departed to a neighboring city on a visit. Shortly thereafter a body was cut down from a tree along a highway and was identified as that of Mike Dolan, supposedly a victim of robbers.

It was several weeks before Mike returned and brought happiness to relatives who were sorrowful at his supposed death.

In January of this year a man registered at a hotel here as Mike Dolan became suddenly sick, was taken to a hospital and died within a few hours. Relatives of the Mike of this story who live here identified the body and again the funeral lines were read for Mike.

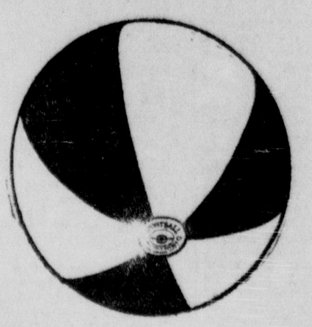

A few days ago Mike walked into his step-daughter's home here, as astounded to learn of his supposed death as were his relatives to see him alive. Mike had been working in Texas.

EVENING SALUTATION

Mercy to him that shows it, is the rule.—Cowper.

THE "RAGGERS"

One of the finest activities of the Young Men's Christian Association is that of the camp life which they carry on each summer. Scores of boys, with the secretary of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., enjoy two weeks vacation under the leadership which the Young Men's Christian Association affords. We are confident that it is the general verdict of parents, that not only do their boys, who are privileged to attend this camp, return with the statements of pleasure concerning the time they had, but we believe there is evidence of gain in their moral and intellectual outlook, and in those things that go to build character.

Constant plans are carried on to stimulate interest. Take one of them. There is within the group itself certain selected ones called "Raggers," to which all are eligible, under certain conditions. These boys are members of the California Rag Society, which is made up of boys and leaders who, at some one of the Y. M. C. A. camps in the state, have shown themselves worthy of membership in a society of honor.

Raggers are judged on the basis of their personal habits and conduct, comprising seven points: Health habits, participation in games, aquatics and the like; promptness, attendance at chapel and all occasions; cheerfulness; morals, clean speech, in life and in sports, participation in group discussions and character topics; trustworthiness; industry; and helpfulness, making the Golden Rule useful.

Raggers are chosen by a small, secret committee, usually consisting of leaders, and when satisfied that a boy measures up to the standards, the committee recommends him for the Rag.

This rag is an inexpensive neckerchief bearing the Raggers' emblem. Its value is because of the honor it confers rather than because of any intrinsic value.

There are five possible degrees in the Rag Society. First comes the Blue Rag, which is given to any boy or leader who is adjudged worthy. Second is the Red Triangle, an intermediate step for boys under fourteen who have progressed under the Blue Rag, or for boys under sixteen who have won the Brown Rag, and are not yet qualified for the Red.

The third step is the Brown Rag, presented to boys over 14, or to leaders, and this Rag can be won only by those who have in a previous year achieved the Blue Rag.

Fourth comes the Red Rag, a high honor, awarded only to boys over 16 years of age, or to leaders, and it comes only to those who have won both the Blue and the Brown Rag in previous years.

The highest step in the society is the White Rag, intended for young men eighteen years of age or older, and older leaders, who have progressed through the Blue, the Brown and the Red Rags in previous years, and who give evidence of a high degree of worthiness.

The boy who is deemed worthy of the rag award, when notified at the evening campfire that he is thus to be honored, has before him the task of memorizing an interesting and extensive ritual, which includes a number of useful Bible verses, and an inspirational poem bearing on the ideals of the Rag. When he is prepared, he is conducted to "Raggers' Point," a secluded spot near the camp, where he is inducted into the society and awarded his Rag in a ceremony of great dignity and high spiritual tone.

It is these things which put the meaning into the Rag for the Ragger. This is why he treasures it so highly, and orders his conduct in a manner fitting to a wearer of the Rag. It is only a rag to those who do not understand—merely a bit of colored cloth to be worn about the shoulders, but to the boy, it is his medal of honor, his Phi Beta Kappa key, his D. S. C. decoration, and he is under obligations to wear it always worthily.

The boy who wins a Rag at Y camp, and then orders his life according to its ideals, is going to be noticed in his home, in his school and in all of his contacts because of the fineness and tone of his character, and because of the thoughtful, unselfish quality of his daily conduct.

So if you see any boys wearing odd looking neckerchiefs which carry no particular meaning to others, but which seem to have a very peculiar significance in the minds of the boys themselves, with the insignia of the Y. M. C. A. in the corner, you may know that these boys are "Raggers."

We are glad for the camp life, for the benefits derived by the boys in all of its activities, which affect their character, their purpose and their achievements throughout life.

Once upon a time there was a newspaper reporter who covered an endurance flight and never once wrote in his story, "droned" or "zoomed."

A QUARREL OVER A CHAIR

Standing beyond the heat of a quarrel it is surprising to see what people will seriously fight for. Two men got into a fight over a deck chair on one of the Hudson river boats the other day. One man procured the chair and seated himself near his friends. The other man who had disputed the chair pulled out his gun and lodged a bullet in the chest of the man with the chair. The next scene shows one man in jail and the other in the hospital.

How would a man with a gun react if the other had said, "Here, sir, you take this chair. I will find another." Probably one of New York's gun-toters, as this man was, would have concluded that the other man was afraid of him.

TOURIST SPENDERS IN EUROPE

The amount of money spent by American tourists each year in Europe runs into enormous figures. As we have noted before this tourist expenditure does much to balance the inequality of exports and imports between Europe and the United States. Were it not for this large expenditure, Europe would be able to buy less from us, and she would have to buy on credit.

An interesting feature noted by one who has been making a study of expenditures is that the tourists from the United States have ceased to be the most extravagant spenders. There was a time when American tourists were largely of the extremely wealthy class, who threw their money lavishly about. This was especially true of the new-rich class. Now that so many thousands of our tourists are of the student class, who have barely enough to make the round and get back home, the European is less inclined to believe that every American is rich, and just comes over to be plucked.

The great spenders among European tourists today are the South Americans, especially the Argentinians and the Uruguayans. These two countries have developed in recent years at a rate greater than the United States. Fortunes have been made from live stock on the great pampas. This industry in turn has led to many industrial and public utility promotions in which great fortunes have been made. Having recently come into these fortunes, and not having traveled much in past years, these South Americans have all the flushness of the new-rich. Some of them are able to appreciate the art treasures and the ancient life of Europe; but most of them, like the new-rich generally, can appreciate only the extravagances of the cabarets and the cafes of Paris and the games of the Monaca, the Riviera and the expensive watering places of Europe.

Perhaps we shall hear less in the future about the ignorance and the peculiarities of the American tourist. The jokes now told about them may be told in the future about the tourist class from the prosperous South American states.

Lindy's son, an astrologer acutely observes, has a pronounced leaning toward aviation." Indeed, he's being accustomed to the milky way even now.

THE CHAMPION FLAG POLE SITTER

Ralph D'Agostino of Brocton has been sitting on top of a flagpole in Brockton, Mass., for 34 days, beating the record of one "Shipwreck" Kelley by eleven days. A seventeen-year-old boy nearby has been sitting on a telephone post with the hope of breaking a record.

Surely the spirit of adventure is abroad. If you cannot explore the Antarctic with Byrd, or fly the ocean with Lindbergh and Kingsford-Smith, or penetrate the hidden secrets of Africa with the latest big game hunter, you can sit on a flagpole; you can engage in a talking marathon; you can pass forty days without eating. None of these entails expense, and they are of sufficient interest and curiosity to get your name in the paper.

This is a great world. It offers opportunity for all. And each will draw to himself his quota of ardent admirers. Each may have a chance to get into the movies or the dime vaudeville. There is nothing that is beyond human interest.

When Is a Joke Not a Joke?

Fresno Morning Republican

No argument about it. A joke is not a joke, when it is a joke on a joker.

One of the best jokers in the United States is Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York.

Mayor Walker is one of the best dressers in the United States. And New York is very proud of the fact. It likes to see its chief executive appear at functions, even if a half hour late, dressed up to the minute.

But New York has never stopped to think why the mayor is a half hour late at functions, nor does it reflect on the means by which the mayor's shirts are never creased and why his ties are always immaculately crushed.

The mayor has a valet. Now Tammany Hall does not know or care, whether valet is pronounced valay or valette. And Tammany Hall is quite proud of the fact that Jimmy can meet either Bobby Jones or a prince of Sweden on terms of easy equality. Tammany Hall is proud to think that the mayor knows what to do with his hands and feet.

But Tammany does not like to think of the mayor's having a "man" to prepare his perfumed bath and to lay out his pajamas.

So when the president of the United Real Estate Owners' association wrote recently to the governor to complain that no true Democrat could have a bath, there was a stir in Tammany politics.

Now the busy little letter writer explains that it was a joke and that the sending of the letter was a mistake.

It was a terrible mistake, as the writer will discover when next he wants a building permit.

Women Rank High In Safe Driving

Pasadena Star-News

Women drivers are earning an enviable reputation for safety. A survey has been conducted which covered about 29 per cent of the total registrations of motor vehicles in the United States. This survey showed that women drivers constitute more than 23 per cent of the total number of persons operating motor vehicles on public thoroughfares.

This survey evinced the significant fact that in accidents involving 569,960 drivers, only 33,830 were women. On this basis, women drivers, constituting more than 23 per cent of the total number of drivers, were involved in a little more than 6 per cent of the accidents.

This survey furthermore showed that of the women listed as being involved in accidents, only 1494 were definitely responsible for the accidents of which they were victims.

Men have been driving longer than women. Male drivers, on the whole, perhaps have more expert knowledge of the mechanics of automobiles than do women. But too many men, having expert knowledge of how to drive, become reckless or careless, and thus precipitate many preventable accidents.

Women drivers, on the other hand, usually are scrupulously careful in driving, and thus avoid accidents. There are exceptions, of course. There are women who drive recklessly, or incompetently. But they are the exceptions, rather than the rule, among women drivers.

HERE IS PROGRESS

(Scientists have found that the human jaw is gradually growing smaller)

Though still of men of bone and brawn
We stand a bit in awe,
And gaze with deep respect upon
The makers of our law,
There notwithstanding is a trend
Toward skulls designed for thinking
For as our upward way we wend,
Our jaws are slowly shrinking.

Jaws once were built to ward off blows
Or wag in dull debate,
And once, as everybody knows,
Were built of massive plate.
But with the growth of intellect
And fuller brows and taller,
The human need in this respect
Grows gradually smaller.

Few iron jaws today we need,
The scientists maintain
They are of small account indeed
Compared to might of brain.
And better, in forensic fires,
A statesman who is clever,
Than one whose jawbone never tires
But oscillates forever.

So evolution has its way
As down the years it creeps;
The jawbone of the cave man's day
Will soon be scrapped for keeps.
Our brows will slowly bulge, because
Now we're no longer brutal,
Prognathous talking, fighting jaws
Have grown completely futile.

NOT MUCH HOPE

Those Who Won't Work

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

This spring an Indian knocked at the kitchen door of a ranch house in Nevada, in quest of a hand-out.

"Why, Joe," said the Rancher, "I haven't seen you for months. Where are you living now?"

"Me no living any more," grunted the Indian. "Me work all time."

"Work all the time!" exclaimed the astonished Rancher. "Where are you working?"

"Oh, mebbe me pick potatoes for Sam Springer next fall."

That is the attitude toward labor of a considerable number of unemployed men. And they are not all Indians. They don't want work: they want a hand-out. They think that Industry owes every man a pay envelope.

Some of them are not out-and-out loafers. They are willing to go through the motions of earning a living. They think that Industry ought to sit up nights thinking up motions for them to go through.

But Industry is not giving them a thought. The unemployed men over whose plight Industry is concerned are the men to whom work is not a penalty, but a privilege; the men to whom a job is something more than the worm in the apple of wages.

Industry owes no man a living. All it owes—and all it is determined to give—is the opportunity for every man to EARN a living. It refuses to subsidize shiftlessness; not while burglary insurance on the factory clock costs less than paying a gang of men to watch it.

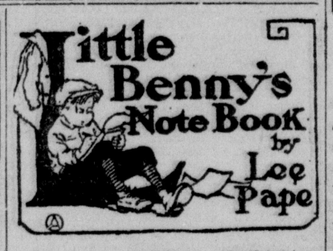

The great majority of our unemployed want WORK. They will cease to be unemployed the minute they can get their hands on a job. Their pay will be earned.

But some unemployed men are like the Nevada Indian. They could contrive to remain unemployed even on a Roman galley. Drawing is their one talent—drawing their breaths and their pay.

Whatever other meager exertion Industry gets out of them will be sweat wrung from them by "capitalistic slave drivers." These are the unemployed, fortunately few, that Industry doesn't give a hang for.

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

Pop was smoking and thinking, and I sed, Do you know what I think I bleeve Ill do when I get big? I think I bleeve Ill write a dctionerry, I sed.

You mite have werse amditions and you proberly have, pop sed. Werds are the most important and powerful things in the werld, and a conscientious dictionerry has them all. Before the invention of werds men had to communicate their thawts by grunts and bites and kicks in the shins, but now the various educated peeples of the werld can write long abusive letters to each other before they drop high explosives on each others cities. Nuthing can take the place of werds. One short word from a woman, such as No, has often saved a man a lifetime of mizzery. A few short werds from a young snip in a bank, such as, Your account is overdrawn, are sufficient to send the most unemotional man into peals of hysterical laffter. In fact it is almost impossible to exaggerate the power of werds, but I warn you that writing a dictionerry is no slite task. It involves years of study and meditation and application, he sed.

Aw G, pop, no, its a cintch, I sed. Thats just it, thats why I bleeve I think Ill do it, because all you haff to do is just copy another dictionerry, I sed.

Yee gods, you win, pop sed.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

CREATIVE CARELESSNESS

Wisdom is not born of the schools.

They merchandise knowledge with extraordinary effectiveness.

But humanity turns for wisdom to the intuitive insights of its transcendant geniuses of the mind and of the heart.

And when transcendant genius expresses its insights they so often seem to contradict the canny counsels of common sense.

Common sense is forever telling us to keep our eye on tomorrow.

We must, it tells us, sacrifice the little pleasures of today in the interest of the larger profits of tomorrow.

And when Jesus, with His divinely delicate sensitiveness to authentic as opposed to artificial values, suggests that we should "take no thought for the morrow" we do not, for the moment know whether to follow this prophetic counsel of carelessness or the practical counsels of caution.

Of course, in matters of business development and bank accounts, good sense tells us to follow the shrewd leadership of the Yankee trader.

It is foolish to spend on a day of pleasure money that might go to build the prosperity of a decade.

It is idiotic to indulge today in hilarity that will jeopardize the health of tomorrow.

But when we go beyond questions of financial prosperity and physical health, the doctrine of creative carelessness announced by Jesus takes on a reality we all too likely to ignore.

I give but one illustration.

We tend to rob our children of their right to a happy childhood by insisting that all of childhood shall be dedicated solely to a preparation for adulthood, whereas is as much a part of life as adulthood. And we are more and more coming to see that the best way to prepare to become a happy and efficient adult is to be a happy and efficient child. It is not wise to make one-third of our lives dreary on the theory that we are getting ready to make the remaining two-thirds efficient.

Amiel was but echoing Jesus when he wrote that "Life is an absurd gestation, a vain pregnancy, a perpetual miscarriage. We wear ourselves out preparing the swaddling clothes for a happiness about to be born."

The best way to prepare for the future is to live the present happily, efficient, and freely.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

FOOTLOOSE

For many of the thousands of graduates lately turned out of schools and colleges the world will take on a new and rather stunning aspect. Footloose for the first time in their lives, footloose and with the stern admonition to go forth and conquer ringing in their ears, they have no place to go, nothing to conquer.

With difficulty some of them find work. Others will go from place to place seeking "something to do." Finding work that will pay enough money to make it worth while, work that offers opportunity for growth and for higher service, is becoming more and more difficult.

"What can you do?" asks the employer.

"Oh, anything!"

That means the candidate can do nothing at all and nobody wants that kind of service at anything like bread and butter rates. Business demands something and usually asks for more than it is willing to give. Small chance then has the unprepared youth and maiden.

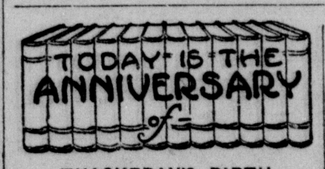

Our schools are not doing their full share to prepare the children, the youth of the land, to take up work promptly after finishing school. There is a distinct line drawn between life and school—with the idea of saving the children all idea of work in a workaday atmosphere is carefully kept out of school. That is not altogether wise, nor is it safe. We of America believe that every man and woman should pay his way. Then why not make it possible by training the children toward that result? Why keep them ignorant of work, practical work, until they face it unprepared, unready.

Somewhere between childhood and youth the next generation must be prepared to carry on the industry of the nation. The place to begin is in the junior high school. There the children ought to have the opportunity to experiment with various kinds of work and so have a basis for choice when choosing time comes. High schools with trade departments, colleges with co-operative departments that permit students to work in the field while they complete their studies in the college, must be organized against such waste as is now imperative because of the lack of preparation of youth for practical work.

Morgan of Antioch has the right idea, I believe. It is necessary that youth gain knowledge and culture but side by side with that instruction goes the work of application in the student's chosen field so that when he is at last footloose he is not handloose as well. He can do as well as think, act as well as dream, serve as well as know that it is well to serve.

When all schools make it their duty to prepare their students for a definite place in life and see them well on the way to filling that place successfully before they turn the young workers loose, we shall save great distress and sorrow in many a home. Isn't that what schools are for?

THACKERAY'S BIRTH

On July 18, 1811, William Makepeace Thackeray, English novelist, was born at Calcutta.

After attending lower schools, Thackeray entered Trinity College, Cambridge, in 1929, but left a year later without taking a degree.

Thackeray settled in Paris about 1834 to study art seriously as he had shown talent as a caricaturist. His pencil was at its best in fantastic work as is found in the initial letters of chapters as well as in drawings made for the amusement of child friends.

In 1837, he went to London and became a regular magazine contributor, illustrating many of his own sttories.

Thackeray, who had inherited a tidy sum, lost most of it in Indian banks, in having a good time and in two newspapers.

He became editor of the Cornhill Magazine in 1859, but resigned this post three years later.

Thackeray made his reputation by the "Snob Papers," in 1846, now known as "The Book of Snobs."

He died on December 24, 1863.

BILLINGS FILES NEW PARDON PLEA

Senator Moses Ridicules Stimson And London Treaty

SESSIONS TO BE HELD ON TWO NIGHTS

Efforts Being Made By Administration Leaders to Vote Within Week

CLOTURE ABANDONED

Reed and Watson Unable to Get Enough Signatures For Immediate Action

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(UP)—Objecting to what he described as "the indecent haste with which consideration of this treaty is being pressed," Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee and a Republican senate leader, condemned the London naval pact treaty and urged its rejection.

His speech was sharp and sarcastic. He finisned it with the remark that he was thankful of the opportunity to speak today "outside the shadow of the garotte," referring to the threat of cloture or night sessions made by Majority Leader Watson. President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson, Moses said, had "seriously offended the representatives of the American people" by the manner and method of placing the treaty before the senate.

Refuse To Vote

Opposition senators, among whom Moses is a leader, said today they would refuse to agree for a time to vote on the treaty.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, said he would remind senators they were expected to remain in session tonight as long as a quorum could be held and again tomorrow night.

Reed and Watson found they could not obtain sufficient votes to impose the cloture immediately and now contemplate holding their petition to attain a final vote Friday or Saturday of next week.

Although Moses said in his speech today he would support reservations and propose one amendment to the text of the treaty, he declared its complex text could not be satisfactorily handled in that manner.

Moses ridiculed Stimson as the "Laird of Stanmore," having reference to the country estate near London leased by Stimson during the London conference.

"We are handed the document (the treaty) with sparse and in-

GOV. C. C. YOUNG GIVEN BACKING OF DRY GROUP

Southern California W. C. T. U. Endorses Encumbent at Meeting

SANTA ANA AND Orange county members of the W. C. T. U. were home today from Pacific Palisades, where they attended the quarterly meeting of the Southern California W. C. T. U., Wednesday and Thursday, highly pleased with the action of the executive council yesterday afternoon in indorsing the candidacy of Gov. C. C. Young for re-election as the chief executive of the state.

According to Mrs. T. L. Warren, recording secretary of the Orange County W. C. T. U. and assistant recording secretary of the Southern California organization, the executive council members were enthusiastic in their recommendation for re-election of Governor Young, the members of the council voting 35 for Young and 4 for Buron Fitts. Each of the candidates had addressed the assembly the day before the vote was taken.

Frank Merrian, of Long Beach, was indorsed for lieutenant governor, and Dr. N. Len Hutchins, of Los Angeles, was indorsed for secretary of state.

Among those from Orange county attending the meeting were Mrs. Warren, Mrs. S. B. McClelland, Mrs. Mina Tidball and Mrs. Edna Leonard, all of Santa Ana.

Members of the W. C. T. U. from Orange who attended the W. C. T. U. day at Pacific Palisades were Mesdames Pearl Kendall Hess, Minnie Neville, Angeline Courtney and Miss Fludeen. Mesdames Hess, Neville and Courtney attended the state executive meeting of the W. C. T. U. held at the same place on Thursday. All of the party returned home Thursday evening, fully prepared to work for C. C. Young for governor.

"W. C. T. U. members of Southern California have just been waiting for this state executive meeting to present a solid front for the dry candidate that should be decided upon at that executive meeting, said Mrs. Hess. "When at last the vote was taken there were 35 votes for C. C. Young and four votes for Buron Fitts."

The action of the W. C. T. U. executive was the culmination of the action taken at previous sessions. In October, 1927, the state executive voted to appoint a campaign committee to look into the records of candidates for public office and present a questionnaire to each candidate on their stand on the wet and dry question. In January, 1930, the state executive voted to take no stand on any issue except the wet and dry issue and to ignore all straw ballots cast.

50 CASUALTIES IN BURMA EARTHQUAKE

RANGOON, Burma, July 18.—(UP)—Fifty deaths occurred today from a severe earthquake in the Tharrawaddy district, 60 miles north of Rangoon.

Many houses collapsed from the earth's tremors, and the village of Letpadan was shaken badly.

Recent earthquakes in lower Burma destroyed most of the city of Pegu, capital of the ancient kingdom, including priceless Buddha temples centuries old. Pegu is approximately 100 miles from Letpadan.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 18.—It is human nature to blame some one else for our misfortunes. When the people are prosperous we hear little criticism of the president. Support for him comes from all sides when the country has little need of it. But if prosperity diminishes thoughtless voices will be raised against him and his support will diminish when the country has most need of it. This is not only usually an unfair but always a short sighted and thoroughly suicidal policy. Under a parliamentary system the government could be changed. Ours is in for four years. Confidence in the president is almost identical with confidence in the country and in ourselves. With public support he can do a great deal to save any situation. Moreover, if he cannot save it probably no one else can. It may be proper for the opposition party in the press and the congress generally to oppose, but in the country at large all responsible people should seek to co-operate with the president in the discharge of his duties. He is the chief executive of all the nation. In time of conflict people are ugred to support the president to win the war, at other times the same principle may require that he be supported to win the peace.

FINANCE FATE OF GERMANY UP TO DICTATOR

Reichstag Dissolved After Members Rescind Old Dictatorship

BERLIN, July 18.—(UP)—The financial fate of Germany, which faces a deficit in the current budget of approximately $115,000,000, was turned over today to a dictatorship headed by Dr. Heinrich Bruening, young economist and chancellor of the reich.

President Paul von Hindenburg dissolved the reichstag by decree today after members by a vote of 236 to 221 rescinded the dictatorial financial powers previously bestowed on Bruening by the president.

The crowded reichstag was tense when after it had defied the threat of article 48 of the constitution which provides for a dictatorship, the scholarly looking chancellor faced it, pale and nervous and read the decree of dissolution in a trembling voice.

The Communists, defiant as always, marched out shouting the "Internationale" song. Their ranks were depleted by 10 members, in hiding now that dissolution of the reichstag has removed their parliamentary immunity and made them liable to prosecution for past treasonable acts.

The dictatorship now in effect is not like the absolute rule en-

Indiana Officers Receive Criticism

JACKSON, Miss., July 18.—(UP)—Indiana officers were criticized here today by Chief Deputy Sheriff John W. Roberts for publishing reports that Mississippi officers intended to arrest a woman believed to be Mrs. Belle Gunness of the "murder farm" notoriety as being responsible for her escaping capture.

Roberts said officers were prepared to capture the woman, known as Mrs. J. B. Smith, last night and that she escaped shortly before they were ready to take her into custody.

POLICE SEARCH FOR LOST MAN NEAR NEWPORT

Youth Who Drowned Wednesday Believed to Be Medical Student

NEWPORT BEACH police were endeavoring to identify the swimmer who was seen to drown in the surf off Fifteenth street, Newport Beach, Wednesday afternoon, as Jack Ford, 22, of Loma Linda, a medical student who was on duty at the Orange County hospital, it became known today.

The man's death was mysterious. Several persons on the beach reported that they saw a swimmer throw his arms up and disappear under the water. A strong rip tide was not noticeable at the time, and it was thought that the man was exhausted in battling the tide when he was seen to go down.

Newport Beach police last night found Ford's car parked near the scene of the drowning and a check-up at the hospital revealed that he had never returned there after stating that he was going to the beach.

Hospital authorities, also investigating the case, said that Ford had been working at the hospital as an orderly for the past two weeks.

Although efforts were made at the time to recover the body of the swimmer, by Newport Beach life guards and firemen, no trace of the man was found.

POPE PIUS TO TELL OF KELLOGG TREATY

VATICAN CITY, July 18.—(UP)—Pope Pius XI will express his opinion of the Kellogg anti-war treaty in an allocution at one of the forthcoming consistories rather than through an encyclical, it was learned from an authoritative source here today.

The Pope has been importuned by a number of governments to give an expression regarding the treaty. He was represented as answering that he was fully sympathetic with the peace movement of which it was a part, and willing to lend it his widest moral support.

He nevertheless believed, it was said, that the international situation at present was such as not to warrant his intervention.

BASEBALL RESULTS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 18.—(UP)—Babe Ruth hit his 33rd home run of the season today in the fifth inning of the New York Yankees-St. Louis Browns game.

Ruth's hit cleared the center bleacher roof where Gehrig had laid a homer only an inning before. There was no one on base. Sam Gray was pitching for the Browns.

In 1927, the year Ruth made his present record of 60 home runs, he hit his 33rd on July 26, also against the St. Louis Browns.

Only 8 Days Left To Register

Voters of Orange county have but eight more days in which to register for the primary election on August 26.

Joe Backs, county clerk, today issued an appeal to the citizens of the county to qualify for the right to vote.

According to Backs registration outside of Santa Ana is heavier than for years past while in Santa Ana the list of qualified voters is far below that of the last general election.

Persons who expect to vote at the primary election must be registered on or before noon on Saturday, July 26.

PORTER PLEADS WITH CITIZENS TO REGISTER

Candidate For Sheriff in Address Says Voting List Below Normal

CALLING ATTENTION to the fact that Orange county is about to launch upon one of the most important and spirited campaigns of its history, Leo Porter, candidate for sheriff of Orange county, in an address before a gathering of voters in the city of Fullerton last evening urged the citizens of Orange county to register that they might not lose their right of franchise.

In discussing the coming political situation, Porter said: "Orange county is facing one of the most important elections in its history, and yet an examination of the records show that never was Orange county less prepared to make an intelligent dicision. Orange county is 30 per cent under-registered. Most astounding of all is the fact that the records disclose a laxity on the part of the men to register. Old Building Will Be Razed Next Week

THE WORK OF razing the Masonic temple on the northeast corner of Sycamore and Fifth streets will start here next week, according to Dr. L. L. Whitson, chairman of the building committee of Santa Ana Masonic Temple association, limited, following the awards of contracts last night for erection of a new temple on the site.

The awards last night totaled $153,773, but additions that will be made under reservation imposed by the association will run the total cost up to between $170,000 and $175,000.

The general contract was given to S. N. Benjamin, Los Angeles, on his proposal to that portion of the work for $111,592.

Other contracts were assigned as follows:

Electrical, Robertson Electrical corporation, Santa Ana, $8715; painting, Pohl-Brown company, Los Angeles, $2468; plumbing, Hill and Son, $13,521; heating and ventilation, Hickman Brothers, Santa Ana, $17,477.

It is expected the construction will be completed by the first of the coming year. Dr. Whitson said that the general contractor has given assurance that most of the employes on the work would be Santa Ana residents, as he would bring with him from Los Angeles only his superintendent and foremen.

Five business rooms and the social room of the organization will be located on the ground floor. The second and third stories will be divided into three lodge rooms. A banquet hall, sufficient to accommodate 500 persons, will be located in the basement.

During the period of construction the Blue Lodge and the Chapter of Royal Arch Masons will meet at the Masonic lodge building in Orange, and the Order of Eastern Star and Knights of Templar will hold their lodge sessions in the I. O. O. F. building here.

The present temple building was started in the latter part of 1902 and was completed in 1903, dedication ceremonies being held in August of 1903. Linn L. Shaw was master at the time of institution and completion of the work.

The temple was erected by McNeill and Preble and cost approximately $37,000. The outside walls are brick veneer. Since the building was erected the Masons have acquired 25 feet additional frontage on Sycamore street and the new building will occupy all of the property owned by the Masonic organizations.

FLIERS TO CROSS ATLANTIC AGAIN

SANTA MARIA, Calif., July 18.—(UP)—The three companions of Col. Charles E. Kingsford-Smith on a recent westward flight across the Atlantic today prepared for a return journey within the next two months.

Evert Van Dyk, co-pilot on the flight from Ireland to New Foundland, now in New York, will essay the eastward crossing with John Stannage, radio operator, and Captain Pat Saul, navigator, the latter two announced here today.

Kingsford-Smith will not make the flight, it was said. He planned to return to England by ship and then fly a small plane to his home in Ireland.

Discuss Opening Glassell Street

Informally discussing the possibility of opening Glassell street in Orange to connect with Grand avenue of Santa Ana, thus cutting off some distance between the two cities, the Orange Chamber of Commerce held a meeting last night in that city.

According to reports of the meeting, it is the wish of the group to work up sentiment and present the plan to the board of supervisors. It is reported that another plan is also being considered, that of connecting McClay street in Santa Ana with a road to Orange.

156 YEARS OLD

Zaro Agha, below, is a Turk teetotaler who claims he was born in 1774 and has proof of the fact.

Zaro Agha Tells Reporters He's Not Here Looking For Another Wife

PROVINCE, R. I., July 18.—(UP)—Zaro Agha, who claims to have positive proof that he was born February 16, 1774, arrived today from his native Turkey aboard the S. S. Sinaia, not, he said emphatically, in search of a wife.

Reporters who greeted him expected to find a wizened old gentleman looking fully his 156 summers but were met by a rather affable person in conventional American attire—light gray felt hat, blue serge suit, and a bamboo cane.

He looked to be about 85 or 90, according to some, and the only indication of extreme age was his furrowed skin, which had taken on a somewhat leathery appearance.

Zaro Agha cannot speak English but his great-great-grandson, Ashmut Musa, who is 33, acted as interpreter.

"I want you gentlemen to understand one thing," Agha said, "and that is that I am not looking for a wife. I have had 11 wives and am now living with my eleventh, who is 64. I married her four years ago and I am very sorry she could not accompany me to America. She is back in Constantinople. We are very happily married and I want the good women of America to know that I am not in the marriage market."

Agha believes the husband should be the boss of his home, if possible, he said. He prefers brunettes.

Agha, who claims never to have drunk intoxicatiang beverage, said his purpose in coming here was not propaganda but to visit physicians, scientists, and hospitals in an effort to help find the secret of longevity.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS PERILED BY FLAMES

REDWOOD CITY, July 18—(UP)—More than 100 patients of the Canyon sanitarium, three miles west of here, were endangered late yesterday when a brush fire nearly surrounded the hospital.

The fire was brought under control only after the patients had been placed on stretchers and ambulances and hastily summoned automobiles had been backed up to the doors.

The flames had swept to within 100 feet of the sanitarium, which is for persons suffering from tuberculosis, when firemen from the Redwood City fire department and volunteers succeeded in quelling them.

The nurses of the institution were lauded for their bravery and ability in keeping the nervous patients quiet.

REHEARING ASKED FROM HIGH COURT

Should Billings Be Given His Freedom Governor Will Pardon Companion

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—(UP)—A new effort to gain freedom for Warren K. Billings and Thomas J. Mooney was made today when a petition for a rehearing of Billings' application for a pardon was filed with the California supreme court.

Applications for pardons for Billings and Mooney, serving life sentences for complicity in the bombing of a San Francisco Preparedness Day parade July 22, 1916, in which 10 persons were killed, were denied earlier this month.

Witness on Way

The new petition was filed as John McDonald, waiter witness who aided in convicting Billings and Mooney, was speeding westward from Baltimore to tell authorities that his testimony in the Billings trial in 1916 and in the Mooney trial in 1917 was false.

Although a new petition involves Billings only it is closely linked to the Mooney case because of a disposition by Gov. C. C. Young to consider the two as exact parallels.

Recognizing the "loop hole" provided by Governor Young when he denied Mooney's pardon application, the petition points out that McDonald will soon be available for a public hearing to tell his repudiation story, as the governor suggested.

This suggestion that McDonald be found was climaxed by the locating of the missing repudiation witness in Baltimore. The governor made the suggestion in acting unfavorably on the Mooney pardon application after the supreme court had declined to recommend a pardon for Billings.

Cases Alike

In each case the governor and a majority of the supreme court viewed McDonald's testimony during the trials as of importance and declined to accept a repudiation affidavit made by McDonald in 1921.

The reason Billings has appealed to the supreme court for a new hearing while Mooney has not is because the court must act favorably on Billings' case before the governor has authority to pardon him, while this is not true in Mooney's case.

California law provides that convicts with more than one conviction receive the supreme court recommendation for a pardon.

Postoffice Gets New Stamp Issue From Washington

A new two cent stamp, commemorating the anniversary of Braddocks Field, has made its appearance in Santa Ana and is now procurable at the local post office.

The new stamp has a red color scheme and has as its central figure, an engraving of Colonel George Washington, who first gained prominence as a young man during the French and Indian campaign against the British. It bears the date marks 1755-1930 with the distinguishing caption, "Battle of Braddocks Field."

FINANCE FATE OF GERMANY UP TO DICTATOR

forced in all governmental matters by Mussolini and other European dictators. It undoubtedly will not be used to any extent except to solve the financial basis.

Since the reichstag was dissolved without enacting the 1930 budget and after it had rendered the previous tax decrees invalid by its vote, the givernment will fix revenues and expenditures by decree. The program will entail a program of rigid reduction of expenditures and heavy new taxes.

The dictatorship will last for approximately three months. General elections have been set for September 14 and within a month after that a new reichstag will be convened.

A significant development in today's events was the new political lineup which will result from a revolt in the nationalist party led by Count Lestarp. He seceded from the party with 21 followers which with the 12 deputies led by Gottfried Treviranus, who seceded last December will make a formidable group. When they contest the elections, the party will be divided and other groups in the reichstag considerably strengthened. In eastern Germany the nationalist stronghold, it was believed the Westary-Treviranus group would be stronger than the original nationalist party whose leader, Alfred Hugenberg, is less popular among eastern land owners.

Movie Fliers Have Crash On Iceberg

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 18.—(UP)—A narrow escape from death on an Alaskan iceberg after their plane was forced down was told today in a message to the Radio-Keith-Orpheum film studios here from Captain Clayton Scott, pilot, and John Selby, mechanic.

The flier said their plane was landed in Icy bay, Alaska, and they clung to the iceberg for two days before they were rescued Wednesday. The pair suffered only from exposure, although their ship was wrecked. They were employed on a picture being filmed in the north.

Subpoena Issued For Grover Whalen

NEW YORK, July 18.—(UP)—Grover Whalen, former New York police commissioner, failed to appear before the congressional committee investigations commission at the scheduled hour today, and a subpaena was issued requiring his immediate presence.

Whalen is expected to tell what he learned about the Amto Trading corporation and communist activities, during his term as head of the New York police force.

NEXT TO DARE ATLANTIC

Six more aerial adventurers who expect to dare the Atlantic this season are pictured here. Four nationalities are represented among these pilots, and their plans include ocean crossings in both directions, employing ships ranging from a tiny single-seater to the giant DO-X, which here is shown in flight. A former U. S. navy officer, Lt. C. H. Schildhauer, upper left, will pilot the twelve-motored Dornier seaplane from Germany to America. Below, left to right are: Lewis A. Yancy, who expects to fly a Stinson from New York to Moscow; Capt. C. S. Wynne-Eyton, now waiting in Newfoundland to take off on a solo flight to his native Britain; Roger Q. conclusive statements of its purpose and are told somewhat superciliously by the Laird of Stanmore that we must take it or leave it in its nakedness," he said, referring to President Hoover's refusal to make secret negotiations documents public.

Denies Limitation

Denying the treaty provided limitations, Moses said it "spells naval competition" and would entail "unwarranted" expenses on the taxpayer.

Great Britain, Moses said, was not interested in naval limitation until "the American congress by overwhelming vote provided for 15 new cruisers." The United States made "all the material concessions" at London, he said.

Moses described Prime Minister MacDonald as the "charming and seductive prime minister of England" who had invited the United States to take parity "full and brimming over."

The senator objected that Japan had increased her naval ratio at London without the United States being relieved of the prohibition against further fortification of Pacific possessions upon which the Japanese acceptance of the 5-5-3 ratio in Washington in 1922 was based.

Mrs. Stimson heard Moses' speech from a seat in the gallery.

far outstripping the men in qualifying."

"The great register shows that an unusual condition exists in the various communities. Registration is especially lacking in Santa Ana. A few weeks ago Santa Ana a total registration of 11,798 as compared to a previous registration of approximately 15,000. Anaheim, Fullerton and the northern cities have a registration equal to or exceeding previous registrations. This condition, especially in Santa Ana and the Beach towns, can be corrected. It is your duty, not only to register, but to see that your family and neighbors are registered. You have but till the 26th of July to perform this most important civil duty."

Judge James L. Allen handled a full calendar in criminal court this morning, receiving informations in three cases, and hearing arguments for probation in four cases.

An information charging Ralph Stull with driving a car while intoxicated and failing to stop and render aid after an accident was presented by the district attorney's office. The offense was alleged to have been committed on July 4, when it is said Stull struck Pauline and Virginia Trickey and John Estes. His arraignment was set for July 25.

Ned Hernandez entered a plea of guilty when arraigned on an information that charged issuing a bank check with intent to defraud. Owning and operating a still was charged in the information filed against Jesus Galban and Panfilo Diaz. Their arraignment was continued until July 18.

Lauro Ahumado was granted probation by the court for a two-year period, provided he spend one year in the county jail. He proviously had pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary.

Theodore Beltran, charged with a statutory offense, was granted probation for one year, provided he spends six months in the county jail.

Ben Friedman, Anaheim junk dealer, charged with receiving stolen property, was granted probation for two years after a hearing of the matter, on the provision that he spend one year in the county jail. The jail sentence was then suspended by the court and Friedman was placed in the care of L. E. Miller of Anaheim.

South Africa has been expanding its poultry industry rapidly, a recent estimate showing more than 4,800,000 chickens in the Transvaal and Orange Free State.

Court Notes

Complaint for judgment on a promissory note has been filed in superior court against Robert D. Richards by the First National Bank of Artesia. It is alleged that the note, for $750, was issued Feb. 11, 1930, and is past due and unpaid. In addition to principal and interest the suit asks the court to award costs and attorney fees.

On a change of venue from Los Angeles county a suit was filed today in superior court, in which fraud, conspiracy and breach of contract are charged. The action was brought by C. O. Riedel against John Heaston, et al, and is based on a contract for dividing proceeds from an oil well located on property in Huntington Beach. Riedel claims that he was defrauded of a share of 10 per cent in the production of a well that is producing 130 barrels per day. He asks judgment for damages in the maunt of $30,560, which he claims is his share under the percentage agreement.

Petition to probate the will of John D. Humphrey, which was filed today with County Clerk J. M. Backs, sets the value of the estate at $3500.

A. value of $82,764.94 was shown in the report of the inventory and appraisement of the estate of John Awe, which was filed today by John N. Anderson. WYMAN GIVES TALK BEFORE ROUND TABLE

Members of the Santa Ana Round Table heard an address by Earl Wyman, well known Santa Ana business man, at the luncheon meeting today at St. Ann's inn.

Preceding Wyman's address, visiting guests were introduced. These included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colby, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kill, Chicago; Dr. J. Thacker, Orange; Carl D. Stuart, El Paso, Tex.; Mrs. Earl Wyman and Miss Haven, Santa Ana. A delightful musical program was presented by Mrs. Wyman, who sang two popular selections. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Haven.

The speaker was introduced by Herman Powell. Wyman chose as his subject "Personnel Work Being Carried On In Industries." He reviewed personnel work in the factories. He explained how the service has been so enlarged that it has become a vital part of the industrial organization.

"I think one of the most outstanding examples of personnel work in the factory is best illustrated by the work being carried on in an automobile plant in Michigan. There they stress the need of musical, civic, safety, educational, and pleasure pursuits and the efforts made in this direction have already borne fruit," he said.

Letters were read from O. D. Brundige, international president of the Loyal Knights of Round Table, who was a recent guest here, and from Mrs. Lois A. Pearson. President Brundige thanked the local club for the hospitality extended him while here and Mrs. Pearsons communication expressed thanks for flowers sent her during a recent illness.

REALTY BOARD CREATES LAND OWNERS' UNIT

The Santa Ana Realty board, at its meeting at noon today, at Ketner's cafe adopted an amendment to its constitution and by-laws creating a division of property owners and establishing the annual dues at $5.

The division has been created to offer opportunity to real estate owners to join with the real estate men of the state and nation in a campaign to relieve real estate from some of its taxation burdens, and the dues set here are sufficient only to meet the dues for membership in the California Real Estate association and the National association of real estate boards.

Officials of the local board point out that an increase in membership in the state and national organizations by the addition of property owners would strengthen the influence of the organizations in their problem of securing legislative enactments that would change some of the land tax for governmental purposes to other sources from which revenues may be developed.

During the business session of the board, L. E. Martin made the declaration that with present prices for lots and costs of building materials, men with money could build houses for rent and receive on present rental rates 15 per cent on the investment.

Martin pointed out that good lots could be purchased today at prices much lower than a year and two years ago, and he asserted that building costs are approximately 70 per cent of what they were two and three years ago.

George Munro, Santa Ana boy who won the nation-wide oratorical contest conducted by the First Presbyterian churches at Cincinnati, delivered the oration that won him his great honor. "Loyalty to the Constitution" was the subject of the essay.

Typhoon Damages Japanese Island

TOKIO, Japan, July 18.—(UP)—Kyushu, southernmost of the three principle islands of Japan, was today damaged by a typhoon that was sweeping over the island.

It was feared that several cities had suffered heavy property loss from the wind that struck with cyclonic force. Nagasaki, with an estimated population of more than 150,000 persons, Kagoshima, Sasebo, and Tshushima were reported to have received the brunt of the typhoon.

Communication lines beyond the city of Moji had been completely cut off. The wind velocity was increasing as it passed Fusan.

In a train wreck at Kokura near Moji ten persons were injured.

PARKER ESTATE APPRAISED AT OVER $240.000

The report of the inheritance tax appraiser in the matter of the termination of joint tenancy of C. E. Parker, who died last month, was filed with the court today showing a total net value of the estate after deductions, of $244,263.50.

The report showed that the fair market value of the estate at the time of Parker's death on June 19, was $58,906.80, divided into $3800 intangibles and $55,106.80 real property. The report also went on to list property that had been transferred to his wife, Mrs. Alice A. Parker, during his lifetime in contemplation of his death, valued at $188,586.

These included shares in the Orange County Title company, the Home Mutual Building and Loan association, the First National bank, the Tide Water Associated Oil company, and in the Santa Ana

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

The fact that you discard certain popular expressions or definitions of faith, be they ancient or modern, does not include the renunciation of what you believe. Down deep in your heart of hearts is your faith in a God of love and the certainty of the continuance of life beyond the gate of death. Men's endeavors to explain all this or to describe it or to draw conclusions regarding the future state, may or may not be of help or comfort to you. The conviction persists that your dear one lives and that you shall be together again. Walk bravely forward, for the future is sure.

OFFICERS GAIN HIGH MARKS IN PATROL SCHOOL

Out of a class of 48 at the California highway patrol school, now being conducted at Sacramento, four Orange county officers, sent there several days ago, were fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh in their grades, according to a letter received here today from F. G. Yoder, head of the school, and himself a former officer here.

The letter was addressed to Captain Meehan and in part was as follows: "I am indeed proud of your first consignment to the California highway patrol training school. The boys must have had some sort of uniform training before coming to the school, as they placed out of a class of 48, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh. This is almost uncanny, to think that four men from the same squad would be so close together on an entrance examination," Yoder wrote.

The four officers at the school are Oscar Kelly, Dan Adams, Ole Buer and Harry Aldrich.

Kelly and Adams worked at Lake Tahoe over last week end, the letter stated.

In regard to the training the men received here, Captain Meehan said that they had been grilled in special school sessions he has held for his officers here.

OIL CONCERN IS LAWSUIT VICTOR

The jury which heard the evidence in the damage action brought by Earl F. Findley against the Birch Oil company, required only 32 minutes yesterday afternoon to reach a verdict for the defendant. The trial grew out of a collision in Brea canyon between a car owned by the plaintiff and driven by his friend, Hoyt Moran, and a truck of the oil company.

The question of whether or not lights were burning on the car in which the plaintiff was riding was stressed by the defense, which contended that the lights were not operating and produced a number of witnesses to testify accordingly. A verdict on a cross complaint also was returned by the jury in favor of the defendants, but no damages were awarded.

Aged Olive Man Missing Today

Sheriff's officers and police officers today began a search for T. W. McCrew, 70, of Olive, who was reported missing from his home.

The report was filed here by Mrs. Earl Crawfort, of Olive; McCrew resided at the Crawfort residence. He left home early yesterday morning apparently to be gone only a short time.

McCrew walks with a limp and is about six feet in height, it was reported.

VITALITY WAS AT A LOW EBB

the little I ate disagreed with me. Nervousness kept me from enjoying sound sleep and I often had severe headaches. Five bottles of Sargon changed my whole condition. I eat hearty meals now without a trace of stomach trouble and my entire system is strengthened and invigorated. I sleep good and get up feeling fine! I never have headaches now.

Goetz Plans To Handle Own Case

Rudy Goetz, Santa Ana man, charged with resisting several Orange officers when they started to arrest him on a liquor charge at Orana, and who is being held in the county jail awaiting trial in superior court on the charge, probably will conduct his own case in court, it was learned today when he received at the jail a copy of the penal code and an unabridged dictionary.

Jailers said that he was to conduct his own case and that he had asked for the books—the code and the dictionary—in order to make preparations for his trial.

HOBO NEWS TO TELL ROUTE OF EASIEST LIFE

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., July 18.—The next issue of the "Hobo News" soon will be issued.

Jeremiah Boule, 56, weather-beaten and bronzed by many suns, is on a walking tour now, getting material. The latest stock market quotations won't be printed. Neither will the unemployment figures.

Boule, after all, has his public to please and he is certain it isn't interested in stocks or work.

In the paper, however, will be included:

What towns to avoid.

Towns where police are lenient.

Homes guarded by fierce dogs.

Homes where "and-outs" are freely given.

Harsh magistrates and bad jails.

All this, Boule insists, is of vital importance to his circulation. Although he has a college education and once occupied a comfortable position, this strange editor now is a hobo and argues he knows the pulse of his readers.

"In the olden days," he said, in explaining how the "Hobo News" was born, "tramps used to rely for their information on signs placed on gate stoops and at the entrances to towns, by men who had gone before them.

"That was unsatisfactory, for often these signs would be rubbed out, and I was constantly getting complaints from men who had struck bad patches in consequence.

"As I went about, I used to gather information of all kinds and it struck me that it would be a good idea to pass it on in some way."

Boule said he found a friend who owned a printshop and the "Hobo News" was born.

Store At Buena Park Is Looted

A quantity of cigarets, a slot machine and a gum vending machine were stolen from the store of H. Marxen, at Crescent and Frand avenues, Buena Park, some time last night, according to a report made to the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan and Deputy Sheriff Jess Buckles were making an investigation of the case today. The thieves entered the building by breaking out a window.

TWO INJURED IN TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Two persons were reported injured in two minor accidents here yesterday.

Robert Steinmetz, four, son of Mrs. Rose Steinmetz, of 207 South Artesia street, was cut about the head when the car in which he was riding with his mother struck another machine at Fourth street and Western avenue. He was taken to his home.

Jack S. Harry, 21, of The Mills court, on Bush street, suffered a severe laceration on the nose when his head struck the windshield support of his car in a crash at Walnut and South Main streets yesterday. He was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Methodist Choir Will Picnic at Hewes Park

A delightful outing is being anticipated by members of the First Methodist church choir, who will hold a picnic followed by a program Saturday evening at Hewes park. Mrs. F. M. Slabaugh, the director of the group, is in charge of arrangements, and has announced that those who are going should meet in front of the church by 6:00 o'clock p. m., and that transportation will be provided by any who wish it.

Miss Ethel Coffman is in charge of the dinner preparations, and Bert Rutter is planning the program, which will consist of various solo and ensemble numbers.

Fraternal Aid Union

Last night the Fraternal Aid Union at its regular meeting in Modern Woodman hall, felt quite complimented by receiving an invitation from the Los Angeles lodge to come to their meeting on Friday, August 1, and bring the drill team to initiate a large class. On motion the invitation was accepted. Transportation was arranged for and the team proceeded to prepare for the exercises.

Notwithstanding the heat of the day, the hall was cool and the attendance good.

The next meeting, August 7, will be an open meeting with cards as the program. A nominal charge will be made, proceeds to defray the expenses of entertaining the Southern California district convention in October.

RUSH WILL LEARN SENTENCE MONDAY

Pronouncement of judgment in the case of Noah Rush, who was found guilty today in Judge G. K. Scovel's court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, will be made next Monday morning.

The verdict of the jury, which was brought to the court at 10:55 a. m. today, carried a recommendation that the prisoner pay a fine and have his operator's license suspended. The jury retired to consider its verdict at 9:50 a. m.

A special venire of 20 persons was drawn to provide a jury for the case, as the regular panel had been exhausted in supplying jurors for two other cases that were before the courts yesterday. Members of the jury were Esther La Point, A. C. Reither, Elza M. Eagelston, George W. Angle, W. E. Chilson, J. W. Alexander, K. A. Ferguson, Kate Files, Anna James, J. W. Neiman, Cozy Stowell and F. R. Cline.

Deputies W. F. Menton and Leo Friis represented the district attorney's office in the case.

NEST ROBBER IS BEATEN BY BIRDS

AUGUSTA, Me., July 18.—(UP)—The local fire department was called out to rescue a tomcat which had become embroiled in battle with a flock of robbins.

Evidently the cat had climbed a tree to rob the robins' nest. When the birds resented the attack they swooped upon the feline, which retreated. Unfortunately the tomcat's retreat was not strategic. Instead of descending to the ground he climbed to the topmost branches and there became fair game for the enraged robins.

N. H. Plummer saw his plight and called Fire Chief McCurdy, who summoned Lon Hill, another fire fighter. The three managed to rescue the dazed animal, its body covered with cuts from the robins' beaks.

Police News

Lawrence R. Hood, 42, of Huntington Beach, was lodged in the county jail last night by Huntington Beach officers on a drunk charge. He was sentenced to serve 10 days when he appeared in Judge Pann's court yesterday.

SCOUTS LEAVE FOR VACATION IN MOUNTAINS

The fourth period camp of boys left for Camp RoKiLi at 7 a. m. today from the Scout headquarters on North Sycamore street. This group went in for the last camp conducted for the Boy Scouts at Barton Flat in the San Bernardino mountains.

This group of boys will enjoy to the utmost the added facilities of the camp in the use of the recently completed dining hall, provided by the generous gifts of the pioneer families of Orange county and also the new headquarters and infirmary building, according to George Walker, Scout executive. These improvements also brought about a new complete line for the water system and new plumbing and sanitation facilities for the new kitchen.

The program for the period includes a daily session in handicraft under the direction of Eagle Scout Kiyoshi Higoshi, a member of the Santa Ana junior college student body. Higoshi's leadership in the craftwork of the camp such as leatherwork, archery and other campcrafts has proven a most interesting and fascinating period of the day's program. The swim period also is a very popular hour of the day's program. It is under the leadership of Eagle Scout Fred Nunlist, of Fullerton. Nunlist holds a high rank as junior life saver with the Red Cross. Field Executive Henry Unmack, camp director, is Red Cross life saving examiner for Orange county.

Small groups of boys is organized for hikes in the mountains, such as Horse Thief trail, Forcey creek, fish hatchery, the new trail to San Bernardino peak, and visits to Dollar lake and Dry lake, all of which brings the boys into contact with new types of vegetation. The hiking parties are supervised by some adult and each hider has his buddy, and these two are instructed not to leave the hiking camp without one another. Every Scout has a number in the hiking line and it never proceeds on the hike unless every member is accounted for.

Usually the hiking group is lead by one of the Eagle scouts who has been in camp for three or more seasons and the last end of the line is brought up by an adult leader In all larger parties there are several adult leaders in charge.

The boys left this morning with a whoop and a cheer and looking forward to a 10 days period. The following scouts were included in the list this morning:

Glen Garner and Robert White, Troop 27, Santa Ana; Harry Durbin, Roger Dunning, Robert Dunning, Troop 29, Santa Ana; Franklyn Davis and Marvin Hinton, Troop 20, Santa Ana; Darrel Sabin, John S. Daughenbaugh, Jimmy Griffith and Tommy Rollins, Troop 5, Newport, and Elwood Choate and Nathan King, Troop 101, Brea.

The following boys are staying over from the third period: John Griset, 27, Santa Ana; James Pegues, 29, Santa Ana; Mm. McArthur, 10, Laguna; Norman Andred, 97, Brea; Richard Gilliland, 27 Santa Ana; Alex Lowe, 28, Santa Ana; Arthur Salisbury, 23 Santa Ana; Franklyn Munsells 29, Santa Ana, and Reynold Bullock, 32, Tustin.

Report Fire At Santa Ana Store

Much smoke and excitement but little fire and small damage called firemen to the Olive M. Duling Fur store, 218 North Broadway at 7:45 o'clock last evening.

The city's entire fire fighting force was called out to the small blaze. The fire started when one of the employes left the electric iron on. The only damage was the loss of the ironing board.

APHA BETA TO OPEN STORE ON FIFTH STREET

Another step towards the modernized self-service store has evidenced itself with the announcement that the Alpha Beta Stores, Inc., with a chain of 28 stores in Southern California, will open a new unit, 1502 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, next Thursday, under the managership of Albert Gaul.

The grand opening is scheduled for three days starting with Thursday and to commemorate the occasion, prizes, including a wide array of merchandise, along with elaborate food shows and demonstrations, will be presented, according to H. A. Gerrard, the company president.

The new store was completed at an estimated cost of $15,000. Each department is equipped with up-to-the-minute improvements and with an attractive black and white color scheme to complete the setting, there is nothing to be found wanting. The store is now open to public inspection.

It also was announced that the Alpha Beta Stores, Inc., will digress from its usual business policies by erecting a drive-in market at Whittier. It is said that this venture will cost about $20,00. The proposed project will be more or less of an experiment and if proven successful, additional drive-in markets will be featured throughout Southern California.

Panama is building a road, to be completed next year, that will open to development its richest agricultural region, capable of producing 75,000,000 pounds of coffee annually.

SANTA ANA MUNICIPAL BAND, WITH MME. MARIA CASELOTTI, APPLAUDED BY LARGE CROWD

An audience rivalling the record crowd in attendance at last week's program, gathered at Birch park last night to enjoy the vivid feast of Italian musical masterpieces presented by the Santa Ana Municipal band under D. C. Cianfoni's direction in honor of "Italian Night."

Featured appearance of Mme. Marie Caselotti, internationally renowned opera singer as soloist of the evening in itself proved an irresistible attraction. Many from neighboring cities joined local music lovers in a throng easily exceeding 500 people, paying hearty tribute both to the famous singer and to the local band, one of the Southland's most popular musical organizations.

Light spontaneity of Boccalari's spirited march "Il Bersagliere" made pleasing prelude for Rossini's more pretentious "William Tell" overture. This universal favorite was accorded a fervent reading, fraught with dramatic significance and poetry. Crash of the storm in realistic fury of powerful orchestration quickly succeeded the pastoral opening andante, the tonal volume gradually subsiding into a third theme of restored peace and harmony, its pianissimo hinting of shepherd's flute. Vigorously rendered, the allegro finale, with stirring forte passage-work, was accorded warm response from the throng, encored by that favorite Italian folk-song, "Funicula, Funicli."

Contrasting gems from Verdi's "Aida" were stirringly portrayed, the opening theme with fanfare of trumpets, progression of ascending chords, and accented brass redolent of triumph. Purity of the "O Celeste Aida" preceded varied themes, contrasted as to tempo and emotional content, the forceful well known triumphal march closing an interpretation marked by vigor and finesse.

Needing no introduction to local audiences who have anticipated her return ever since her first triumphant appearance here last November in the leading role of Verdi's opera "La Traviata," Mme. Maria Caselotti, internationally famous coloratura, was accorded an enthusiastic welcome by the responsive throng. Rare personal charm, expressiveness, and exceptional vocal talent contribute equally to this singer's definite appeal.

An alluring figure in chartreuse and gold, Mme. Caselotti chose for her first number the famous aria "Ah Fors' e Lui" from the first act of "Traviata," one of her favorite professional roles, bringing at once to her interpretation of the brilliant gem a crystalline tone quality, flexibility, and smoothness that are her outstanding characteristics. Continued applause won as encore the fascinating Spanish "Clavelitos," displaying to advantage Mme. Caselotti's silvery trilling. She was effectively accompanied by the band.

Contrasting themes from the familiar "Il Trovatore" (Verdi) composed the band's next selection, this melodic favorite exquisitely shaded. The realistic "Anvil Chorus," tragis foreboding of the "Miserere," and Cianfoni's beautiful trombone rendition of "Oh, I Have Sighed to Rest Me," with its wealth of feeling deeply stirred the audience. Sensuous melody of Drigo's "Serenade" generously offered as encore by Cianfoni, was an appreciated surprise.

An instrumental sextette, including as soloists Indreani, Di Lecce, Cianfoni, Hanson, Caso and Prokopp, lent pleasing variety in their presentation of that immortal old favorite, the "Sextette" from "Lucia" (Donizetti), followed by the equally loved "Quartet" from "Rigoletto," in which Indreani, Di Lecce, Cianfoni and Caso shared honors.

Reappearance of Mme. Caselotti in the brilliant Venzano "Waltz Song" dazzled with technical intricacies, the singers' sparkling coloratura and beautiful trills and arpeggi thrilling every listener. A lyric depth of emotion was touched by the artist in her appealing encore, the beautiful "Sweet Mystery of Life," bringing warm tribute from all.

Joyous grace and rhythm of Stefano's waltz, "The Flower of Italy" which concluded the progarm, seemed most typical of the wealth of melody inherent in all Latin music.

Expressing appreciation to Mme. Caselotti for the vital part contributed by her to the evening's success, Harry Hanson, president and manager of the band, announced that next week's concert would be designated as "German Night" featuring works from German masters. Appearance of the local ladies' chorus, the Treble Clef club, is also anticipated.

SECURES JUDGMENT AGAINST CHAMBER

Kittie Vandemark was awarded a verdict of $7500 by a jury yesterday after the trial of her case against the Anaheim chamber of commerce was concluded before Judge G. K. Scoval. The plaintiff had sued for $15,000, alleging that her property, which the civic body had purchased in 1922 and abandoned several years later, had been damaged to the extent of $15,000 by lack of care.

The victor first had sued for breath of contract as well as damages to the property, asking approximately $30,000, but later filed an amended complaint changing the amount which was sought. The amount of damages awarded is the largest that has been recorded in the court for several months. The jury retired at 1:42 p. m. and brought in the verdict at 7:40 p. m. The verdict was signed by August Stamm as foreman. A poll of the jury showed that three of the jurors did not agree with the verdict returned.

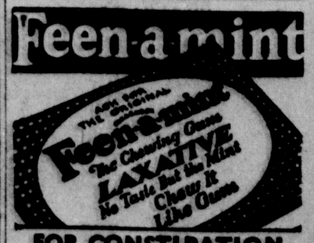

It is anticipated that the Anaheim chamber of commerce will appeal the case.

Rowlett Sent To Folsom by Court

James A. Rowlett, charged with burglary and grand theft, appeared before Judge G. K. Scovel yesterday afternoon, and withdrew his plea of not guilty. On a motion of the district attorney's office the first count in the information, burglary, was struck, and the prisoner entered a plea of guilty to the grand theft charge.

He entered the home of Dave N. Kelly in Lemon Heights on May 11 and took jewelry and property valued at $700. The court sentenced the prisoner to Folsom prison for the term prescribed by law, which is one to 10 years.

BROWN TELLS ABOUT RECENT TRIP TO EAST

An unusual number of interesting experiences made the eastern journey of Robert L. Brown, 408 East Chestnut avenue, proprietor of the Santa Ana Book store, a memorable and interesting one. Since his return recently from the trip, upon which he went as a member of the famous Chanters, to attend the annual Shrine convention in Toronto, he is regaling his friends with lively accounts of the journey.

Brown was one of several Santa Anans to attend the great conclave of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and like them, shared the varied features of the event with lively appreciation for the hospitality of the Canadian city. His later travels took him to Montreal, and at the little city of Cornwall, some 70 miles below Montreal, he left the train and met a brother and sister of Alex Brownridge, of this city. They made his stay very pleasant and later accompanied him to Montreal by automobile.

His interesting adventures began well in advance of his arrival in Canada, however, the most outstanding one having been in Chicago, where he arrived just in time to see the sensational U. S. C. victory won by Wycoff, and went around to the athlete's dressing room to offer congratulations.

While in New York City, the Santa Ana business man was the guest of Cameron Beck, who directs the personnel of Wall street, and met Summers, president of the Stock Exchange. He saw the Wall street crash, and was an enthralled onlooker at the resulting excitement.

TUSTIN

Miss Ida Spicer accompanied by Dan Gruwell, of Orange, returned this week from San Francisco, where they visited the Rev. Snyder home. The Snyders were former residents of Tustin. Miss Miriam Snyder accompanied them on their return trip, and expects to visit friends in this vicinity and Santa Ana for awhile.

Clarence Bowman, of West Main street, accompanied by his two cousins, Martin and Donald Bowman, returned home Tuesday, after a two weeks motor trip in the north, going as far as Vancouver, B. C. At Seattle, Wash., they met Miss Frances Bowman, sister of Clarence, who with Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Ferrey, and daughters the Misses Caroline and Jean, also of West Main street were returning from a month's trip to Alaska. Stops were also made at Yosemite and at Portland.

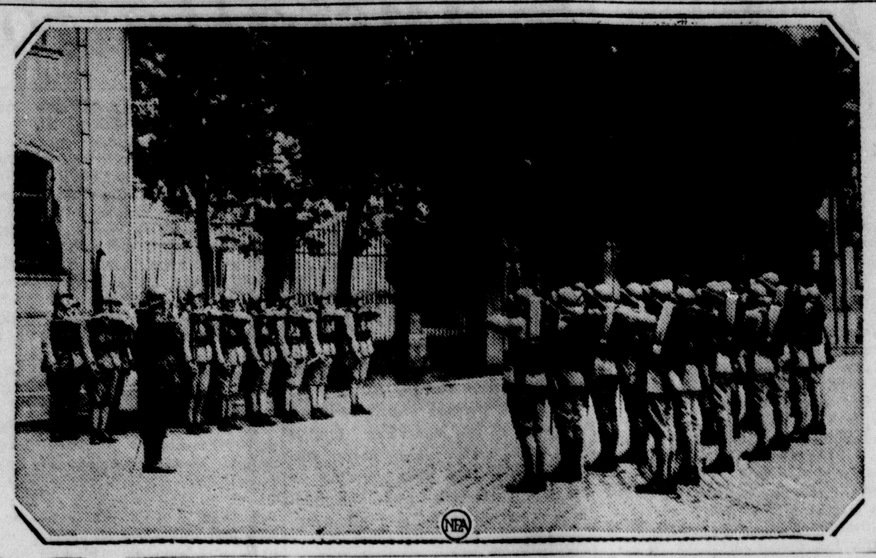

Mrs. C. E. Utt, Miss Marjorie Rawlings, Mrs. W. W. Tantlinger, Mrs. Sarah Brown, and Mrs. H. A. Ritner were among those from Tustin, who attended the Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention at the Pacific Palisades, on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Pollard and family of West Second street, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith and son Clarence, of Redlands, are spending this week at Convict Lake and Bishop. They plan to remain about ten days.

There is no "animal" life in the ocean beyond a depth of a mile and a half.

AS FRENCH TROOPS LEFT GERMANY

The eleven-year-and-a-half occupation of the Rhineland was being brought to an end as this photo was taken at Mainz, Germany. It shows the guard of French poilus being changed for the last time. Shortly afterward the French, British and Belgian colors were hauled down and the black, red and gold banner of Republican Germany floated for the first time in history over the Electoral Palace. Those who cheered loudest at the departure of the French were the approximately 10,000 citizens of Mainz who at last can move back into the evacuated quarters.

GETS PAID FOR TESTING HOTEL SERVICE. FOOD

NEW YORK, July 18.—(INS)—Does the unemployment problem hold terrors for Mr. Jo Dahl? Ask him. Look him up on the softest lounge of the Hotel New Yorker and ask him.

Mr. Jo Dahl is likely to mumur sleepily, "Go away. Do I get paid for answering foolish questions? My job is to take it easy. Go 'way."

And Jo is right. To the list of sinecures which include the time-honored "soft spots" of wine-taster and Easter egg decorator, Jo has added his own new specialty of hospitality tester.

His job will be to sleep, eat, dance, get shined, pressed and shampooed at the expense of the Hotel New Yorker—pity him, poor man—and all he has to do is criticize the service. A professional hospitality critic, that's Jo.

For a year at least he must periodically take up the task of playing guest—not paying guest—at New York's newest and largest hostelry. Jo does this with the eye of one who knows hospitality. He has lived in some three hundred hotels in this country and eight European countries, and as an employe he has spent the past 15 years in the business of making people feel at home away from home, in London, Paris, Berlin, Rome, St. Moritz, and other capitals of the world.

Here are the vital statistics on Jo: Since 1923 he has eaten 5041 meals in 1219 different hotels and restaurants. And his experiences, for the benefit of the profession, have been recorded in four books. In whatever time he can spare from traveling and writing books he is editor of a hotel magazine and associate editor of another.

When Puccini, the great Italian composer, was writing his first opera, "La Villi," he was so poor that he had to live on credit for four months at a tiny restaurant in a Milan slum.

KILLER TAKES HEAD TO JAIL AND CONFESSES

PEIPING, July 18.—(UP) — A Chinese policeman dozen outside the suburban police station at Wulitienchun, inside Peiping's walls. A Chinese man came along quietly, and asked to speak to the officer in charge. The visitor carried a small cloth bag.

The guard asked the stranger what he wanted, but he insisted, still politely, that he must speak to the officer. Finally, the policeman led him in.

"What do you want?" asked the officer.

"I have something to show you," said the visitor calmly. Opening his bag, he lifted out the head of a man, still dripping with blood. The policemen exclaimed in horror, and seized their guns.

But the visitor's quiet manner continued. "This is the head of a man I have just killed," he said. "I came home tonight and found this man in my wife's room. I have suspected my wife's fidelity for some time. Tonight I discovered her lover. So I cut off his head.

"My name is Chiang Yu-wen. I am prepared to surrender myself. I brought along the head to show you."

Having recovered from their surprise, the policemen accompanied Chiang to his home ,and found he had spoken the truth. He had committed the murder in rooms adjoining the restaurant he owns., He is now in jail, awaiting trial.

Legion To Hold Caucus At San Clemente Sunday

AUXILIARY TO HAVE SESSIONS AT SAME TIME

SAN CLEMENTE, July 18.—Spanish Village American Legionnaires have prepared the stage for the fifth area preconvention caucus to be held at San Clemente on Sunday, July 20. Plans have been made to entertain more than 500 visitors as the auxiliary of the area holds their caucus at the same time.

One of the features of the Legion week-end will come Saturday when the junior ball clubs of San Diego and San Bernardino clash on the San Clemente grassed diamond in the final of a three game series for the championship of the area comprising the five southern counties of the state, Imperial, San Diego, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino. San Bernardino won the first game, an eleven inning affair, 4 to 3, while San Diego took the second game played at San Diego on Wednesday, 18 to 2. The winner will play for the Southern California championship later. Both clubs will be housed in the Beach Club.

Eat at Social Club

Tom Guderian, commander of the San Clemente Post 331, states that breakfast will be served visitors at the Social Club at 10 o'clock in the morning. Pete Stavron will be in charge of the food assisted by auxiliary and legion members from the Spanish Village.

At 1 p. m. the area caucus will be held in the school auditorium while the auxiliary will meet at the same time at the Social club.

Many Arrive Saturday

Many have planned to arrive on Saturday and get in a round of golf, fish or go beach bathing. Others plan to do their playing after the meetings of Sunday afternoon.

Dish Welch, Riverside, area commander, stated that San Clemente was selected for the caucus meeting as it was the central point of the five counties. He looks for a record caucus attendance, the last one before the state convention at Sacramento on August 16 to 20. He believes that close to a thousand legionnaires, auxiliary members and families will attend the session.

Invite Candidates

James B. Burns, San Francisco; B. W. Gearheart, Fresno, and Warren G. Atherton, Stockton, all candidates for post of state commander of the legion have been invited to attend the Spanish Village session. There will be present other men seeking offices also and the questions to be voted on at the state meeting will be discussed and a policy taken at San Clemente.

FULLERTON, Jul 18.—Following a four weeks' vacation, City Engineer C. M. Thorpe and his wife were home today, telling of their trip throughout Montana and the Yellowstone National park.

They spent much of the time with daughters and their families at Billings and Bozeman, and at Medicine Lodge in the Bear Claw range at an altitude of 8000 feet.

Contract On Beach Shops, Gym Is Let

COSTA MESA, July 18.—George Irving Gordon of Newport Beach was awarded the contract for the erection of the shop and gymnasium of the Newport Harbor union high school by the school board Thursday.

These buildings are to be of frame and stucco construction. The original bid was $46,900 but some changes have been made under the direction of the architects, Marsh, Smith and Powell. Construction work will be started next week.

Work on the high school is progressing rapidly. Forms on the east wing are now being removed.

EARLY MANSION OF CAPISTRANO USED FOR MEET

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 18.—A meeting of the Capistrano Woman's club was held this week in the historic Les Resas, ancestral home of the Forster family. Mrs. David Ross, and Mrs. C. W. Billups acting as co-hostesses.

The large cool rooms and charming gardens of this sixty-year-old residence furnished the setting for one of the most interesting meeting of the current year. Various matters of business were disposed of, following which bridge was played by a number of the guests. Others drifted into the garden, where beneath the shade of a huge Cherokee rose arbor, they chatted and discussed club affairs. Like the home itself, the planting of the rose arbor dates back a half a century, to the day when this twenty-room brick mansion of the Forsters, was in the hey-day of its glory. Today the rose vine, which at its base is nearly as large as the body of a man, covers an area as large as a city lot, and is a thing of beauty in blossom time.

Plan Projects

A number of interesting projects are planned. Next Monday, the club will visit an up-to-date dairy plant in the vicinity to learn modern methods of handling milk. This trip is sponsored by the Garden section. Early in August the Literary section will sponsor an all-day picnic at Dana Point, with mid-day luncheon, and a swimming party to follow. The Home Economics section recently held a cooked food sale, which added to the growing fund for the clubhouse; this same section is now making a quilt which will be sold for the clubhouse fund.

About two dozen ladies were present at the meeting. Following the business session, and bridge games, the two hostesses erved delightful refrehments, on mall tables set on the lawn, under the arbor, and on the wide veranda of the Les Rosas.

$50,000 INCREASE IN BREA PROPERTY

BREA, July 18.—The recent city assessment at Brea showed a $50,000 increase in property values, according to the report made by the city clerk, Mrs. Grace L. May, at the regular meeting of the city council Wednesday evening. This increase has been brought about by building development.

T. Elwood Moore was present and discussed with the council the street paving on Deodora street, which is to be done by the Shell Oil company and the school board.

A report from the municipal plunge showed a decided increase in attendance.

Councilmen present at the meeting were Ted Craig, F. J. Schweitzer and W. C. Baldwin.

IMPROVE STREETS

LAGUNA BEACH, July 18.—Grading and surfacing of cross streets between the highway and Pacific avenue and the driveway along Pacific avenue, is to be completed during the season, under this year's budget of the county road department. Bayside drive, Park avenue and four of the streets have been completed, and the balance of the work will be completed during the present year.

MANY BEAUTIFUL GARDENS FOUND IN CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 18.—Many beautiful gardens beautify the homes in this vicinity, and many of the women of the locality find their greatest pleasure in working with their flowers.

Mrs. William McGee, whose beautiful home east of town has many rare plants, takes especial joy in a pool, surrounded by glasses and ornamental plants, and her young son, Billy jr., is especially proud of his cactus garden, with its 37 different kinds of cactus.

Has Greenhouse

Mrs. Henry Stewart has a greenhouse on her ranch, west of San Juan Capistrano, and her garden is a blaze of beauty, with its many flowering plants. A winding driveway from McKinley avenue, to the residence, is bordered by young palms, and cedars. The hillside between the street and the house is planted with oranges and avocados.

Mrs. Henry Case, who is a neighbor of Mrs. Stewart, is especially fond of ferns, and her husband recently completed a large fernery, constructed in a shady spot on the lawn. Built in artistic form, with jagged rock walls, and several levels, the fernery will shortly be a thing of beauty, as the many varieties of ferns are making rapid growth.

Has Fine Garden

Mrs. Susan Bathgate, who lives in the heart of an orange grove, north of town, takes great joy in her fine garden, her one specialty being to raise all the flowers she can, of as many different kinds as possible.

The gardens of the Los Rosas hotel, with their pine and pepper trees, their ancient rose arbors, their wisteria and trumpet vines and their beds of old fashioned flowers, offer a vista of beauty which changes with the seasons.

Watsonia Garden

Mrs. John Forster, whose handsome home southwest of town, dominates the view for miles, is especially fond of watsonia, and many varieties are found in her gardens.

Mrs. Guy Williams takes delight in her roses, and her especial mission is to keep these beautiful flowers blossoming. Many other varieties of flowers are found in the Williams garden, on the highway, a mile north of town, and Mrs. Williams and several of her neighbors vie with each other in keeping fresh flowers on the pulpit of the Community church.

Many Varieties at Mission

Chief among the local gardens is that of the Mission. Here, in an old world atmosphere, roses and lilies, quaint old fashioned garden flowers, cacti and bachelor-buttons, marigolds and Shasta daisies, all blossom and flourish in a tangle of beauty, nourished by the love of Father St. John O'Sullivan, whose life work has been the restoration of the Mission San Juan Capistrano.

Plans were also made for a watermelon feed for July 25.

Members present were Robert Fuller, Thelma Allen, Wynette Allen, secretary pro tem; Margaret and Juanita Seeber, Helen Willcutt, William Bremer and Bud Baker.

BAND PROGRAM GIVEN BY LONG BEACH GROUP

ANAHEIM, July 18.—The Long Beach Municipal band under the direction of Herbert L. Clark drew a capacity crowd at the Anaheim outdoor theater last night when it presented the program, the second of a series of eight weekly Thursday night concerts.

The balmy summer night was ideal for the occasion and was enhanced by the beauty which nature with the care of skillful hands has provided for the setting of these superior programs. The usual skill and training was manifest in the excellent rendition of the ten full band numbers and the trombone solo by Frank H. Gillum and the flute solo by Harrison J. Melhorn were above criticism.

Marsh Written Here

Special interest was had in the second number played, and since it was composed by J. E. Wallace, who resides at 535 South Lemon street.

Mr. Wallace, who is chief engineer of the Industrial Fuel Supply company, has followed music as an avocation only. The number referred to entitled "Golden Bear" is his only march. The manuscript was sent to Herbert L. Clark, director of the band, and he has seen fit to include it in his programs. Mr. Wallace wrote music for the extravaganza at the University of California during his senior year in 1914, and since that time has composed numerous songs and waltzes. He has made his home in this city for the past eight years.

Next week's program will be given by Michio Ito, Japanese dancer, and dancing troupe.

Coast Mesa Group Has Wiener Bake

The district decided to adopt the theme, "Our Higher Citizenship," for the coming year. Each club will have this subject in mind when planning programs for the year. Various aspects of higher citizenship will be discussed and clubs will hold forums on the subject also.

Mrs. Robbins thanked San Clemente for its hospitality and stated that she hoped it could be arranged to hold all summer sessions in the Spanish Village.

Latest Type Of Market Is Opened In City Today

SANTA ANA DRIVE-IN MARKET AT SOUTH MAIN AND FAIRVIEW IS FORMALLY OPENED TODAY

One of the most pretentious and thoroughly up-to-date drive-in markets in Orange county will make its formal bow to the public today and Saturday when the Santa Ana Drive-In Market, South Main at Fairview, celebrates its grand opening.

The structure was built at an estimated cost of more than $50,000, according to Roy Langley, its owner. Langley personally supervised the construction work and he has left nothing undone in an effort to give to Santa Ana one of the finest markets on the west coast.

The architectural design of the building is the customary L shape featuring a semi-Spanish type of exterior decoration. A beautiful red tile roof completes the setting. Ample parking space has been provided for patrons and there is a convenient service station which in itself sets a new standard in this field. This department will be in charge of Ray Graham, a Santa Ana boy who, before embarking on his new venture, was identified with the Radio Den, on Fourth street, and was for a number of years prominently affiliated with the Richfield and Mutual oil interests.

Graham has installed a late type greasing machine which is said to be a great improvement over the old style apparatus. He has announced that he will carry an exclusive line of oils and gas along with a complete array of accessories.

Altogether, in the main building, there are five attractive units. The grocery department, of which Joe Peterson, well known Santa Anan is proprietor, has been so arranged as to permit customers to obtain their merchandise without any unnecessary loss of time. This unit will feature the famous Smart & Final line of canned goods in addition to other equally well known brands. An elaborate line of staples including high quality butter, eggs and milk assures patrons of the best at reasonable prices.

Peterson always has been active in civic affairs and was at one time a member of the Community Players. He is a graduate of Santa Ana High school and for a number of years was associated with the Smart and Final Wholesale house, Santa Ana. He also is a member of the Lions club.

The meat and delicatessen department will be under the direction of Aubrey Dunbar, also of Santa Ana. Dunbar has had many years experience in this business and is well qualified to cater to the individual needs of the public. Dunbar formerly was with the Arcade market, Grand Central, and is well known in the community. Only the highest grade of baby beef, eastern pork, milk lambs and veal, along with lunch cuts and a complete line of delicatessen foodstuffs will be carried.

Vic Brandalise has an attractive site and will deal exclusively in fruits and vegetables. A modern cooler has been installed affording protection for the more fragile types of merchandise during the hot summer months. This particularly applies to berries, celery, lettuce, melons and others in this class. Only grade A merchandise will be carried and according to Brandalise an enticing scale of prices will prevail.

In conjunction with the market, a modern dry cleaning plant will be opened. This unit will be in charge of Ben Livesey, who has been engaged in this business for the past 15 years. Livesey has installed new equipment and will specialize in the dyeing of all fancy materials. His plant is equipped to clean suits, gowns, and other forms of wearing apparel, quickly and at a nominal cost. Livesey is a graduate chemist of Massachusetts Tech and is familiar with the various dye processes employed by German masters in this field.

As a special feature of the grand opening merchandise values amounting to more than $300 will be given away by the various merchants. The doors will be thrown open to the public at 7 a. m. Friday and will remain open until 9 p. m. The same hours will prevail daily.

STARS PLAY DANGEROUS PACKERS TONIGHT

Allison, Hard Pressed, Wins

U. S. IS VICTOR IN FIRST PLAY FOR DAVIS CUP

PARIS, July 18.—Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., defeated Georgio De Stefani of Italy by scores of 4-6, 7-9, 6-4, 8-6, 10-8, in an inter-zone Davis cup finals match here today.

The young Texas star made a sensational comeback after losing the first two sets to the Italian. He was unable to settle down at first, though he did carry he second set to extra games. He outed repeatedly and often drove into the net. Stefani, on the other hand, was playing a game of the Lacoste type, steady and cool, showing a great improvement over previous form.

After a particularly bad out Allison was heard to remark: "What's the matter with me?"

Allison gave the United States the first victory in the matches to decide who will challenge France for the cup.

There will be five matches in all, the nation winning three becoming the challenger. There will be three more singles matches and one doubles match.

The second singles match was being played this afternoon, George Lott of Chicago meeting Baron Humbert De Morpurgo, of Italy.

The doubles match will be played Saturday. Draw for this match was to be made later today. On Sundy, Allison will play De Morpurgo, and Lott will play De Stefani.

Whittier Quits County 'B' Night Loop

With Yorba Linda already having thrown in the sponge and Whittier failing to appear for its scheduled contest with Garden Grove last night, the Orange County "B" league, subsidiary and "farm" circuit of the National Night league, is about on its last legs, reports today indicated.

Interest has been apathetic in the "B" league at many points around the wheel, only Westminster, Garden Grove and Olive breaking anywhere near even financially.

What league officials will do about Whittier's disinclination to carry out its schedule is not known.

ALLEN DEFEATS 'WILD MAN' IN CLOSE CONTEST

Nursing an eye as black as the dragon's gorge, Jack (Kid) Allen today prized more highly than ever his welterweight championship of Cuba, a bauble he should have lost to a tough Mexican, Jesus ("Wild man") Macias, of Los Alamitos, at the Orange County Athletic club last night.

Allen was given an unpopular and unwarranted decision over Macias at the end of a 10-round main event that started slowly but finished in a turmoil of gloves.

Referee Steve Nyland, one of the finest judges of talent on the state boxing commission's payroll, kicked the decision. Macias deserved no worse than a draw.

Nyland, prone to few mistakes, booted another verdict after the sensational semi-windup. He gave Tony Moreno a decision over Jess Gabucco, but the little Filipinos was right in the fight and should have received more consideration.

Pernassas Squawks

George Pernassas, manager of Allen, almost refused to allow the Cuban to go on with the fight.

He had his charge in the ring under the impression that the bout was to go eight rounds, and when Announcer Emil Foust said something about ten rounds, Pernassas let out a squawk.

He was pacified after considerable argument.

Macias won the first round which was slow and uninteresting.

The action continued to be half-hearted until the fifth when Referee Nyland stopped the principals, warned them that he expected more fireworks.

Up to this time Macias had a shade. He won the first, third and fifth, drew in the second. Allen scored in the fourth.

Battle In High Speed

The sixth saw the battle in high speed. Abandoning their earlier caution, Macias and Allen tore at each other's throats. Macias carried the sixth but Allen, employing a nasty uppercut, piled up the points in the seventh and eighth.

Macias recovered his equilibrium in the ninth which he won. The tenth was even.

Register ringside figures gave Macias five rounds, Allen three, two even.

Nyland chalked down seven for Allen, three for Macias.

It is easy to rave about "best fights" but still it is safe to say few such thrilling encounters have been waged here as the Moreno-Gabucco rematch, a year old but as hot as soup.

The busy bantams punched each other dizzy through six torrid rounds.

Moreno Shakes Gabucco

Gabucco earned the first, fourth and sixth heats. Moreno took the second by a tremendous margin, shaking the Filipino to his heels with a series of right hand punches, and the third by a shade. The fifth was close.

Moreno did all the fight-making, and his aggressiveness probably impressed Nyland.

Three quick knockouts featured the preliminaries.

Mickey Koshell stopped Reggie Placentia, substituting for Mickey Thomas, early in the second round. The punch was a long overhand punch to the chin.

Cliff Burrier lost the first round to Frankie Hirsch, then finished his opponent in the second, scoring three knockdowns.

Benny Stinson, La Habra middleweight, kayoed "Bud" Austin of Los Alamitos in the first round of the curtain-raiser.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Babe Ruth has offered an excuse for having picked the Robins to finish seventh this year. . . . He says he didn't know much about some of the Brooklyn players when he made that prediction. . . . AS PENNOCK GOES

Ruth has been slapping that old potato to all parts of the city; so has Gehrig; so have all the other Yankees that drove from far down in the American league standing to the top of the hill.

"As Ruth goes, so go the Yankees," is a familiar old cry that has been revived. When the Bambino is in there banging away every day, the whole team seems to snap into it.

But behind the great campaign of the Yankees this year is another story, in which a fragile old gent plays the strong man's role.

CONTROL AND NOODLE

On May 20, the Boston Red Sox knocked Waite Hoyt, then a Yankee, out of the box. Pennock succeeded him in the second inning. From then through to the tenth inning, the Kennett Square crook-

OLIVEMEN BID FOR THIRD WIN OVER S. A. CLUB

Those pesky Packers from up Olive way, the "giant-killers" of the National Night Baseball league, come to the Santa Ana Bowl tonight for one last, long, lingering crack at the team they detest above all others.

Santa Ana has its Anaheim, Whittier its Long Beach, Riverside its Arlington, and—Olive its Santa Ana. Victory over the Stars is as sweet in Olive as the mellow, golden fruit packed in that thriving orange hub.

It is just another ball game as far as the Stars are concerned, but a highly important one as they all are for Herb Salveson's merrymen these evenings. The Stars are so near, and yet so far, from that second half championship, that they can't afford to stumble on any of the so-called second divisioners, like the Packers.

Cornelius Mound Nominee

Consequently, Salveson has decided to come forth once again, with Josephus Cornelius, the iron man kid himself, who has won exactly 15 times for the Reds while losing twice, both times to Whittier.

Cornelius beat Olive the first time he faced that team, but it took one of those old time Santa Ana ninth inning rallies to turn the trick and start the club on a winning streak that carried it to the top of the heap—now two full games ahead of the whole field of nine pursuers.

Darwin Scott, third sacker, cinched the argument with a timely blow in the last round that scored Randolph Bell, whose bingle had knotted the count. The final score was 3-2, but it was 2-1 most of the way. Olive won both its earlier starts against the home guard, first 51, then 3-2.

SINGER KNOCKS OUT MANDELL IN FIRST ROUND, HAILED AS NEW LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 18.—His arms outflung, his face distorted with unuttered pain, his sightless eyes staring up at the lights, Sammy Mandell lay stark on the floor last night and was counted out of his world's lightweight championship in 1:46 of the first round. Stricken, he lay inert and unheeding, with the doleful count of 10 sounding in ears that heard not and a referee's arm waving before eyes that could not see.

Over in a neutral corner stood the champion-to-be, Al Singer, of New York, chittering and gibbering with the hysteria of one to whom the fairy story of life has come true.

He literally was chuckle-headed with fisbelief at his own good fortune and, when the count reached ten, he leaped high in the air, his mouth working strangely and odd sounds issuing from his lips. He is not as graceful as Nipinsky nor as handsome as Barrymore.

But he is a good champion and he won as a good champion should—with the punch.

It was almost a Dempsey climax, this punch, a sort of one-shot bulls' eye that left the skipping, flitting human zepher that had been Sammy Mandell draped, all butlifeless, across the axminister. Thrice more the stricken man was beaten down and, at last, he lay there unconscious, never to rise again.

It took four knockdowns in less than two minutes to finish Mandell, first, because they come no gamer than Sam, and second because the flustered Singer had punched himself out and finally couldn't have dropped an empty night shirt with a monkey wrench.

He simply had nobody to lick after the first left hood had nailed Mandell on the chin for the original knockdown. To all practical purposes, the fight was over when Mandell arose, with drooping legs and dribbling lips, to face the young savage before him.

Only a question of minutes, you said, and then ,abruptly, you changed the estimate to seconds. The first punch had done it. The thing was a re-enaction of the moth and flame thesis. Too near for once and so out shot the licking, searing punch like a flame of light and it was all over.

Thus ended the career of a good champion and thus began that of another. The Bronx had returned its own to the seats of the mighty, where once the great Leonard sat and royally reigned to receive his subjects, and so a crowd of 35,000 avid home-towners raised a pain of joy by way of acclaim for the home-town boy who had made good.

The fight bore out in all respects the representations that were proferred about Mandell before he entered the ring. They said he was through and never a truer word was spoken. Mandell was so far through last night that the 8 to 5 and 2 to 1 that was laid against him was bare-faced skulldoggery. He didn't have a chance. He probably never had a chance from the moment the match was made.

YOUNG CORBETT IN TITLE BATTLE BID

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Young Corbett, 111, Fresno welter and recognized by the state athletic commission as the leading challenger, was in Los Angeles today seeking a title bout with Champion Jack Thompson, but with slight hopes of success.

The Negro titleholder has demanded $100,000 for a title bout with either Jimmy McLarnin in New York or Corbett in California, and such a price practically prohibits a match in the golden state, it was agreed. Matchmaker Wad Wadhams of the Olympic arena, said he believed Corbett's only alternative was to make the guarantee himself.

Earlier in the week the boxing board ordered Thompson to defend his title within six months, the order dating back to May 9, when he won the title.

WESTMINSTER 4-0 VICTOR OVER OLIVE

Francis Penhall's fast Westminster baseball team stepped out and won itself another game—its ninth in ten starts since the beginning of the second half of the Orange County "B" league's split season—on the Westminster lot last night.

DeBusk blanked the Olive Bees, 4 to 0, alolwing the invaders only four hits and striking out 13.

His colleagues got two runs in the fourth on Gardner's single, Sauers' triple and Penhall's single; two in the fifth on Campbell's single and stolen base, McGuire's walk and Gardner's double, and another in the sixth on Burns' hit, two stolen bases and a wild pitch.

BUILDERS ROUT PRINTERS, TIE FOR CITY FLAG

Deadlocked again, the Dennis Printers and Orange County Builders' exchange night baseball teams today were further than ever away from determining which was champion of the first half of the Santa Ana City league's split season.

Defying the critics who picked 'em to lose, Franklin Nickey's Builders defeated the Printers, 5 to 3, in the Bowl last night, in a game that officially completed the regular schedule for the first half.

Both teams won seven games, lost two. Kenneth Morrison, president of the City league commission, said that Managers Nickey and Carlyle Dennis would get together with the commissioners and decide whether a one or three-game playoff would eliminate the tie.

A two-run rally in the seventh and last inning gave the Builders victory, although it was slovenly handling of the ball by the Printers that really caused the bulk of the damage. Going into the windup round in a 3-3 tie, Roy Heard opened with a single and Jim Coulson followed with another. Both runners went all the way around the four-base circuit when the Printers threw wildly to bases ahead of them.

Previously, the Builders got two in the second frame when Nickey singled and Wayne Vance was safe on a fielder's choice, Harless' single and wild patches brought them around. Wendell Vance's single and wild throws gave the Nickey gang its other counter in the sixth.

The Printers got a pair in the first on hits by English, Elliott and Everett Lutz, and another in the third on English's hit, wild pitches and an infield out.

HOLLLYOOD, July 18.—With 2 to 1 odds favoring him, Goldie Hess tonight meets Richie King, in a 10-round bout at the Hollywood Legion stadium. Hess, one of the hardest hitting lightweights on the coast, was the favorite due to his decision over Johnny Lamar at the Olympic two weeks ago.

King is known as a clever boxer but lacking in a championship punch.

Cornelius after the first inning. Few teams do. The former Imperial valley boy always gets away from the post poorly, almost every team nicking him for a run or two, but once "Jumping Joe" gets his bearings he is a tough hombre in the pitcher's box. Furthermore he seems to thrive on plenty of work, apparently slinging better under the two-a-week schedule.

Two changes in the lineup that started against Long Beach are probable.

One would find at first base Johnny Lutz, a Santa Ana boy who was with Orange early in the season and hit right along with the leaders during the first half of the season.

The other calls for Scott to take third base. Salveson has been using Scott and Bill Hunter at the hot corner alternately, and Hunter saw service last Tuesday.

Heman Is Olive Choice

Wilcox will catch with Leavitt Daley at second base and "Memphy" Hill at short. Wayne Nelson, hero of the Long Beach thriller; "Rosy" Merrill, who is in the midst of a great batting spree, and the ever reliable Randolph Bell are sure starters in the pastures.

Olive has groomed Rudy Heman for tonight's battle. He has always been a tough nut for the Stars, especially their right hand hitters, although tonight there won't be many of the orthodox swingers in the home batting order. Freddy Guenther, who stopped the Stars once this year and blanked Huntington Beach with three hits Tuesday, may get a chance to do the pitching. Thomas, former Fullerton gunner, is a third member of the Packer deceiving staff.

The only other league game where an upset is possible will be played at Anaheim. Garden Grove, a troublemaker for any of 'em, invades the Colony and a Pepper victory would not be surprising. Ochoa probably will pitch for Anaheim, Morrill for Garden Grove.

La Habra Meets Orange

La Habra goes to Orange and the tailenders are not likely to give Chico Sabella much competition.

Whittier meets Fullerton at Whittier. There will be no such reversal of dope as there was the lest time the teams met. Whittier will win this time—just about as it pleases.

Long Beach goes to Huntington Beach and the Acorns are heavily favored over their old pitching partner, Howard Morning.

Standings follow:

ed arm held the Red Sox at bay, granting never a run. His mates won the game in the tenth.

Since then Pennock has been a regular starter and a regular finisher for the Yankees. With no semblance of a fast ball, he has stood the visiting firemen on their ears, winning his games by sheer control and craftsmanship. In 66 consecutive innings he issued just four bases on balls. He stopped Detroit with five hits.

Down at St. Petersburg in the spring, Bob Shawkey told me:

"I am placing a great deal of faith in Pennock. He hasn't pitched 17 years in this league for nothing. All that arm needs is control. His head will take care of the rest."

It begins to appear Shawkey made a sound prediction.

THAT "CANARY" GUY

"I will send my nigger out to bust that Canary guy right between the eyes," spake Jimmy Dougherty, the Baron of Leiperville, on the eve of the tussle between Godfrey and Carnera.

That's what Gawge did. But it din't take. Gwage busted that Canary guy between the eyes so often that he got sick and tired of bustin'. When Big Gawge found that bustin' the Canary guy between the eyes was much like slapping a fireplug with a tack-hammer he just naturally folded right up hisse'f, swung one into forbidden territory and went home to his giblets and po'k chops.

And now look at the Canary guy! Isn't he just the great big shot, though? Ho, ho! and a brace of tee hee's!

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

High in the list of American stockholders in the firm of the Carnera Beef company, Unlimited, is Mr. Ownie Madden . . . who has quite a persuasive way with box fighters . . . another is Mr. Will Duffy, who operates aside from his Carnera Circus, several night clubs of this sort and that. . . . Still another holder of stock in the Carnera enterprises is Mr. Goodtime Charley Freedman. . . . The Carnera offices in New York City are next to the office of Mr. Joseph Jacobs, but of course that may mean nothing at all. . . . Still another gent associated in the Primo promotion is Leon See, a Frenchman. . . . Another in the party is Pete (the Goat) Stone, but he is probably only an employe at this writing. . . . Altogether quite a fine looking body of men.

P. E. AND MOTOR TRANSIT MERGE IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 18.—Additional service features for patrons of both Pacific Electric and Motor Transit lines in this district are urged in the recommendations of the state railroad commission which has just announced its decision relative to the Pacific Electric reducing its passenger service on the Los Angeles-Fullerton and Yorba Linda lines, according to Harry May, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, who received the report.

The commission has granted the major portion of the application for the reduction from ten passenger trains a day to three cars to and from Los Angeles.

Interchange of tickets between the Motor Transit and Pacific Electric in this district is one of the points on which the commission requested action to be taken. The comment of the commission on the service follows in part:

Commission Report

"Following a review of the evidence presented, we are of the opinion that a number of the present schedules are not reasonably required for the public service, as evidenced by the may trips on which no passengers are carried. The existing auto stage service of Motor Transit company, which is substantially similar as to running time and fare and materially better as to frequency of service to all communities except Yorba Linda, provides and will continue to do so, a common carrier passenger service adequate for the needs of the public in the district, according to the testimony of its general manager.

"The travel checks indicate, however, considerable use of the morning and evening rail service, due no doubt, to the lower commutation fare and somewhat shorter running time of these trains, which operate as limited trains between Los Angeles and Santa Fe Springs. We believe that this service should be contiued for the present.

Exchange Tickets

"It appears to be in the public interest that means be provided for the exchange of tickets between applicant and its subsidiary, Motor Transit company in this territory so that passengers finding it convenient to travel in one direction on one line and return on the other line may avail themselves of the round trip commutation rate in making the trip. The record shows that while this is feasible, certain adjustments in present tariffs are necessary. We will not, therefore, include this as an immediate condition of the service changes but will require that a plan be submitted by applicant (Pacific Electric) within 30 days for the commission's consideration.

Trial of 60 Days

"The commission is of the opinion that the provisions of the order herein shall not be considered as final until the proposed service has been given a reasonable test, and by this we mean that if after a trial og 60 days the modified fares and services do nto appear adequately to meet the requirements, the matter will be re-opened for consideration of such features of our order as appear to require further modification."

In its formal order, the railroad commission called for two inbound trains in the morning from both Fullerton and Yroba Linda and one outbound to both points in the afternoon. Both of these schedules are to be operated on time schedules adapted to needs of commuters and are in addition to the one trip daily proposed by the Pacific Electric.

The order is made effective 20 days after date of filing in San Francisco, June 10 and 10 days notice is required by the Pacific Electric before reducing its service.

NEWPORT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, July 18.—The summer pay-as-you-go luncheon of the Newport Beach Exchange club this wee khad an attendance of over 30, with Chief of Police R. R. Hodginson presiding.

The Ponce Hamond cup which was won by the Exchange club float in the Tournament of Lights contest was presented to the club and Larry Wilkinson, the chairman of the club decorating committee, was congratulated on the success of the committee's work.

Get Congratulations

Congratulatory offerings from several local and visiting citizens were presented, and the show was decided to be the best yet put on at the local harbor.

Lancy Sherman who was generalissimo of the forces handling the event this year, was the lion of the meeting, and received many well deserved congratulations for the success of the event.

A delegate from the Santa Ana club extended an invitation to hold a joint meeting with them August 5.

Guests were then introduced and the visiting members of the dance orchestra now playing at the Casino dance hall, rendered several well appreciated numbers for the enjoyment of the members.

AGED PHYSICIAN CALLED BY DEATH

Death claimed another of Santa Ana's aged residents when Dr. W. M. Perkins, 81, passed away yesterday at his home, 615 South Main street, after an illness of more than four weeks. Death was attributed to high blood pressure and pneumonia.

Dr. Perkins was born in Jackson, Tenn., October in 1849, and later moved to Nashville, Tenn. He was a graduate of the University of Louisville. He first practiced medicine in Fort Smith, Ark., and came to Santa Ana in 1922. He developed a wide list of acquaintances here and was actively interested in public affairs.

Dr. Perkins is survived by his widow, Mary E. Perkins, and the following children: Mrs. W. H. Bates and Glenn Perkins, of Yorba Linda; Mrs. John Culp, Long Beach; Mrs. Beth Mathis, Santa Ana, and James L. Perkins, Fort Smith, Ark.

Funeral services will be held at the Smith and Tuthill chapel at 10 a. m. Saturday. The Rev. Moffett Rhodes will officiate. Interment will follow in the Fairhaven cemetery.

National Guard Men Leave For Summer Camp Tonight

MEMBERS BUSY PREPARING FOR JOURNEY TODAY

Dressed in their new uniforms, 61 members of Company L., 185th infantry, and 20 members of Headquarters company, third battalion of the 185th infantry, both Santa Ana companies, will leave here tonight for their summer encampment at San Luis Obispo.

The company was busy today making final preparations for the trip. Baggage was being stored and the entire company was at the armory on Birch street, doing last minute errands and packing.

The two companies, led by Captain James Cain, of Company L., and Lt. James B. Pettit, of headquarters, will leave the armory tonight, marching down Fourth street, behind the drum corps of the Santa Ana American Legion post, to the Pacific Electric railway station, where special cars will take them to Los Angeles, where the remainder of the regiment will be stationed.

Just prior to the departure, the company will be given a big dinner at the Legion home, to be served by the women of the Santa Ana American Legion auxiliary.

A number of guests have been invited to attend, including members of the county board of supervisors, members of the Santa Ana city council, Commander Otto Jacobs, of the American Legion, Justice Kenneth Morrison and Maj. A. S. Ralph. The drum corps also will be guests.

The two Santa Ana companies will be in camp at San Luis Obispo from July 18 to August 2. The 184th and the 185th infantry regiments will be in camp at the same time, together with a tank corps and an aero squadron, according to Captain Cain.

Report Paralysis Improvement Here

With another patient released from quarantine, the infantile paralysis condition in Orange county, continues to show improvement, according to information given out today by the county health office.

At the present time, there are but six quarantine cases, which would seem to indicate that the efforts made to combat the disease have been quite successful. During the absence of Dr. K. H. Sutherland, who is on a two weeks' vacation, the county health office will be in charge of Dr. Murray Bates.

ELECTED

Earle W. Hodges, of New York City, shown below, was elected president of the Lions international today at the annual convention of the organization in Denver.

EARLE HODGES HEAD OF LIONS INTERNATIONAL

DENVER, July 18.—Earle W. Hodges, of New York City, head of the department of public relations for Henry L. Doherty and the Cities Service company interests, this afternoon was elected president of the International association of Lions clubs, a service organization of more than 2200 clubs and 80,000 members all over the United States and Canada.

Hodges was first vice president of the Lions in 1929-30, and now succeeds Ray L. Riley, who is comptroller of the state of California.

Farm boy, printer's devil, printing office foreman, newspaper owner and publisher, state printing clerk, deputy state auditor, secretary of state of Arkansas, director of public utilities for his state, and finally director of public relations for the Henry L. Doherty interests—that is Earle W. Hodges, the new president of Lions international. He is one of the best known public speakers in the country, and has visited and delivered addresses many times in every state of the union.

He began his public career early. While he was yet in the grade and high school of Salem, Ark., near which town he was born in 1882, he says he was "dabbling in ink in a country printing office." His experience was that of thousands of others—that once you get well smeared with printer's ink you never get far away from a printing plant. When he left high school he became foreman of the composing room of the Mammoth Springs Monitor, and held the job down for a year.

NATIONAL AIR TOUR

DETROIT, July 17. — Starting September 11, a fleet of airplanes will leave this city for a tour over the United States and western Canada. The route to be covered by the planes totals 5600 miles, and will take in the entire middle west. Some of the cities to be visited are: Milwaukee, Cheyenne, Denver, Colorado Springs, Kansas City, Indianapolis, Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio.

CONDITION OF FINANCES FOR SCHOOLS TOLD

Showing a total expenditure for Santa Ana schools during the fiscal year ending June 30, of $1,277,254.88, total receipts for the same period of $1,545,099.63, a cash balance of $267,754.75, and total valuations of all school property amounting to $2,566,331.54, the annual financial statement of the Santa Ana school system, prepared by Elizabeth Phillips, secretary to the board of education, was released today.

The report shows in detail the various sources of income, as well as listing the expenditures and setting up facts concerning bond issues, tax rates and new construction during the fiscal year that has just ended. The funds are segregated into five divisions, embracing kindergarten, elementary, high school, junior college and elementary bond fund.

A recapitulation of the receipts and expenditures for the year in these five funds is given as follows: kindergarten—receipts, $46,038.21; expenditures, $36,809.01; cash balance, $9229.29; elementary—receipts $415,453.93; expenditures, $335,381.48; cash balance, $60,072.45; high school—receipts, $450,891.17; expenditures, $446,300.98; cash balance, $4590.19; junior college—receipts, $167,626.32; expenditures, $140,487.74; cash balance, $27,138.58, and elementary bond fund—receipts, $465,000; expenditures, $298,275.67; cash balance, $166,724.33.

A setup outlining the bonding capacity and amount of bonds outstanding is included in the report prepared by Miss Phillips, which shows the assessed valuation of the elementary district as $22,436,520 and of the high school district as $32,945,990. Attention is called to the fact that the valuation of the high school district will be reduced $9,000,000 this year due to the withdrawal of the Newport and Costa Mesa districts. This will leave a valuation of approximately $24,000,000, or a bonding capacity of $1,200,000. The old bonding capacity for the high school district including Newport and Costa Meca, was $1,647,299. Outstanding monds, as of July 1, for the high school district amounted to $354,000. To this on July 10 was added $494,000, the amount of the recent bond issue voted to provide a junior high school building program. Bonds outstanding for the elementary district amount to $950,000, while the bonding capacity is restricted to $1,121,826.

The total tax rate for last year was $2.76. This was split among four funds, with the kindergartens getting 15 cents; the elementary schools, $1.22; high school, $1.17; and junior college, 22 cents. The kindergarten and junior college rates were assessed on a special district, while the high and elementary rates were split as follows: elementary—special district, 30 cents; county common, 38 cents; building special, 15 cents and bond building, 39 cents; high school—special district, 75 cents; county comon, 25 cents, and bond building, 17 cents.

One item of the report that is very interesting is an analysis of the costs and a number of pupils showing the cost per pupil of the various divisions. This starts in at a cost of $92.73 per pupil to keep a child in elementary school last

Water needs and sources of supply were discussed before the La Habra Kiwanis club yesterday in the regular meeting of that organization at the Masonic temple, by Harry Westover, candidate for district attorney. The development of the coastal plain and the rapid growth in population were pointed out as factors that are requiring greater water supply.

Westover said in part:

"The development of the coastal plain (that is that part of southern California from Santa Barbara to San Diego and from the mountains to the sea) has gone hand in hand with the development of water. The water question is the most serious question to be answered and solved by the people of southern California. For some years we have been drawing upon our great natural underground storage of water, but the time is fast coming when we will not be able to get any additional water from such sources. During the past ten years the population of the coastal plain has increased approximately 100 per cent. If the same rate of increase should continue for the next 10 years how are we going to provide sufficient water for our increased population?

"The development of the water law of California is part of the history of the development and growth of the state. The first industry pursued in California was that of placer mining, which required the liberal use of water. Later, the more widespread industry of agriculture required still larger quantities of water. Our original water law came from England, where it was a part of the common law. In England there was developed the doctrine of riparian rights. Those who owned the streams, or who had property on the banks of the streams had a right to use the water, but property owners whose land did not abut the streams had no right to such water. However, with the development of the western part of the United States, there was developed a new doctrine as far as water was concerned—the doctrine of appropriation—that is the doctrine of "first come, first served.' This doctrine was promulgated by the miners of California, who discovered that they had to have water for their mining claims and that not always were their claims situated on the banks of the streams. At first it was only possible to appropriate water for use within the water shed of the streams but it is now possible to appropriate water for territories lying without the water shed.

"Los Angeles led the way by bringing water from one water shed into another water shed when it went into the Owens valley for its water and brought it to the city over deserts and mountain ranges. Southern California expects to get its future water from the Colorado river through the doctrine of appropriation and expects to bring the water from the watershed of the Colorado across the mountains to the coastal plain.

"At the present time, however, there is no water subject to appropriation in the Colorado river, except the flood waters. At times of flood untold quantities of water go to waste into the Gulf of California. After the flood has passed the river reaches such a stage that all of the flow of the river is used for irrigation purposes. During certain parts of the summer each year, all of the water of the Colorado river is diverted into the irrigation canals of the Imperial Valley Irrigation district at Hanlon heading and many times the Imperial valley does not get all of the water it would like to have.

"If Southern California is to make use of any of the water of the Colorado river it must take the flood waters. One of the reasons for the building of the Boulder canyon dam is to hold back and preserve the flood waters of the Colorado river so that this water may be used rather than wasted. Until the Boulder canyon dam is completed and the flood waters of the Colorado have been conserved there will be no water for the coastal plain of southern California."

Return From Salt Lake City Meeting

Roland D. Flaherty, secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau, has returned to his duties here after attending a Farm bureau conference of the 11 western states held recently in Salt Lake City. He was accompanied by Roy Bishop, past president of the Orange County bureau, and E. E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor.

Flaherty reported that the chief business before the convention was a wholesale discussion of the problems confronting the rancher and various methods of eliminating the natural enemies encountered in the pursuit of ranching.

STRAIGHTENING ROAD

EL TORO, July 18. — The county road department is making remarkable progress on the straightening of Trabuca road. Steam shovels are cutting down the grades and the entire road widened. Oil and graveling will begin soon.

MANY PRESENT FOR ASSEMBLY MEETING HERE

The summer assembly of the Evangelical churches of Southern California, which is being held in the assembly grounds west of Santa Ana this week, is continuing to attract large crowds at the special services, and the largest group of the session was taken care of in the dining room last evening. Special features yesterday on the recreational program were the ball game in the afternoon between the pastors and the delegates, and the camp fire last night.

The delegates handed the pastors the short end of a 34-13 score in a five inning slug fest and merry-go-round of the bases. At the camp fire last night some 300 persons gathered about the huge fire in the bed of the Santa Ana river near the assembly grounds and enjoyed a program of songs, stunts, charades, and stories, that closed with a treasure hunt.

The usual class periods and worship services were held during the day yesterday. The Rev. Paul O. Steps, of San Bernardino, was in charge of the morning watch, using as his text John 21:18-23.

Bishop L. H. Seager, of Le Mars, Ia., conducted the Bible hour, continuing his series of talks on the book of Job. The noon-day meditation period was led by the Rev. F. A. Zeller, of Burbank, whose subject was "Walking in Christ."

The Women's Missionary society conducted an oratorical contest yesterday afternoon, at which Mrs. J. W. Harrison, of the Melrose avenue church, Los Angeles, was winner. "Paul of the Valley" was the subject presented at the vesper service last evening by the Rev. F. Schrader, of Los Angeles. Bishop Seager at the evening service discussed "How to Live in This Present World." His text was found in Titus 2:12, "Denying ungodliness and worldly lust, we should live soberly, righteously and Godly."

Services today followed the same program with the same leaders, with the exception that at the evening service tonight Mrs. L. H. Seager will be the speaker and will discuss "Our Part in Kingdom Extension." There will be two business meetings this afternoon, one of the conference board of religious education and the other of the missionary society. There also will be a conference on league work this afternoon.

Barrel cactus of the southwest, besides being shaped like a barrel, also serves as one. By slicing off the top, the thirsty traveler may dip out a refreshing fluid from within.

STYLE POINTER

N. Pemberton Billings, English writer, is shown below as he arrived in New York City prepared to give American men a couple of pointers on styles. Not only was he wearing the latest wrinkle in elongated collars, but he dispensed with a necktie. And the collar clasp made it a pretty snappy get-up.

ANNOUNCE LIST OF WINNERS IN 'SHOE' FINALS

The city playground elimination horseshoe tournament, held yesterday afternoon at Lathrop playground for the elementary division, resulted in Lloyd Race, of Roosevelt playground, annexing his second city championship in three weeks of playground activities. Lloyd defeated all comers in dominoes last week, and yesterday added the horseshoe crown to his list.

Blas Mercurio, representing the Lincoln playgrounds, ran a close second, losing by only one point in the final game. Other playgrounds finished as follows: Jean Miller, playing for Lathrop, third; Ruben Segobioa, Fremont, fourth, and Charles Maxwell, Edison, fifth.

In the doubles division of the tournament Lincoln playground's champions brought home the honor of the city championship. They were Erwin Youel and Oriato Noche. They eliminated, during the progress of the afternoon, the following players, who finished in the order named: James Walters and Pierino Lovero, representing Roosevelt; Juan Barela and Manual Morales, from Fremont; Oliver Pickens and Leo Rankin, from Lincoln and Jimmie Wendorf and Clayton Manning, Lathrop's entrants.

Logan Jackson Is Widely Endorsed as Candidate for Sheriff

When a candidate for county office is able to present solid backing in his own community, where he is best known, he is able to enter other communities with a valuable recommendation. Such is the situation of Logan Jackson, candidate for sheriff, who has received a fine endorsement of his candidacy from his home people. More than 200 prominent Orange people have signed a statement in behalf of Jackson's candidacy as follows:

Bridge Tea Compliments House-guest From Pennsylvania

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hoy, 1225 French street, made a pleasant haven yesterday afternoon, when the Misses Wilma and Betty Hoy entertained in honor of their cousin, Miss Eleanor Hoy, who is a guest in their home from Oil City, Pa.

Bridge occupied the afternoon, at the close of which clever prizes were offered to Miss Eleanor Metzgar, high; Miss Ruth Davis, second; and Miss Eleanor Hoy, guest prize. The card table covers were replaced with dainty linens, and tables arranged for the tea menu with appointments of rainbow colors in yellow, pink, orchid, and blue, with garden flowers to harmonize. Nut cups were tiny rosebuds of pastel tints, while bridge tallies used earlier in the afternoon bore dainty old-fashioned maidens.

Those present in addition to the co-hostesses, the Misses Wilma and Betty Hoy, and the guest of honor, Miss Eleanor Hoy, were the Misses Lois Winslow, Enid Twist, Veda Mitchell, Muriel Smith, Elaine Smith, Ruth Davis, Patricia Kennedy, Eva Marshall, Edith Lewis, and Mesdames Russell Wilson, Frank Finster and Paul Olmstead.

Grandson Greets the Rev. and Mrs. McPeak

The host of Santa Ana friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Yager of Santa Barbara, will be interested in knowing that they are the proud parents of a baby son born to them Wednesday, July 16. After meeting his father, and his grandmother, Mrs. W. H. McPeak, who has been with her daughter for the past few weeks, the little David, for so he was christened, had yet to meet other members of the family. So it was that the Rev. Mr. McPeak hastened to Santa Barbara yesterday to get a glimpse of his grandson, and to congratulate the young parents. He was accompanied by another daughter, Miss Rebecca McPeak. Mrs. Yager was Miss Helen McPeak and was Girl Reserve secretary here.

As a compliment to Miss Zelma Beemer, whose wedding to Ray Walworth of Orange will occur at high noon on Thursday, July 31, Miss Lola Christie entertained with a miscellaneous shower in the pretty home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. DeWolf, in Balboa, yesterday afternoon. The invited guests comprised the members of the Standard Bearers, an organization of the First Methodist Episcopal church, of which the honoree is a member.

Following several hours spent on the beach, and delectable refreshments served out of doors, the girls again sought the home, where the delighted honoree opened her many varied and lovely surprise packages

As evening approached, the guests scattered, many of them going to Irvine park, where they enjoyed a delicious steak bake, while others attended the band concert in Birch park

Those present in addition to the charming hostess, Miss Lola Christie, and the honoree, Miss Zelma Beemer, were the mother of the honoree, Mrs. J. Past Commanders of Sons of Veterans Hold Banquet

Bringing to a conclusion an interesting year's work under the direction of E. A. Bell, president, and C. F. Millen, secretary-treasurer, the Past Commanders, club of Sons of Union Veterans, met in the Rossmore cafe Wednesday night, for a pleasant banquet at which their wives were honored guests.

Following the varied and delicious courses of the dinner the group continued the hospitable evening in the J. R. Moore home, 424 West Second street. The past Commanders held a short business session during which S. L. Carpenter was elected to the post of president, succeeding E. A. Bell, while Walter Somerby was elected to succeed C. F. Millen as secretary-treasurer. Both Mr. Bell and Mr. Millen were highly commended for the manner in which they had conducted the duties of their offices during the past year, making it a memorable and valuable year for the other members of this little organization.

Two new members were received, Sherman Gillogly of Orange, and C. E. Braton, both eligible as past commanders of Sons of Veterans posts.

The remainder of the evening was a social one, during which Mrs. More introduced the game of "Touring," which seemed very appropriate to the current vacation and travel season. Late in the evening she served a refreshing fruitade, cool and sparkling.

Sharing the banquet at the Rossmore and the subsequent hospitality of the Moore home were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Millen, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Gillogly, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brayton and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Somerby.

Tourists in North Have Pleasant Outing

Mr. and Mrs. Myron H. Miller and son have returned to their home at 1312 South Cypress street, after a 15 days' trip through northern California and Oregon. They took the Redwood highway to Eureka where they had the pleasure of a visit with Mrs. Miller's uncle before continuing on to Medford, Ore. They also spent a week in Merrill, Ore., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Penhall, former residents of Santa Ana who now own a large sheep and alfalfa ranch in that section.

Probably no part of their outing was more uniquely enjoyable than the "Glorious Fourth" which they spent in Klamath Falls where a typical old-time celebration of the national holiday was staged with a big parade, horse racing, etc.

Returning to the Southland, the Millers visited beautiful Crater late, and traveling south through California by the inland houte, stopped in Bakersfield to see their cousins residing there.

Topaz Crystal Shower Was Compliment to Miss Fern Flood

Engagement days of Miss Fern Flood, charming young fiancee of Norman Pixley of Pasadena, are being filled with pleasant events as her friends express their interest in the bethrothal and approaching autumn wedding date, in a series of thoughtful courtesies. The latest of these and one of the most charming, was the luncheon, bridge and gift shower at which Mrs. Ray Chandler and her daughter, Miss Kay Chandler, entertained yesterday.

A dozen close friends were bidden to the Chandler home, 302 South Birch street, where luncheon at 7 o'clock was to the accompaniment of unusually attractive features. Centering the one table where guests were assembled, was one of those fairy-like crystal trees, so smart an addition to a table's equipment. Its foliage was in the most delicate tones of pink and pale green, and the effect was lovely indeed. Demure bride place cards were a graceful gesture on the part of the hostesses, pointing to the October nuptials of their honor guest and Mr. Pixley.

Returning to the drawing room, where card tables awaited them, the guests enjoyed a spirited session of bridge in which Mrs. J. B. Tucker took first honors, with Mrs. Will A. Flood a close second.

It was when prizes were awarded in the bridge event that Mrs. Chandler and Miss Chandler took the opportunity of presenting the shower gifts to their honoree. As a result of her friends' thoughtfulness, Miss Flood added cocktail glasses, sherbets, goblets and several odd pieces, to the set of graceful topaz glass in etched design which she is assembling.

Sharing the enjoyable afternoon with Mrs. Chandler, Miss Chandler and Miss Flood, were the latter's mother, Mrs. Will A. Flood, Mrs. Richard Emison, Mrs. Richard Winckler, Mrs. Herbert Miller, Mrs. J. B. Tucker, Mrs. Loring Dale, Mrs. Lloyd A. Chenoweth, Mrs. J. K. Hermon, Mrs. Leonard Jones of Alhambra, Mrs. Jack Neville of Anaheim and Mrs. John McKittrick.

Educators Leave For High Sierra Outing

Leaving early yesterday morning for a vacation motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Kellogg and Mrs. Kellogg's mother, Mrs. Iva M. Webber, 425 South Ross street, were anticipating an enjoyable stay at U. S. Grant camp east of Terra Bella in the High Sierras.

The outing will be especially appreciated by all three, for Mrs. Webber has just completed her usual year of teaching at Julia Lathrop junior high school, while Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg, both members of the city staff of teachers, only recently returned from New York City, where they spent a year's leave of absence in special work at Columbia University.

Mr. Kellogg, former principal at Frances Willard junior high school, was working towards his Ph. D. degree in education, devoting his winter studies principally to administration. Mrs. Kellogg took her Master's degree in adult education and sociology, receiving her final papers on Wednesday just a few hours in advance of her departure for the north.

The Kelloggs returned to Santa Ana a few weeks ago, and while Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lund were in Seattle for a vacation automobile trip, occupied their own home at 2412 Poinsettia street. Mr. and Mrs. Lund returned a few days ago, and will again occupy the Kellogg home, as Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg are not quite certain as yet regarding their autumn and winter plans.

Summer Home at Beach Is Opened to Past Matrons' Group

When Mrs. J. W. McCormas and Mrs. W. Verne Whitson yesterday entertained members of Hermosa Past Matrons' association, they were privileged to stage their hospitality in the hospitable summer home of Mrs. J. R. Medlock on Lindo avenue, East Newport.

Needless to say the Past Matrons were happy to avail themselves of the opportunity to spend a day at the shore, and everyone seemed to be in unusually gay spirits. As a result the affair was one of the most enjoyable of the summer, while the luncheon, served buffet style by the hostess duo, elicited the appreciation and praise of every guest.

Colorful zinnias were used with cool ferns to provide floral decorations amidst which the Past Matrons held a short business meeting before giving their attention to amusement features. Mrs. Mark Lacy presided over this interval, which included devotionals led by Mrs. M. M. Holmes; roll call answered by events of current interest or charming bits of poetry, and an affecting interval of silent prayer in honor of the memory of a dearly-loved member, the late Mrs. Alice Tubbs.

For the remainder of the afternoon, the guests were divided into three groups, in accordance with the old adage that "birds of a feather flock together," and took part in an amusing bird contest. One feature of more than passing interest was the contribution on the part of each one present, to an impromptu program, the whole thing emphasizing the gaiety and goodfellowship of the occasion.

Another amusing feature was the installation of a group of chairmen and minor officers, to the accompaniment of much merriment. These included Mrs. F. D. Drake, Mrs. Theo A. Winbigler, Mrs. M. E. Gilbert, Mrs. P. L. Tople and Mrs. W. V. Whitson.

Rehearsal Dinner Held For Lowell-Dickson Bridal Party

A series of pleasant pre-nuptial courtesies in which Miss Virginia Lowell has had the leading role as fiancee of DeRoy Dickson, reached a climax last night in the final event preceding the wedding, the bridal dinner, presented at Las Ondas cafe, Laguna Beach.

The wedding of Miss Lowell and Mr. Diskson will take place tomorrow night in the pretty garden of the Jo Lowell home, 925 Lowell street, and last night's dinner party was a sequel to the final rehearsal of the nuptials, held in the early evening hours.

Miss Lowell and Mr. Dickson had assembled the members of their wedding party for the pageantry of the ceremony, which promises to be an unusually colorful and lovely affair. Whisking them down to "Our Village," they all enjoyed the elaborate dinner as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell.

Arizonan Honored at Pleasant Affairs

While the majority of Southern Californians are following mountain trails and responding to the lure of the sea, in an effort to achieve coolness, there is a guest in Santa Ana, who revels in the arden rays of the sun, and never utters a word except in praise of the grateful warmth. This is Ray Hall of Prescott, Ariz., who arrived late last week to spend some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall, 305 East Tenth street.

While Mr. Hall is loyal to his home city of Prescott, asserting that as Arizona's famous "Mile High City," it is one of the favored summer resorts of the Southland, let he has been equally certain in his admiration for Santa Ana's genial sunniness, and has found the warm weather so agreeable that even sea bathing has had no allure.

One of the delightful family affairs planned in the visitor's honor was the dinner Sunday in his parents' home. Enjoying the pleasant menu were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hall and children Gene and La Von of Orange; Mrs. R. Stebbins, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall, and son Neal. Many other happy gatherings have featured his visit here, and when he leaves today for his home in Arizona, he will take with him pleasant memories of the welcome accorded him in extraordinarily sunny California.

Church Societies

First M. E.

The regular meeting of the First Methodist Episcopal Women's Foreign Missionary society was held Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. The session was opened with singing, accompanied by Mrs. Palmer at the piano; and was followed by devotions, led by Mrs. Allie Fitz, the subject of which was "Spiritual Mountain Climbing." This was followed by a prayer, led by Mrs. Horton Palmer.

According to a report made, there is a 50 per cent increase in stewardship membership. Mrs. Harry Hayes gave a beautiful rendition of "His Eye is On The Sparrow." She was accompanied by Mrs. Snow, at the piano.

Mrs. Wiltsie, program chairman, introduced Harry Lewis, who gave an illustrated talk on the local Methodist missionary work in the schools, colleges, and hospitals in South America. Mr. Lewis stated that much was being accomplished in our sister country by the Methodist organization. His familiarity with conditions there was gained on a recent trip which he and Mrs. Lewis enjoyed.

Epworth League

One of the merriest events occurring last evening came when members of the First M. E. high school and young people's Epworth League numbering 50 met under the oaks of Irvine park, for a steak bake. Following the serving of delicious juicy steaks, accompanied by all of the other good things that a picnic supper provides, games occupied the rest of the evening. A watermelon feast was a feature of late evening.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

SUCCESS WITH ICINGS

The most aggravating thing a cook has to contend with is her carefully made boiled icing or fudge going grainy. The reason for this happening can be chalked up to too high a degree of heat, so, cook icing syrups or fudge with a heat just hot enough to keep them at the bubbling stage, or, add a small quantity of acid to the cooking syrup—one-half teaspoonful of lemon or vinegar to two cupfuls of sugar is enough. When an acid is not desirable, the same effect can be had by using 2 tablespoonfuls of white corn syrup.

I proved the truth of my statements in making that lovely 7-minute icing. When first I made it—under directions—it was perfect; the next time and times innumerable thereafter, I made it hurriedly and it was too grany to spread nicely and cracked off under the knife when the cake was cut.

I tried cooking it one minute less, but still the result was nil; when I hit on the idea of not having the water at a galloping boil and it turned out just as it should. Then I went still further and cooked it at the high temperature after adding the corn syrup (glucose) and had success, but not to the extent that was mine when the plain syrup was cooked slowly.

This is true also of syrups for boiled whipped icing: cook them slowly, do not stir and thus dislodge the sugar crystals against the side of the kettle. Test by dropping from the spoon tip. When a thin "hair" forms immediately, the syrup is done.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Clam Stuffing

4 cups stale breadcrumbs
Boiling water to moisten
2 well-beaten eggs
3 teaspoons salt
Pepper and paprika
1 teaspoon powdered sage leaf
1 onion, minced fine
1 large can minced clams
4 tablespoons butter

Scoop the crumbs out of a stale loaf, add enough of the crust cut in bits to make the 4 cups and over then pour boiling water to moisten. Drain off immediately and press out all possible moisture with the back of a spoon—you see the crumbs must be soft and fluffy.

To the crumbs add the well beaten eggs, the seasonings and the clam meat, drained off juice. Saute the minced onion in the butter, add to the dressing and mix well. If it seems a little dry use a small amount of the clam juice to moisten.

This is sufficient stuffing for a small turkey, or two chickens. Half of the amount will be sufficient for a boned shoulder of lamb, veal or pork.

It is impossible to give the individual calorie total, for appetites differ on the question of stuffing. The grand total is 1670, mostly energy calories, but who cares? This is a grand stuffing!

WAR FILM TO HAVE MIDNIGHT MATINEE

Due to the big demand made to see Universal's greatest war drama, "All Quiet on the Western Front," which has been showing at the Fox West Coast theater since last Monday, a midnight matinee of the show will be staged tonight, Norman Sprowl, Fox theaters manager announced today.

The picture ends its Santa Ana performances today. It was booked in here only for five days and it is by popular demand that it is being held over for the midnight show, Sprowl said.

The midnight show will start at 11:45 p. m. after the second performance in the evening.

"All Quiet on The Western Front" will disgust you with war. It shows the war of 1914-18 as it really was, not as it has been painted in scores of pictures made since that time. It shows the other side of war glory and war glamor. It take you down to the depths men sank while they were fighting in the trenches.

The picture, made from the book by the same name, written by Erich Maria Ramarque, is almost exactuy like the book. To those who have read it, it will mean seeing in pictures just what the mind caught as the eye read the print.

Thrilling, true, and sensational all though it is a picture that will be remembered here for a long time.

CLARA BOW SINGS IN BROADWAY FILM

Clara Bow has discovered that love is just as exciting among the millionaires as it is with ordinary folk, and the "It" personality is at its finest in the sparkling, comedy-full musical romance, "Love Among the Millionaires," showing at the Fox Broadway theater for three days, starting today, as it was when confined to the fleet in "True to the Navy."

Amid the clatter of dishes and the blatant tones of a nickel-in-the-slot piano, "Love Among the Millionaires" gets under way. Clara sings a song, "Believe It or Not, I've Found My Man." That's where Stanley Smith comes in and transports the Redhead to a fairy paradise of the wealthy at Palm Beach. But, even then, everything refuses to run smoothly.

Stanley has a father, Claude King, who thinks a son of the rich shouldn't marry a girl of the poor, and, likewise, Clara has a father, Charles Sellon, who declares no daughter of his will marry a wealthy man. While the old chaps get together, Clara and Stanley have a misunderstanding which almost breaks up the romance.

"Love Among the Millionaires" is one of the most enjoyable pictures Clara Bow has ever made, and Clara really gets a chance to sing. Those who heard the "It" voice in "Paramount on Parade" and "True to the Navy" will want to hear the Redhead sing "Believe It or Not," "That's Worth While Waiting For," "Love Among the Millionaires" and "Rarin' to Go." Clara sings with her voice, her eyes, her red hair, her whole body. She handles a song like she handles a man, with pep, personality and enthusiasm.

GO TO CAMP

Paul Horn, Bailey and Robert Shaw, Russell Knott, Earle Travers, Billy Dow, James Dabney and Franklin Sullivan were the Buena Park boys who left Tuesday morning for the North Orange County Y. M. C. A. camp for high school boys at Camp Osceola. Lester Schofield leader of the Buena Park Comrades, has charge of Cabin 2, Gene Moss of Somerton, Ariz., cousin of Paul Horn, and Donald Brown of San Bernardino, cousin of the Shaw boys, also accompanied the group.

It is now possible to photograph a bullet as it leaves the barrel of a pistol.

'LONE RIDER' AT WALKER THEATER

Thrill after thrill, and then some, are incorporated in "The Lone Rider," the Columbia all-talking "western" starring Buck Jones, opening today at Walker's State theater.

If there is one hair-raising riding stunt that this famous cowboy and his horse Silver do not perform, it is not on record. It all happened in the days of '49. Jim Lanning, the "Hell's River Kid," having quarreled with his gang, started out to rob a stage-coach single handed. His old gang got there first, and when Jim appeared and drove them away, Mary Stevens, the only passenger, mistook him for her rescuer. There was nothing for Jim to do but keep up the deception. He did and took Mary to her father, Judge Stevens in Gold City. How the judge rewarded Jim by making him a member of the Vibilantes, and how, after a good many stirring battles with his former gang, Jim proved himself an honest man and won the girl, are all depicted in a series of thrilling and dracatic scenes.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, July 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Applebury have been entertaining with a house party in their home a group of relatives of Mrs. Applebury's, which included her neice and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Noll and daughter, Helen, of Whittier, who were here five days; brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Abbey and baby of Victorville, and Mrs. Abbey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Turner of San Bernardino, who visited three days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Applebury motored to Pomona where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson. Virginia Jackson, the granddaughter, who has been ill so many months, seems to be greatly benefited by the change of climate since the family moved to Pomona and is able to be up and about the house now.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Heil and sons, and Mrs. Allen and Miss Cleo Allen who compose a vacation party east, are now in Kansas, following a pleasant trip through Oregon, Washington and into Canada. All were well according to late word from them in spite of the intense heat experienced.

Charles Parr, Jr., who has been very ill for a week with mumps and under a physician's care, is reported as improved.

ALL QUIET ON THE WESTERN FRONT
Have you seen "All Quiet on the Western Front?" We believe there is no moving picture that is making a more profound impression upon the minds of the people than is this one.
We read the story when it was first published, and read the reviews on it by those who knew, who declared it to be most faithful to the general facts. Certainly the picture is faithful to the story.
It is on tonight and tomorrow night. We make no apologies for urging those who can afford to do so, to see this picture.
Incidentally, we are privileged now to see some great undertakings depicted on the screen. The picture of Byrd's trip to the South Pole was one of them. We hope to see that returned.
"All Quiet on the Western Front" will be counted upon as one of the great factors in giving the populace a realization of exactly what war is.

Confessions of a Gangster's Wife

"My husband got sore and gave me a slap. . . . Stanley's wife came over and said 'Never mind, Peggy . . . any time the boys bring anything home, don't ask where it comes from . . . just take it and be glad you've got it.'"

(Sketch by Paul Kroesen.)

Plenty of money, many big parties, lots of jewelry and clothes while luck lasts, but in the end a futile, hunted life . . . such is the fate of all gangland's women, as revealed by one girl who went straight

Margaret Collins, alias Burke, alias Hamilton . . . became known as "the jinx girl of gangland" . . . Five of her sweethearts have died by gangdom's guns . . . and she is only 27.

As Told to BRUCE CATTON

By PAT ROCHE

Chief Investigator for State's Attorney, Cook County, Illinois

PRACTICALLY nothing has been written about the women of Chicago's gangsters.

They are a strange, mysterious crew. They're recruited from all classes and all walks of life. Some of them are the legal wives of the gangsters they consort with, some of them are the legal wives of other people, and some of them wouldn't know a marriage certificate if they saw it.

Some of them are cabaret girls, entertainers, dancers; some of them were street girls before their gangsters took them in tow; some of them come from good families and have a lot more brains and general background than you'd expect of a gangster's sweetie; and some of them are little dumbbells fresh from the country who never quite figure out what it's all about.

They usually live pretty high, while it lasts. The gangster has money and he likes to spend it. The women get fine clothes, jewelry and nice apartments, with plenty of spending money.

But—well, I imagine that if you could get acquainted with them, you'd find that their life isn't all moonlight and roses. I don't think there is any particular reason for envying them.

For instance there is—or maybe by now it's "there was"—a girl whom we'll call Peggy, though that isn't her real name.

Peggy came to me and told me her whole story. She and her husband had split up, and he was looking for her with a gun. So Peggy figured that the best thing she could do was get him safely behind the bars, and she came to me to tell everything she knew about him. She knew plenty, and we're engaged now in verifying her story and looking for corroborative evidence.

Dale Winter Colosimo . . . show girl wife of Jim Colosimo . . . He showered her with luxuries until the day he was shot to death.

FOR more than a month I kept Peggy under police protection. The gang knew she had squawked, and she knew they knew it, and all hands were agreed that her life wouldn't be worth a dime if they ever found her. So I kept her in hiding for more than a month. Finally, though, she wanted to leave—said she would be able to get away safely—and so she took her departure. I haven't seen or heard of her since.

Not long ago, when a woman's charred body was found in the ruins of a burned house on the outskirts of Chicago, I thought—"well, perhaps that's Peggy." I went out and investigated, but it wasn't. But wherever she is, I don't think she's very easy in her mind.

Peggy was a country girl—came down to Chicago from some place in Wisconsin. She fell in with a man we'll call Thompson, who was one of Capone's ace gunmen. At one time, in fact, Thompson had the job of sleeping in the anteroom of Capone's private suite at the Lexington Hotel. Peggy fell for him, and the two were living together.

Thompson was associated with Ralph Sheldon and Stanley Martin. Sheldon had at one time formed a plot with a politician named Newmark to get Capone out of the way. Capone had heard of it, and Sheldon, Martin and Thompson got orders to kill Newmark. They obeyed, Thompson doing the shooting; but after it was over they noticed that Capone's manner was pretty chilly, and one day Sheldon called in Martin and Thompson and said:

"Boys, it looks tough for us. It looks like Capone is going to put us on the spot, so the best thing we can do is beat it. I have lots of money, so you boys come with me."

The three promptly lit out for the west, by automobile; and I'll continue this story as Peggy told it to me:

"Stanley Martin's wife came to the house where I was living and got me. I didn't know where she was taking me to, and I was just slightly acquainted with her, but we drove to some part of Chicago and got Ralph Sheldon's wife, and from there we drove until we got to Kansas City. Next day we got to Kansas City and met the three boys, and from there we drove on to Dodge City, Kan., and there I married Thompson.

"From there on we traveled westward until we got to Los Angeles. At Los Angeles the boys were trying to get connected, and we spent about three weeks there. Stanley Martin's wife and I then started back to Chicago. She was in hopes of fixing it up with Capone so Stanley and Thompson could come back—come back to Al's gang, that is—because her father is a racketeer and her brother is with Al, too.

"We came back and we were in Chicago about nine days. I don't know what she was doing, because I never heard about any fixing or anything else, but finally she told me everything was set and that Al would take the boys back. So we got on the train and went back to Los Angeles."

In Los Angeles the two girls met their husbands at the post office and gave them the good news. Mrs. Martin said that Capone had promised to give them their old jobs back and had even offered to make up their back salary. Each man had been on the payroll at about $150 a week. Martin and Thompson were overjoyed. They got ready to start back for Chicago at once.

"I said," says Peggy, " 'Well, I am certainly not going, because I am all tired out after riding on the train for five days.' So my husband said, 'Get up and do as I say!'

"I WAS kind of slow getting up, so he gave me a shove out of bed. So I got up and slipped a dress on over my pajamas and slipped a coat on, and we got our grips and went down and got in Stanley's car and drove away. We drove about 100 miles out of Los Angeles, I guess, when we stopped at a tourist camp. At this camp we took two cabins, one for Stanley and his wife, and one for me and my husband. Stanley brought in a brown grip, and they started pulling jewelry out of their pockets, pearls and two diamond rings and a diamond wrist watch.

"I said, 'Well, where did you get this jewelry?' I knew that Sheldon had promised to pay them so much, and had not paid them, so I thought maybe it was Sheldon's jewelry that they had got as their pay.

"So I said, 'Does this jewelry belong to Sheldon?' And my husband got sore and said, 'Shut your mouth!' and gave me a slap. Then I started to cry and Stanley's wife came over and said, 'Oh, never mind, Peggy, pay no attention to him; but you had better get smartened up—any time the boys bring anything home, don't ask where it comes from, just take it and be glad you got it.' "

After this lesson in the ways of gangland, Peggy and the rest of the crowd came on back to Chicago. They went to Martin's wife's home, in Benton Harbor, Mich., to lie low while Martin and Thompson made sure, once more, that they were going to be taken back into the gang.

Capone, apparently, still doubted Thompson's loyalty, and Thompson had a narrow escape—about the narrowest escape a gangster can have. He was called in to the home of Tony Lombardo, who was then one of Capone's lieutenants, and who has since gone the way of most gangsters with a bullet in his brain; and he sat in Lombardo's living room while two gunmen sat opposite him with their hands on their revolvers, ready to kill him if Lombardo gave the word. But Lombardo, after talking with Thompson, evidently decided that the young man was worth using some more; so instead of shooting him he gave him an assignment—told him and Martin to go up to Benton Harbor to kill a man.

PEGGY met her husband in downtown Chicago; and we'll continue the story in her own words:

"We drove down Michigan avenue and got almost downtown, when he said, 'Honey, there is something I have to tell you.' So he pulled the car over to the curb and started telling me.

"He said, 'Today everything was set for me, they were going to get me today, but some way they changed their minds and didn't give the signal, and I am supposed to go out with Stanley Martin and shoot a guy in Michigan.' And he said, 'What do you say, shall we risk it and go out there, or not?'

"Well, this was the first time my husband ever told me about his work or what he done, up to this time. I didn't know what his work was, with the exception he hold me he was a bootlegger and rum-runner. I didn't know anything about any killings until he told me then that he was supposed to kill this man. Neither of us knew who the man was.

Peggy . . . got a job at a news-stand . . . supported her hiding gangster husband.

Mrs. "Dingbat" Oberta . . . twice widowed by gangsters' bullets . . . "Big Tim" Murphy, her first, was shot down in his front yard . . . At his funeral she met his friend, Dingbat Oberta, later married him . . . He, too, was shot down.

"So I said, 'Certainly not, I don't want you to do anything like this.' And I said, 'Why, you wouldn't do anything like that, would you?' And he said, 'Don't be silly, just say shall we go or not?' I said, 'Of course we are not going, I don't want you to have murder on your hands,' and I said, 'Let's go back to my sister's and get the rest of our clothes and we will leave town.' "

So, having pawned some jewelry, they headed west by auto. At Tulsa, Thompson was seized with a desire to write to Capone. Peggy continues:

"He had me write a letter to Al, and in the letter he said, 'Well, Al, you tried to get me, but you didn't.'

"SO,' he said, 'now you either come across'—I think he asked for $10,000—'or I am going to squawk.' He said, 'You can't feel very safe with that McSwiggin murder on your hands.' And he said in that letter to Al, 'Send the money under the name of Bernice Manning to New Orleans.'

"So he drove me as far as Little Rock, Ark., and from there he had me take the train to New Orleans, and there I was to get the money that Al sent; but instead of sending the money Al just sent a wire to my husband and told him to come back to the gang, that everything was all right and that he should not talk like that.

"Well, my husband was too smart. He said, 'They will talk that way until I get there, and then they will bump me off.' "

But he still kept trying to shake down Al Capone. From city after city he dictated to Peggy letters that she mailed to Capone, each one demanding $10,000 under the threat of squawking. One letter, Peggy said, went like this:

"I am not the type that will go out and work with a pick and shovel. I have murdered hundreds and hundreds of people for you, and now, you dirty double-crossing louse, you had better come across with that ten grand or I am going right to the police and squawk. You know I am not going to work with a pick and shovel to make my bread and butter, so if I get caught stealing or anything I will squawk my brains out."

BUT Capone remained adamant, quite unworried by these long-distance threats, and he finally stopped answering them; so Peggy got a job at a hotel newsstand and supported the two of them. She remarked, "My husband said he could not get a job, but I doubt if he even looked for one." By this time, I imagine, she was learning that a gangster's woman can have a pretty hard time of it.

Then they kept on wandering, finally landing in Winnipeg. There they quarreled. Peggy evidently got tired of being the wage earner.

Peggy threatened to do a little squawking to the police on her own account. "He said, 'Will you?' So he reached for his pistol, but the pistol was unloaded, and I opened the door and ran and locked myself in the bathroom in the hallway. Then he packed his grips and left."

Peggy thereupon drifted to Detroit and got a job as a waitress.

"I worked there under the name of Anna Wilson," she explained, "because I had to work under different names all the places I went. They have connections with the Detroit gang there—almost all the Chicago gangs have—the gangsters in Chicago know me, you understand, and after I wrote all those letters to Capone, in my own handwriting, he knew it was me that wrote them."

One day, while working in Detroit, Peggy got a letter from her sister in Chicago, telling her that Thompson was looking for her, breathing out protestations of his love for her and begging her sister to get Peggy to return to him.

"Well," said Peggy, "I knew he did not want me back only for one reason, and that would be to get rid of me. So I wrote him a letter and I told him in that letter, I said, 'I am too smart for you. I know why you want me back.' "

AFTER mailing this letter, Peggy got to thinking; and she evolved a bit of underworld strategy of her own. She decided to send him a telegram that would keep him waiting around her sister's home; and while he was waiting she would go to Chicago and have him arrested. So she wired him: "Daddy, I love you. Wire me some money and I will come at once."

"The next day," she said, "I got the bus and came on to Chicago. I came right in to see Captain Shoemaker."

But it didn't do Peggy any good. Thompson, evidently, scented a trap, and the police were unable to lay hands on him. I protected Peggy for a month. Then she went away, and the Lord only knows where she is now. Her life is typical, and it doesn't seem to me a very enjoyable one.

TAKE THE TIP BELOW

The precaution you observe in making hot biscuits is the one observed in roasting HILLS BROS COFFEE

You don't throw all the ingredients in the bowl at once. You combine them a little at a time and make a perfect, spongy dough. Hills Bros. roast their coffee by a continuous process—a few pounds at a time—never in bulk, and develop a flavor such as no other coffee has.

Fresh from the original vacuum pack. Easily opened with the key. Look for the dreb on the can.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

Safeway Stores Are Large Buyers Of Fresh Produce

While Southern California cities sleep, a small army of men labor industriously that the housewife, on the morrow, may have her choice of fresh fruits, berries and vegetables. And few they are who give even scant heed to the almost magical system of distribution by which they are enabled to select, at 8 o'clock in the morning, vegetables which may have been harvested as late as 7 o'clock the preceding evening at a point perhaps 80 miles distant.

Nowhere is the system of rapid and comprehensive distribution of perishable food stuffs more strikingly displayed than at the fruit and vegetable dock of the Safeway Stores in Los Angeles.

This dock, the largest in the world devoted exclusively for the retail distribution of fruits and vegetables, measures 100 by 480 feet, and besides the main floor has a basement covering the same area. On one side is siding trackage to accommodate 20 railway refrigerator cars, in two parallel rows of ten; all may be unloaded simultaneously. On the other side, for its entire length, receiving and shipping by truck is carried on, while down in the center are three immense Moore ventilated coolers for the most perishable goods. These coolers have a total capacity of six refrigerator carloads.

Apples, for instance, which may have arrived by refrigerator car in the afternoon, are transferred at once to the coolers to await shipment by truck at from 11 p. m. until 5:30 a. m., depending upon the distance to be traversed by the truck.

The Safeway system of food accumulation and distribution, as it applies to fruits and vegetables, is considered one of the most satisfactory solutions to farm aid that has ever been developed, and what it means to growers in Southern California can best be appreciated by the fact that Southern California division ships mixed cars of fruits and vegetables to Safeway stores at such far away points as cities in the province of Saskatchewan, Canada; Butte, Montana; Denver, Colorado, and also to points in Arizona, while straight cars are shipped to Oakland.

Southern California farmers who market their products direct to Safeway are assured a regular market, and, further, know upon acceptance of the shipment just what they will receive. Safeway, by providing a steady, assured market, is able to procure the very finest of fruits and vegetables from Southern California farmers at a price which means a considerable saving to the consumer, while the farmer receives much more for his produce. Safeway and the farmer meet on the middle ground of the broker's commission.

From near points the farmers send in their produce by truck, while from more distant points, such as in the Imperial valley, shipment is made by rail direct to the Safeway dock. An instance of this is one grower in the Imperial valley who has 1500 acres in watermelons. He loads full cars at his siding.

An instance of a near point is that of a farmer raising bunch goods on 210 acres near Los Angeles. In his case daily harvesting goes on up to as late as 7 o'clock in the evening, and the housewife buys his onions, carrots and the like at perhaps 8 o'clock the next morning at such distant points as Palmdale and Lancaster.

The Safeway system of distribution, however, permits of no "hauling of coals to Newcastle," for store managers also buy direct from their local growers whenever possible. Thus in Santa Ana, a great deal of the produce sold there is not handled through the Los Angeles dock at all—yet business at this immense perishable food clearing house amounts to between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 per year.

To accurately gauge the market, and to maintain the perishable food division at peak efficiency, ten girls daily (except Sunday) undertake the task of telephoning each one of the 549 stores in the Southern California system to ascertain their fruit and vegetable requirements for the following day. Each girl is responsible for approximately 55 stores. As the information is received over the phone, the orders are entered direct upon a form and then these are all recapitulated by quantities for each item by truck routes so that the large force that works while the city sleeps may assemble all orders in a minimum of time. When the order is completed, the trucks and trailers are loaded, and each store, in addition to a copy of the order, receives a market bulletin giving crop information.

Balancing the market for the benefit of the consumer and grower alike is one of the tasks at which Safeway has been particularly successful. When, for instance, strawberries come in nightly at a rate beyond the normal consumption (and strawberries can not be held in storage), the system cooperates to aid the farmer by advertising a special at its stores at extremely attractive prices for perhaps three days.

The housewife responds to this opportunity and thus 3000 crates may go out each night instead of the 500 crates which went out previous to the special. In this way the farmer is saved a tremendous loss from spoilage of his crop, the consuming public enjoys a rare bargain in strawberries, and the store system has balanced supply and demand.

Cherries, another very perishable crop, presents similar problems, and Safeway takes the same measures to protect both producer and consumer, for the system does not accumulate them in storage for speculative purposes. What Safeway requires in its operations is quick turnover at all times. Thus the stock is always fresh.

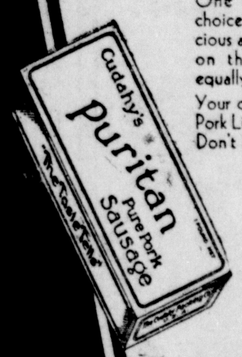

Too, in balancing supply and demand, Safeway often finds it expedient to ship the surplus to some distant point and in turn may receive surplus shipments from other points. Thus Pocatello, Idaho, may develop a surplus of potatoes which can very well be absorbed here, thus preventing a local market glut at that point.

Through the medium of newspaper advertising the producer is saved spoilage losses, for Safeway specials have been put on with only 24 hours notice, though usually a surplus can be seen looming up two or three days in advance. Hence Safeway, through the presentation of its message in newspapers to consumers throughout Southern California, is doing for local farmers what no act of congress is ever likely to do.

The decree brought so many objections from tire dealers that a compromise setting the date banning tires ahead to December 31, 1931. The only exception favors vehicles making more than 20 miles an hour.

A LAUGH FOR EVERYBODY

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

"Oh, my," cried Clowny, "seems to me that gypsy woman ought to be real glad to tell our fortunes. They can do it, I have heard. I'm sure that if we pay her well she'll come right back and gladly tell us everything we want to know. Now, does that sound absurd?"

"What if it does? We'll have some fun, the Travel Man replied. "Now run and tell her of your little plan. We'll wait right here for you." So Clowny did that very thing and soon he said, "I knew I'd bring her back. And now we'll all be very quiet till she's through."

The Travel Man then gave her change and she told fortunes very strange. "You Tinymites are due to have a head of fun," said she. "From place to place you'll daily hop. In every country where you stop, you'll going to be surprised at all the wondrous things you'll see."

She told them other nice things, too an dadded, "What you all should do is mind the friendly Travel Man. Then all things will go right." At last her task was over and she shook each Tinies' little hand and bid them all goodbye. They watched her travel out of sight.

The Travel Man then said, "Well, now we'll go and see a Persian plow. A farm's a short way down the road. I see the farmer now." They reached the farm and walked right in. The farmer spread a friendly grin. He stood by two big oxen that were hitched up to a plow.

The plow was crudely fashioned and the Tinies couldn't understand just how it worked until the farmer moved the thing around. The oxen slowly loafed along. "Oh, my," cried Coppy, "they are strong. Just see how neat the plow blade rips a pathway through the ground."

Missing Letter Links

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

PICK to BONE—We give you four strokes as par to PICK at this BONE. See if you can do it in less.

year, and reaches a high point of $307.81 as the cost per pupil in operating the junior college. Average daily attendance at the high school is 991 pupils, in junior high schools, 1319 pupils, in junior college, 398 pupils, and in adult education classes, 86 pupils. The cost per pupil in juior high school is $155.77; in adult education, $171.37, and in high school, $188.46.

Naturally the larger part of the receipts for all departments comes from state, county and district taxes, but one unexpected source of income that most school districts do not enjoy is listed in the elementary school receipts, amounting to $3109 from the sale of fruit. This resulted from the first sales from producing trees on several of the elementary school properties.

The statement of the elementary bond fund, of $465,00 that was voted last year, shows that a balance of $166,724.33 was on hand at the close of the fiscal year. Disbursements from the fund during the year after the money was received last September are as follows: election costs, $994.85; maintenance, $11.65; taxes, $648.13; land $50,067.95; improvement of grounds, $3214.91; new buildings, $151,718.29; alterations, $76,910.21; new instructional apparatus, $325.85; new furniture, $2965.13; other new equipment, $11,418.63. This makes a total of $298,275.67.

Interest paid last year on the eight outstanding bond issues for the elementary schools amounted to $49,165. These issues go back as far as 1909, and dun in the future until 1949. Yearly payments on the retirement of these bonds amount to $76,000. Interest paid on high school bonds last year amounted to $17,775. There are four outstanding issues in this dicision, dating back to 1909, with the completion date set for 1948. Yearly payments on the four issues amount to $21,000.

Analysis of the expenditures of all funds for the year, exclusive of bond funds, shows that teachers' salaries head the list with a total of $591,966.01, or a budget percentage of 70. Next in order, with a total of $69,363.46, or a little over eight per cent, is operation. Instructional expense, amounting to $45,789.83, accounts for slightly more than five per cent. Maintenance calls for 4.4 per cent, with an expenditure of $34,864.94. Other items with their totals and percentages, respectively, are shown as follows: auxiliary agencies, $39,164,03, 4.2; library, $26,213.45, 3.1; general control, $24,088.34, 2.9; fixed charges, $9610.76, 1.1.

Valuation of school property is shown on the secretary's report as follows: unencumbered cash balances, $219,500.51; stock in warehouse, $5389.32; elementary district properties, $1,312,896.65; high school district properties, $1,028,545.06; total, $2,566,331.54.

WORLD WAR SOLDIER FINDS SWEETHEART

KANSAS CITY, July 18.—(INS)—After a lapse of 11 years, when he served with the American Expeditonary Forces in Germany following the World war, J. E. Johnson, employed at a grocery store here, has found his old German sweetheart.

While stationed in Morbach, Germany, Johnson stayed at the home of Herr Dierks, and became acquainted with Pauline Dierks, his daughter. Johnson lost trace of Pauline when she returned to America, and believed he was seeing an apparition when the comely fraaulein walked into his store to order some groceries. He kicked over several pecks of potatoes reaching her.

The romance has been resumed where it left off in the Fatherland.

NEW YORK CURB

NEW YORK, July 18. — (UP) — Brisk advances in miscellaneous issues featured trading on the curb market in an otherwise irregular session today. Profit-taking sales depressed levels in many recent leadern, but buying operations went ahead in other sections of the list.

Glen Alden Coal was a feature of the industrial section, spurting more than 5 points. Transamerica corporation continued its recovery from the recent break with an advance of more than 2 points, but other investment trusts failed to respond and moved irregularly in a narrow range.

After scoring a further good gain in early trading, Vacuum Oil ran into selling that brought a 1 point decline. Other oils such as Standard of Indiana, Gulf and Humble, held steady at fractions above the previous closing levels.

Utilities backed and filled over a narrow range. Cities Service was well taken and advanced fractionally, reflecting the record-breaking earnings reported by the company for the year ended June 30. Electric Bond and Share was in supply at a slight concession. Niagara Hudson Power and United Gas new stock advanced fractionally.

PRODUCE

LOS ANGELES, July 18—Fruit and produce moved in about the same volume on today's market with prices weaker in several lines. Soft fruits, however, were somewhat stronger.

The apple market was practically unchanged with Gravensteins jobbing at 3-3½c per lb. on Sebastopol stock, with white Astrachans from San Jose brniging 2½-3c.

The avocado market was unchanged on loose local Sharpless and Dickinsons, which jobbed at 55-60c per lb. Fancy packed flats ranged from $8.50 to $11.00 on sizes ranging from 10s-30s.

The cantaloupe market was slightly weaker, with receipts of homegrown stcok amounting to 7,280 crates.

Venice celery moved fairly well at $1.25-$1.50 per crate.

Cherries were in limited supply, with orange bings and Lamberts bringing 19-20c per lb.

Bakersfiled seedless grapes were weaker at 3½-4c per lb. Coachella malagas ranged from 3-5c, with red malagas at 6-8c.

Local white rose potatoes were steady, with brokers' sales ranging from $2.25-$2.35 per cwt.

The receipt of berries were light as considerable stock had been damgaed by recent warm weather.

Receipts of local tomatoes were heavy and the market slightly weaker. 5x6 and larger were mostly $1.25 to $1.35 per lug, few best $1.50-$1.75, an dfair quality $.100-$1.25. 6x7s brought 50-75c. Bakersfield, 5x6s jumbo pack, 1.25-$1.35.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, July 18—(UP)—Wheat cloed sharply higher on the Board of Trade today despite heavy hedging pressure and profit-taking sales. The undertone was firm and the seaboard was a good buyer. Confirmation of rust in parts of Canada was receivd, adding to the already very bullish reports from that country. Dry weather still prevails over the npring wheat sections of the American northwest with no relief in sight. Corn failed to hold the best prices but was sharply higher. Oats were firm.

At the close wheat was 1⅜ to 1⅝c higher, corn was 1⅜ to 2⅜c higher and oats were ½ to 1c higher. Provisions were weak on meats but strong on lard.

FUNERALS FAIL TO PROVE MIKE DEAD

CRESTON, Ia., July 17.—Two funeral services already have been held for J. B. "Mike" Dolan and he still is alive.

Dolan was living in Oklahoma two years ago when he departed to a neighboring city on a visit. Shortly thereafter a body was cut down from a tree along a highway and was identified as that of Mike Dolan, supposedly a victim of robbers.

It was several weeks before Mike returned and brought happiness to relatives who were sorrowful at his supposed death.

In January of this year a man registered at a hotel here as Mike Dolan became suddenly sick, was taken to a hospital and died within a few hours. Relatives of the Mike of this story who live here identified the body and again the funeral lines were read for Mike.

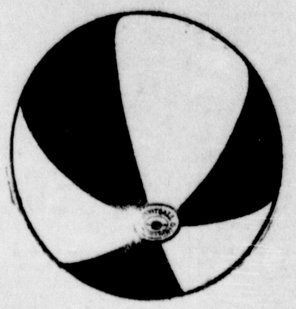

A few days ago Mike walked into his step-daughter's home here, as astounded to learn of his supposed death as were his relatives to see him alive. Mike had been working in Texas.

EVENING SALUTATION

Mercy to him that shows it, is the rule.—Cowper.

THE "RAGGERS"

One of the finest activities of the Young Men's Christian Association is that of the camp life which they carry on each summer. Scores of boys, with the secretary of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., enjoy two weeks vacation under the leadership which the Young Men's Christian Association affords. We are confident that it is the general verdict of parents, that not only do their boys, who are privileged to attend this camp, return with the statements of pleasure concerning the time they had, but we believe there is evidence of gain in their moral and intellectual outlook, and in those things that go to build character.

Constant plans are carried on to stimulate interest. Take one of them. There is within the group itself certain selected ones called "Raggers," to which all are eligible, under certain conditions. These boys are members of the California Rag Society, which is made up of boys and leaders who, at some one of the Y. M. C. A. camps in the state, have shown themselves worthy of membership in a society of honor.

Raggers are judged on the basis of their personal habits and conduct, comprising seven points: Health habits, participation in games, aquatics and the like; promptness, attendance at chapel and all occasions; cheerfulness; morals, clean speech, in life and in sports, participation in group discussions and character topics; trustworthiness; industry; and helpfulness, making the Golden Rule useful.

Raggers are chosen by a small, secret committee, usually consisting of leaders, and when satisfied that a boy measures up to the standards, the committee recommends him for the Rag.

This rag is an inexpensive neckerchief bearing the Raggers' emblem. Its value is because of the honor it confers rather than because of any intrinsic value.

There are five possible degrees in the Rag Society. First comes the Blue Rag, which is given to any boy or leader who is adjudged worthy. Second is the Red Triangle, an intermediate step for boys under fourteen who have progressed under the Blue Rag, or for boys under sixteen who have won the Brown Rag, and are not yet qualified for the Red.

The third step is the Brown Rag, presented to boys over 14, or to leaders, and this Rag can be won only by those who have in a previous year achieved the Blue Rag.

Fourth comes the Red Rag, a high honor, awarded only to boys over 16 years of age, or to leaders, and it comes only to those who have won both the Blue and the Brown Rag in previous years.

The highest step in the society is the White Rag, intended for young men eighteen years of age or older, and older leaders, who have progressed through the Blue, the Brown and the Red Rags in previous years, and who give evidence of a high degree of worthiness.

The boy who is deemed worthy of the rag award, when notified at the evening campfire that he is thus to be honored, has before him the task of memorizing an interesting and extensive ritual, which includes a number of useful Bible verses, and an inspirational poem bearing on the ideals of the Rag. When he is prepared, he is conducted to "Raggers' Point," a secluded spot near the camp, where he is inducted into the society and awarded his Rag in a ceremony of great dignity and high spiritual tone.

It is these things which put the meaning into the Rag for the Ragger. This is why he treasures it so highly, and orders his conduct in a manner fitting to a wearer of the Rag. It is only a rag to those who do not understand—merely a bit of colored cloth to be worn about the shoulders, but to the boy, it is his medal of honor, his Phi Beta Kappa key, his D. S. C. decoration, and he is under obligations to wear it always worthily.

The boy who wins a Rag at Y camp, and then orders his life according to its ideals, is going to be noticed in his home, in his school and in all of his contacts because of the fineness and tone of his character, and because of the thoughtful, unselfish quality of his daily conduct.

So if you see any boys wearing odd looking neckerchiefs which carry no particular meaning to others, but which seem to have a very peculiar significance in the minds of the boys themselves, with the insignia of the Y. M. C. A. in the corner, you may know that these boys are "Raggers."

We are glad for the camp life, for the benefits derived by the boys in all of its activities, which affect their character, their purpose and their achievements throughout life.

Once upon a time there was a newspaper reporter who covered an endurance flight and never once wrote in his story, "droned" or "zoomed."

A QUARREL OVER A CHAIR

Standing beyond the heat of a quarrel it is surprising to see what people will seriously fight for. Two men got into a fight over a deck chair on one of the Hudson river boats the other day. One man procured the chair and seated himself near his friends. The other man who had disputed the chair pulled out his gun and lodged a bullet in the chest of the man with the chair. The next scene shows one man in jail and the other in the hospital.

How would a man with a gun react if the other had said, "Here, sir, you take this chair. I will find another." Probably one of New York's gun-toters, as this man was, would have concluded that the other man was afraid of him.

TOURIST SPENDERS IN EUROPE

The amount of money spent by American tourists each year in Europe runs into enormous figures. As we have noted before this tourist expenditure does much to balance the inequality of exports and imports between Europe and the United States. Were it not for this large expenditure, Europe would be able to buy less from us, and she would have to buy on credit.

An interesting feature noted by one who has been making a study of expenditures is that the tourists from the United States have ceased to be the most extravagant spenders. There was a time when American tourists were largely of the extremely wealthy class, who threw their money lavishly about. This was especially true of the new-rich class. Now that so many thousands of our tourists are of the student class, who have barely enough to make the round and get back home, the European is less inclined to believe that every American is rich, and just comes over to be plucked.

The great spenders among European tourists today are the South Americans, especially the Argentinians and the Uruguayans. These two countries have developed in recent years at a rate greater than the United States. Fortunes have been made from live stock on the great pampas. This industry in turn has led to many industrial and public utility promotions in which great fortunes have been made. Having recently come into these fortunes, and not having traveled much in past years, these South Americans have all the flushness of the new-rich. Some of them are able to appreciate the art treasures and the ancient life of Europe; but most of them, like the new-rich generally, can appreciate only the extravagances of the cabarets and the cafes of Paris and the games of the Monaca, the Riviera and the expensive watering places of Europe.

Perhaps we shall hear less in the future about the ignorance and the peculiarities of the American tourist. The jokes now told about them may be told in the future about the tourist class from the prosperous South American states.

Lindy's son, an astrologer acutely observes, has a pronounced leaning toward aviation." Indeed, he's being accustomed to the milky way even now.

THE CHAMPION FLAG POLE SITTER

Ralph D'Agostino of Brocton has been sitting on top of a flagpole in Brockton, Mass., for 34 days, beating the record of one "Shipwreck" Kelley by eleven days. A seventeen-year-old boy nearby has been sitting on a telephone post with the hope of breaking a record.

Surely the spirit of adventure is abroad. If you cannot explore the Antarctic with Byrd, or fly the ocean with Lindbergh and Kingsford-Smith, or penetrate the hidden secrets of Africa with the latest big game hunter, you can sit on a flagpole; you can engage in a talking marathon; you can pass forty days without eating. None of these entails expense, and they are of sufficient interest and curiosity to get your name in the paper.

This is a great world. It offers opportunity for all. And each will draw to himself his quota of ardent admirers. Each may have a chance to get into the movies or the dime vaudeville. There is nothing that is beyond human interest.

When Is a Joke Not a Joke?

Fresno Morning Republican

No argument about it. A joke is not a joke, when it is a joke on a joker.

One of the best jokers in the United States is Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York.

Mayor Walker is one of the best dressers in the United States. And New York is very proud of the fact. It likes to see its chief executive appear at functions, even if a half hour late, dressed up to the minute.

But New York has never stopped to think why the mayor is a half hour late at functions, nor does it reflect on the means by which the mayor's shirts are never creased and why his ties are always immaculately crushed.

The mayor has a valet. Now Tammany Hall does not know or care, whether valet is pronounced valay or valette. And Tammany Hall is quite proud of the fact that Jimmy can meet either Bobby Jones or a prince of Sweden on terms of easy equality. Tammany Hall is proud to think that the mayor knows what to do with his hands and feet.

But Tammany does not like to think of the mayor's having a "man" to prepare his perfumed bath and to lay out his pajamas.

So when the president of the United Real Estate Owners' association wrote recently to the governor to complain that no true Democrat could have a bath, there was a stir in Tammany politics.

Now the busy little letter writer explains that it was a joke and that the sending of the letter was a mistake.

It was a terrible mistake, as the writer will discover when next he wants a building permit.

Women Rank High In Safe Driving

Pasadena Star-News

Women drivers are earning an enviable reputation for safety. A survey has been conducted which covered about 29 per cent of the total registrations of motor vehicles in the United States. This survey showed that women drivers constitute more than 23 per cent of the total number of persons operating motor vehicles on public thoroughfares.

This survey evinced the significant fact that in accidents involving 569,960 drivers, only 33,830 were women. On this basis, women drivers, constituting more than 23 per cent of the total number of drivers, were involved in a little more than 6 per cent of the accidents.

This survey furthermore showed that of the women listed as being involved in accidents, only 1494 were definitely responsible for the accidents of which they were victims.

Men have been driving longer than women. Male drivers, on the whole, perhaps have more expert knowledge of the mechanics of automobiles than do women. But too many men, having expert knowledge of how to drive, become reckless or careless, and thus precipitate many preventable accidents.

Women drivers, on the other hand, usually are scrupulously careful in driving, and thus avoid accidents. There are exceptions, of course. There are women who drive recklessly, or incompetently. But they are the exceptions, rather than the rule, among women drivers.

More Truth Than Poetry

HERE IS PROGRESS

(Scientists have found that the human jaw is gradually growing smaller)

Though still of men of bone and brawn
We stand a bit in awe,
And gaze with deep respect upon
The makers of our law,
There notwithstanding is a trend
Toward skulls designed for thinking
For as our upward way we wend,
Our jaws are slowly shrinking.

Jaws once were built to ward off blows
Or wag in dull debate,
And once, as everybody knows,
Were built of massive plate.
But with the growth of intellect
And fuller brows and taller,
The human need in this respect
Grows gradually smaller.

Few iron jaws today we need,
The scientists maintain
They are of small account indeed
Compared to might of brain.
And better, in forensic fires,
A statesman who is clever,
Than one whose jawbone never tires
But oscillates forever.

So evolution has its way
As down the years it creeps;
The jawbone of the cave man's day
Will soon be scrapped for keeps.
Our brows will slowly bulge, because
Now we're no longer brutal,
Prognathous talking, fighting jaws
Have grown completely futile.

Those Who Won't Work

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

This spring an Indian knocked at the kitchen door of a ranch house in Nevada, in quest of a hand-out.

"Why, Joe," said the Rancher, "I haven't seen you for months. Where are you living now?"

"Me no living any more," grunted the Indian. "Me work all time."

"Work all the time!" exclaimed the astonished Rancher. "Where are you working?"

"Oh, mebbe me pick potatoes for Sam Springer next fall."

That is the attitude toward labor of a considerable number of unemployed men. And they are not all Indians. They don't want work: they want a hand-out. They think that Industry owes every man a pay envelope.

Some of them are not out-and-out loafers. They are willing to go through the motions of earning a living. They think that Industry ought to sit up nights thinking up motions for them to go through.

But Industry is not giving them a thought. The unemployed men over whose plight Industry is concerned are the men to whom work is not a penalty, but a privilege; the men to whom a job is something more than the worm in the apple of wages.

Industry owes no man a living. All it owes—and all it is determined to give—is the opportunity for every man to EARN a living. It refuses to subsidize shiftlessness; not while burglary insurance on the factory clock costs less than paying a gang of men to watch it.

The great majority of our unemployed want WORK. They will cease to be unemployed the minute they can get their hands on a job. Their pay will be earned.

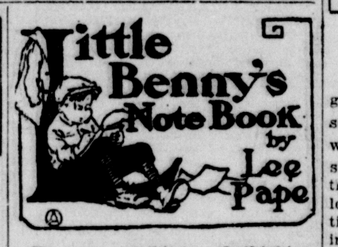

But some unemployed men are like the Nevada Indian. They could contrive to remain unemployed even on a Roman galley. Drawing is their one talent—drawing their breaths and their pay.

Whatever other meager exertion Industry gets out of them will be sweat wrung from them by "capitalistic slave drivers." These are the unemployed, fortunately few, that Industry doesn't give a hang for.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pape

Pop was smoking and thinking, and I sed, Do you know what I think I bleeve Ill do when I get big? I think I bleeve Ill write a dctionerry, I sed.

You mite have werse amditions and you proberly have, pop sed. Werds are the most important and powerful things in the werld, and a conscientious dictionerry has them all. Before the invention of werds men had to communicate their thawts by grunts and bites and kicks in the shins, but now the various educated peeples of the werld can write long abusive letters to each other before they drop high explosives on each others cities. Nuthing can take the place of werds. One short word from a woman, such as No, has often saved a man a lifetime of mizzery. A few short werds from a young snip in a bank, such as, Your account is overdrawn, are sufficient to send the most unemotional man into peals of hysterical laffter. In fact it is almost impossible to exaggerate the power of werds, but I warn you that writing a dictionerry is no slite task. It involves years of study and meditation and application, he sed.

Aw G, pop, no, its a cintch, I sed. Thats just it, thats why I bleeve I think Ill do it, because all you haff to do is just copy another dictionerry, I sed.

Yee gods, you win, pop sed.

And he kepp on smoking to himself and I went to bed on account of having to.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

CREATIVE CARELESSNESS

Wisdom is not born of the schools.

They merchandise knowledge with extraordinary effectiveness.

But humanity turns for wisdom to the intuitive insights of its transcendant geniuses of the mind and of the heart.

And when transcendant genius expresses its insights they so often seem to contradict the canny counsels of common sense.

Common sense is forever telling us to keep our eye on tomorrow.

We must, it tells us, sacrifice the little pleasures of today in the interest of the larger profits of tomorrow.

And when Jesus, with His divinely delicate sensitiveness to authentic as opposed to artificial values, suggests that we should "take no thought for the morrow" we do not, for the moment know whether to follow this prophetic counsel of carelessness or the practical counsels of caution.

Of course, in matters of business development and bank accounts, good sense tells us to follow the shrewd leadership of the Yankee trader.

It is foolish to spend on a day of pleasure money that might go to build the prosperity of a decade.

It is idiotic to indulge today in hilarity that will jeopardize the health of tomorrow.

But when we go beyond questions of financial prosperity and physical health, the doctrine of creative carelessness announced by Jesus takes on a reality we all too likely to ignore.

I give but one illustration.

We tend to rob our children of their right to a happy childhood by insisting that all of childhood shall be dedicated solely to a preparation for adulthood, whereas is as much a part of life as adulthood. And we are more and more coming to see that the best way to prepare to become a happy and efficient adult is to be a happy and efficient child. It is not wise to make one-third of our lives dreary on the theory that we are getting ready to make the remaining two-thirds efficient.

Amiel was but echoing Jesus when he wrote that "Life is an absurd gestation, a vain pregnancy, a perpetual miscarriage. We wear ourselves out preparing the swaddling clothes for a happiness about to be born."

The best way to prepare for the future is to live the present happily, efficient, and freely.

OUR CHILDREN

FOOTLOOSE

For many of the thousands of graduates lately turned out of schools and colleges the world will take on a new and rather stunning aspect. Footloose for the first time in their lives, footloose and with the stern admonition to go forth and conquer ringing in their ears, they have no place to go, nothing to conquer.

With difficulty some of them find work. Others will go from place to place seeking "something to do." Finding work that will pay enough money to make it worth while, work that offers opportunity for growth and for higher service, is becoming more and more difficult.

"What can you do?" asks the employer.

"Oh, anything!"

That means the candidate can do nothing at all and nobody wants that kind of service at anything like bread and butter rates. Business demands something and usually asks for more than it is willing to give. Small chance then has the unprepared youth and maiden.

Our schools are not doing their full share to prepare the children, the youth of the land, to take up work promptly after finishing school. There is a distinct line drawn between life and school—with the idea of saving the children all idea of work in a workaday atmosphere is carefully kept out of school. That is not altogether wise, nor is it safe. We of America believe that every man and woman should pay his way. Then why not make it possible by training the children toward that result? Why keep them ignorant of work, practical work, until they face it unprepared, unready.

Somewhere between childhood and youth the next generation must be prepared to carry on the industry of the nation. The place to begin is in the junior high school. There the children ought to have the opportunity to experiment with various kinds of work and so have a basis for choice when choosing time comes. High schools with trade departments, colleges with co-operative departments that permit students to work in the field while they complete their studies in the college, must be organized against such waste as is now imperative because of the lack of preparation of youth for practical work.

Morgan of Antioch has the right idea, I believe. It is necessary that youth gain knowledge and culture but side by side with that instruction goes the work of application in the student's chosen field so that when he is at last footloose he is not handloose as well. He can do as well as think, act as well as dream, serve as well as know that it is well to serve.

When all schools make it their duty to prepare their students for a definite place in life and see them well on the way to filling that place successfully before they turn the young workers loose, we shall save great distress and sorrow in many a home. Isn't that what schools are for?

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY OF—

THACKERAY'S BIRTH

On July 18, 1811, William Makepeace Thackeray, English novelist, was born at Calcutta.

After attending lower schools, Thackeray entered Trinity College, Cambridge, in 1929, but left a year later without taking a degree.

Thackeray settled in Paris about 1834 to study art seriously as he had shown talent as a caricaturist. His pencil was at its best in fantastic work as is found in the initial letters of chapters as well as in drawings made for the amusement of child friends.

In 1837, he went to London and became a regular magazine contributor, illustrating many of his own stories.

Thackeray, who had inherited a tidy sum, lost most of it in Indian banks, in having a good time and in two newspapers.

He became editor of the Cornhill Magazine in 1859, but resigned this post three years later.

Thackeray made his reputation by the "Snob Papers," in 1846, now known as "The Book of Snobs."

He died on December 24, 1863.
